MEMORY AND THE FULL MOON.

O nights of silver memory, O nights!
Here at this casement, as of old, I stand
And greet the moon at full, flooding the land
With mystery and unmeasured dream delights.
But they who with me gazed on those gree heights.

Distanced in moonlight, while the night wind Rare incense from deep forest altars fanned, Ah, whither gone, with giddy seasons' flights?

ntenser than of old thy burning orb,
Thou planet lone in star forgetting skies!
Each ray from thee with tender purport Eay, didst thou not those love lit souls absorb,
Wherefore thy splendor aches against mine eyes?
O nights of silver memory, O nights!

How the Harvest Mice Built Their Home.

BY MARY ELLIOT.

 Little Mrs. Harvest-Mouse loved a hedge bottom. She always said it was more private than the open field, and Mr. Harvest-Mouse came home and how he comes to cut the corn, but leaves the long, stiff grass in the hedge bottom safe and standing when the corn is all carried away to the barn. So when Mr. Harvest-Mouse began to where to build their home she begged him to choose the long, stiff grass in ed a sigh, "how glad I am we chose the the hedge bottom rather than the corn in the field.
