[Special Washington Letter.] On a lecture tour through Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Ohio I recently heard a good deal of Republican politial politics. My conclusions are as follows as to the present status of Republican presidential possibilities: The Republicans just now are cocksure of electing the next president. In their mind's eye they, a la General Charles Henry Grosvenor, can tice John M. Harlan of the supreme dents. How they will feel later on, say three years bence, is one of those Kipley's declaration as to a third term nee of his party, because for all prac- rich reading. tical purposes he is, for the five years last past has been and for the next three years will be the Republican party. But nevertheless the rank and the plain people do not desire to see him in the White House. I suggested to an intelligent Repubhas upon his party, but he poohpoohed the idea. I asked him to explain why He was so obnoxious to them and such only reason he would vouchsafe was that somehow Mark is not the sort of man neonle like to see in the highest place. That's intangible, to say the least of it. The truth is that the Re-Hanna just as they used Jay Hubbell-Garfield's "Dear Hubbell"-in 1880 and then throw him away as a sucked orange. Hanna will find, to his sorrow and disgust, that Republicans as well as republics are ungrateful. They are willing-indeed, eager-for him to fry the fat out of corporations and to use it in debauching American suffrage. They are hungry for the offices which he purchases, but they are unwilling to crown him with the highest official honor, even if that honor be purchased as openly as one may buy a scrub calf in open market. This is rank injustice to Mark, but with him as their candidate they would not have the gall to prate of purity and sweetness in the campaign of 1904, which prating has been their chief stock in trade since the birth of the party in 1856.

Democrats For Hanna, It goes without saying that Democrais everywhere are enthusiastic for Mark for the nomination. What they would do to him as a presidential nominee would be a-plenty. If we couldn't defeat him, we couldn't defeat anybody. But no such good luck as his nomination is in store for us. With President McKinley and Senator Hanna both eliminated from the Republic Office in Opera House building, Court street | an presidential equation the contest for the Republican nomination will in all likelihood degenerate into a free for all race where any mediocrity will think he has a chance. Indeed lightning rods are shooting up like mushrooms in a damp cellar. Those "mentioned" are as numerous as young frogs after a heavy shower. Among western rural Republicans the name of Mr. Vice President Roosevelt, like that of Abon Ben Adhem, leads all the rest, but the spider in the colonel's presider tial dumpling is Governor Odell of New York. I suggested to a hot Iowa would perhaps turn up in the national convention with a solid New York delegation at his back, "Oh, yes," replied be, "but history repeats itself. The chances are that Senator Allison would win out this time were it not for his age, but he is the best preserved man of his Jeans now in public life and may win out anyway. As the Democrats are thinking of nominating General Francis Marion Cockrell of Missouri, it would be the proper caper for the Republicans to nominate Senator Allison. Honors would be about even as to age. These two "grand old men" take it turn about in acting as chairman of the wont to denunciate "canned liberty." What idiots! But the truth is precisely what Brother Lentz will not get out of Mark even If he had done it about a year ago, he he gets him on the witness stand, which he has not yet done.
