JUNE 9TH, 1902. "Once we get this Philippine bill ascertain how copies of these papers out of the way I will be able to give | were obtained and Senator Beveridge, you some definite information." re- by a remark which he considered he marked Senator Allison some time ago had best have eliminated from the when I asked him of the probably date Congressional Record, directly impliof adjournment, but the Senator is more at sea than ever now and so is everyone else at the Capitol. Representative Payne who, in his capacity of Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, should introduce the adjournment resolution, assured me yesterday that he had not even given the tive Cannon stated that "no one had the slightest idea when they would policy but the suppression of the facts. get through." The fact is that the republicans are badly divided and there is almost no prospect of harmony. The consideration of the Philippine bill in the House is a source of grave concern to the party leaders but the Cuban reciprocity bill is causing even more

Daily conferences are being held between the administration Senators and the "Eikins' boxers", as Senator Platt calls the beet sugar senators, but nothing is accomplished and the "boxers" assert that they will be successful in the end. The President has had nearly all of the recalcitrant senators at the White House and has used his most strenuous arguments on them without avail. Now he talks of sendink a special message to Congress urging concessions to Cuba. Mr. Roosevelt is rapidly losing any influence he may have had as a party leader in Congress and the democrats are going to gain by his persisence and by the subservient allegiance to Mr. Oxnard which his opponents are displaying.

The Republican leaders in the House are meeting with unexpected resistance to their wishes in regard to the Philippine bill. It had been their intention to report a rule which would compel the adoption, with comparaively little debate, of the Lodge bill in place of the bill framed by the Insular committee but those representatives who became awakened to a realization of their power by the beet sugar revolt have given notice that they do not intend to be coerced and the lead ers are none too confident of their own strength. The Speaker has set the consideration of the Philippine bill for June 18 h in hope that the lateness of the date will make the majority more supine as a result of their anxiety to adjourn, but there are a number of members who, having once felt their power, propose to exercise it. The House bill is by no means as autocratic in its provisions as the Senate measure. It provides for a Philippine congress, the upper house to consist practically of the Philippine Commission and the lower house to be elected by the people; whereas the Senate bill, as I have before pointed out, simply continues the present autocracy of the President. The House bill also provides for the establishment of a gold basis for the currency of the islands, whereas the Senate measure continues and of the party whip. During the final hours of the Philppine debate in the Senate, Senator Culberson presented some official papers, the most important being the letter of a private soldier, Andrew K. Wier, formulating charges against on? Lieutenant Arnold. This letter had reached the War Department a year ago, and their had followed an investigation which resulted in a report from Capt. P, W. West, who stated that "a thorough investigation would substantiate Weir's charges," that Arnold had at least condoned cruel and FRANKLINTON HOTEL inhuman treatment of prisoners. On receipt of Capt. West's report, General Miles recommended that Arnold be court-martialed but evidently his recommendation was ignored for nothing further transpired until the 22nd of May when Senator Culberson introduced a resolution calling on ahe Secretary of War for a copy of Weir's charges. This resolution resulted in the announcement that Arnold had been ordered before a court-martial, Really the best thing they could do for their party would be to adjects at once, for every day they stay here they sink deeper and deeper in the mire.

Enforced Harmony. The most belligerent set of Republican tomosts in America are the Republicans in Missouri, but they are quiet just now because they can't help themselves. For months they have been clawing and cuterwanting and filling the air with each other's fur until finally the president got tired of it. and he compelled them to form a truce, informing them without any circumiecution whatever that unless they did make peace he would disregard both factions and make the appointments to suit himself. Now, if there is snything which the average Missouri Republican loves above another it is pie, so when it was announced that they were about to lose their pie they made peace with a suddenness that was astonishing. The probabilities are that it is a hollow truce.

Recently the Hon. George Friable Hoar, senion senator from Massachusetts, a rock ribbed Republican, the friend and political pupil of Charles Sumper and by many taken as the Hvered a long and remarkable speech on the Philippine question which is liable to give the Republicans a vast all the way from declaring it to be the greatest speech ever delivered in Washington to being the drivelings of an old man in his dotage. Of course much depends on the point of view; but, whatever may be the final judgment of critics as to its literary or oratorical much discussed as any speech delivered ten years. Whatever other virtues the speech has, it certainly contains the thing if every American citizen could read every word of the speech, both by reason of its subject matter and its Philippine war or insurrection Senator If you had done to Cuba as you have done to the Philippine Islands, that had exactly the same right, you would be at this moment in Cuba just where Spain was when she excited the indignation of the civilized world and we compelled her to let go. And if you had done in the Philippines as you did in Cuba you won today or would soon be in those islands But you made a totally different declaration about the Philippine Islands sovereignty over them for yourself, which that people denied. You dectared, not only in the treaty, but in many public utter ances in this chamber and elsewhere, that you had a right to buy sovereignty with or the booty of battle. The moment you made that declaration the Filipino people declaration of war Bo your generals reported, and so Aguinaldo expressly deforcible possession by military to suppress it, but it leaked out at Holls through General Miller. General Otis tried to suppress it and substitute that they should have all the rights of the most favored provinces. He stated that he did that because he knew the proclamation would bring bn war. And the next day with a proclamation stating what Presi dent McKinley had done and saying that would fight, and General MacArthur testified that Aguinaldo represented the entire people. So you deliberately made up the issue for a fight for dominion on one mide and a fight for liberty on the other Origin of the War Then when you had ratified the treaty you voted down the resolution in the senate known as the Bacon resolution, declaring the right of that people to in-he pendence, and you passed the McEnery resolution, which declared that you mean to dispose of those islambs as should be That was the origin of the war, if it is war.
