DEMOCRATIC PLAN OF ORGANIZATION.

1. The unit of county organization shall be the voting precincts. In each precinct there shall be an Executive Committee, to consist of five active Democrats, who shall be elected by the Democratic voters at the several precincts in the meeting first call by the County Executive Committee. And said committee so elected shall elect one of its members as chairman, who shall preside at all committee meetings.

2. The chairman of the several precinct committees shall compose the County Executive Committee, which shall meet at the same time and place as the County Convention first held in each election year, and elect a chairman of said County Committee, who need not be a member of the committee, and he shall preside at all meetings of said committee, and shall hold his place until his successor shall be elected. A majority of said precinct chairmen, in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum. The County Committee shall likewise appoint a Central Committee of five, who shall act in its stead when the County Committee is not in session.

3. In case there shall be a failure on the part of any precinct to elect its Executive Committee for a period of thirty days, the County Executive shall appoint said committee from the Democratic voters of said precinct.

4. The members of the Precinct Committee shall elect to any vacancy occurring in said committee.

5. The County Executive Committee shall call all necessary conventions by giving at least ten days' notice by public advertisement in three public places in each precinct, at the courthouse door and in any Democratic newspapers that may be published in said county, requesting all Democrats of the county to meet in their respective precincts on a common day therein stated, which said day shall not be less than three days before the meeting of the County Conventions, for the purpose of electing their delegates to the county conventions. Thereupon the meeting so held shall elect their delegates to represent the precinct in the County Convention from the voters of the respective voting precincts, which delegates, or such of them as shall attend, shall vote the full Democratic strength of their respective voting precincts on all questions that may come before said county conventions. In case no meeting shall be held in any precinct in pursuance of said call, or no election shall be made, the Precinct Executive Committee shall appoint such delegates.

GENERAL RULES.

6. At every precinct meeting there shall (before the delegates to the County Convention are elected) be a vote taken for the different candidates for office, whose names may be presented and the delegates shall vote in the County Convention of their respective districts in accordance with this vote; that is to say, each candidate shall receive in the State, Congressional, Judicial, Senatorial or other convention the proportion of the vote to which the county may be entitled which he received in the County Convention. The chairman and secretary of the County Convention shall certify to each convention the vote received by each candidate given; PROVIDED, that where only one candidate is represented it shall be lawful to instruct for him. At all State and District conventions the delegates from the different counties may disregard the vote of their respective counties as to any candidate: PROVIDED, that a two-thirds majority of all his votes from the county count.

7. The chairman, or in his absence any member of the County, Senatorial, Judicial and Congressional convention, shall call to order their respective conventions and hold chairmanship thereof until the convention shall elect its chairman.

8. The Executive Committees of the Senatorial, Congressional and Judicial Districts, respectively, shall, at the call of their respective chairmen, meet at any time and place in their respective districts, and the chairman of said respective committees shall immediately notify the chairman of the different County Executive Committees of the said appointment, and the said County Executive Committees shall forthwith call conventions of their respective counties in conformity to said notice to send delegates to said respective District Conventions.

STATE CONVENTIONS.

The state convention shall be composed of delegates appointed by the several county conventions. Each county shall be entitled to elect one delegate and one alternate for every one hundred and fifty Democratic votes and one delegate for fractions over seventy five Democratic votes cast therein at the last preceding gubernatorial election; and none but delegates or alternates so elected shall be entitled to seats in said convention: PROVIDED, that every county shall have at least one vote in said convention.

9. At all conventions the delegates shall be selected as near as may be from the friends and supporters of the candidates voted for.

10. Such delegates—or alternates of absent delegates—as may be present at any Democratic Convention shall be allowed to cast the whole vote to which their precinct or county may be entitled.

11. In all conventions provided for by this system, after a vote is cast, there shall be no change in such vote until the final result of the ballot shall be announced by the chairman of said convention.

12. All Democratic Executive Committees shall have the power to fill any vacancies occurring in their respective bodies.

13. The chairman of the different county conventions shall certify the list of delegates and alternates of the different District and State Conventions, and a certified list of said delegates and alternates to the secretary of the State Central Committee.

14. It shall be the duty of the County Committee and its chairman to furnish such information and make such reports to the chairman of the State Committee as he may desire.

Spring Fever.

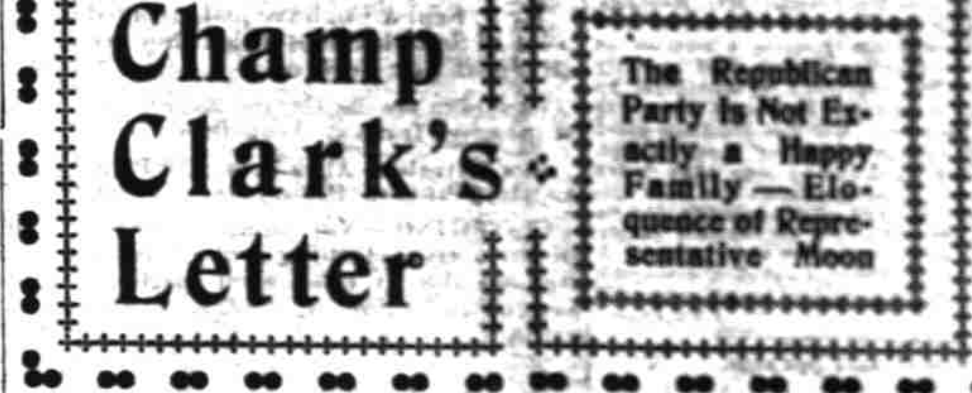

Spring fever is another name for biliousness. It is more serious than most people think. A torpid liver and inactive bowels mean a poisoned system. It seizes, seizes, seizes, and follows such symptoms as De Witt's Little Early Risers, opening the bowels and cleansing the system of impurities. Safe pills. Never gripes. Always takes De Witt's Little Early Risers for torpid liver every spring for years. writes R. M. Ely, Mansfield, W. Va. They do me good than anything I have ever tried. Aycock Drug Co.

Read It In His Newspaper.

George Schuch, a well known German citizen, writes for the benefit of every reader of the Dayton Evening News. He writes that he has seen advertised in the paper only the best of Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised for some time back. He did not believe it until he saw it in the paper. He bought a bottle and used it with the most reliable results. He writes that he has seen advertised in the paper only the best of Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised for some time back. Before being bought how to shoot it might be well for the young idea to learn to know when it is loaded.

You may as well expect to run a steam engine without water as to find an active, energetic man with a torpid liver and poor circulation. Chamberlain's Bismuth and Liver Tablets will restore his liver to its normal function. They will vitally improve his digestion and make him feel like a new man. Price 25 cents. Champ Clark's Letter

The Republican Party is not exactly a happy family—Eloquence of Representative Moon

[Special Washington Letter.]

EVIDENCES multiply that the Republican Party is not exactly a happy family. The members of the O. P. clasp each other on the slightest provocation. For instance, my venerable and sometimes vitriolic friend Charles Henry Grover, president of the Ohio Republican Convention, the other day, evidently the reddest of reds, was in a thoroughly pacific state of mind. He was being honored, and he loves honor, and that put him in a highly good humor. When on other cheerful things he said "Porto Rico is the spoiled child of the results of American civilization. We will repeat in the Philippines on a larger scale what we have accomplished so brilliantly in Porto Rico."

Whether true or not, that declaration would appear to be absolutely harmless and in no way calculated to provoke heat, and yet the Chicago Inter Ocean, a rampant Republican organ, jumps on the general and belabors him at a fearful rate. In fact, it runs a full column of abuse, using Grover's declaration as an excuse. Let the war go on the more of it the better off the country will be. A Heartrending Wall.

In the immortal words of Mark Antony in his great oration over Caesar's dead body, "If you have tears to shed, prepare to shed them now." Yes, turn them on quick. The Philadelphia Inquirer says:

"The attention of the civil service commissioners is directed to the offensive partisanship of Revenue Collector Hershey of Dauphin county. If there is anything in the rules and the proclamations of the civil service that demand respect, then they should be enforced in this case. Collector Hershey has plunged into a partisan campaign by the orders of Senator Quay and is making himself obnoxious to the majority of the Republican voters of the county. He has been recommended to set up delegates and lead a fight and is apparently obeying his instructions to the letter. He will be beaten by the people by an overwhelming majority, but that fact does not excuse his intensely offensive partisanship, which is a crime under the rules of the commission. A strict investigation would seem to be necessary."

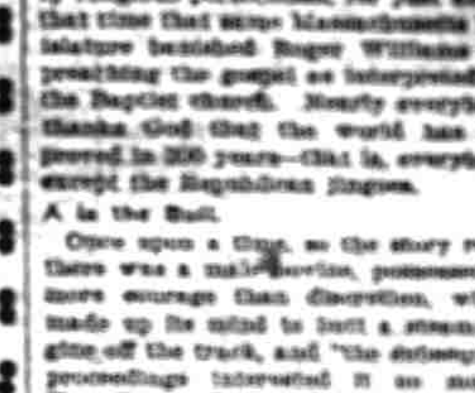

Now, that will be enough to move a heart of stone—that is, it would be if we did not know who and what Matthew Stanley Quay is and also who and what the Philadelphia Inquirer is. For years and years Matthew Stanley and the Inquirer have been a sort of political Siamese twins, and during all those years, caused to the people of Pennsylvania—Quay has been doing precisely as he is doing now and during all those years the Inquirer endorsed whatever the senator did. For some occult reason lately the Inquirer and Quay have separated on the ground of expediency. Quay is now an erasmian and Quay is now a republican. His usual way to nominate his man, whereupon the Inquirer lifts up its voice and weeps—not by reason of the vicious methods of Quay, but because he is using them against its man. Very much depends on whether a word is used but clearly the Inquirer is stopped from protesting.

Republicans and Trusts.

In campaigning for congress General John C. Breckinridge of Kentucky, once vice president of the United States, used to tell a tale to the effect that a borrowed kettle from his neighbor, the Federal Government, was used to boil his own. When a complaint of the injury to his kettle, B. alleged three things. First, it had no hole in it; second, if there was a hole in it, it was there when he borrowed it; third, that he mended the hole. The position of our Republican friends on the subject of trusts is about as badly mixed as was B's defense as to the hole in the kettle. First, they solemnly asserted that there are no trusts; second, they asserted that all trusts are blessings, an inevitable result of modern progress; third, they claimed there are good trusts and bad trusts; fourth, they asserted Republican trusts or material trusts, one or both, for all antitrust laws, fifth, they made a feeble bluff at presenting the "bad" trusts. They appear to have a self-delusion of arising from a platform warranted to please any audience. I wonder how much longer they hope to play that brazen game and to deceive the public. The Union Pacific Railroad company once hired a boss three card monte operator to beat all the other three card monte operators on his line, and he did it. Perhaps the Republicans, having created the trusts, know best how to beat the trusts—yes, perhaps.

A Wise Saying.

The editor of the Washington Post in a recent issue of that most excellent newspaper did himself proud by talking full up of Teddy in the following laudatory manner: "The work done in this country has been enough, but they do not in the least justify envy in the Philippines." Clearly that is intended not only intended, but serves as an answer to the president's frequent speech. In this connection it may be remarked that Senator John C. Spooner, one of the ablest of the Republican chieftains, a man who is universally regarded as a presidential possibility, must have felt himself hard pressed for a speech when he defended General Jake Smith's 100-day performance by heaped back 200 years and dug up the fact that the Massachusetts legislature offered a
