Marse Henry. Marse Henry Watterson in a letter declining to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Kentucky wrote a very brilliant letter, as he always does when he writes at all. Among the reasons assigned for the party when Quigg's name is men- his declination is that he is too old to turn rascal. That is certainly an amazing declaration to come from one of Colonel Watterson's position and experience. If it was intended for humor, it should have been labeled, "This is a joke." If intended seriously, it is utterly incredible that Marse Henry could have worked himself into a frame of mind to say it. He is the best beloved of all Kentuckians; he is one of the most brilliant editors that ever wielded a pen; he has been associated with statesmen all his life. With the single exception of Governor Taylor. against whom there is an indictment pending at Frankfort for conspiracy to murder. Colonel Watterson never saw a Kentucky governor whose integrity was seriously doubted by any living human being.

The standard of political integrity in Kentucky governors has been high; the vast majority of them are, like Cæsar's wife, above suspicion, and nobody knows this better than Colonel Watterson himself. He speaks to a very large audjence; no other editor in America is so much quoted; he is the only American editor of a great paper who is greater than 'his paper. His principal editorials are sent out by the Associated Press in advance, not under the line, "The Courier-Journal will say tomorrow," but under the more fetching introduction, "Colonel Henry Watterson will say tomorrow." Thousands of people believe implicitly in 14m-1 do myself. I can't get over it to save my life. From the time I first could read the Louisville Courier-Joursel was my principal political pabuium, but I don't believe the Kentucky governors were rascals, that it is necessary to be a rascal to be governor of Kentucky or that Colonel Watterson believes it. He has no right to talk in such a reckless manner. He should remember the old motto, "Honl solt qui mal y pense." Because he is universally beloved, because he is widely believed in, he should make haste to publicly withdraw that unfortunate expression. - Colonel Watterson is not the first eminent man whom the love $1995, 408, DOX Now, gentlemen, that statement speaks f. It cannot be successfully controverted. This is a Republican comgress, everwheimingly Republican in both branches, and the Republican party must assume the responsibility for all its acts of commission and omlasion. The Republican party is responsible for all that has been done and all that has been left undone, for all the flagrant catravagance and abuse of power during the first se-sion of the Fifty-seventh congress. A billion dollar session of congress is an anomaly in our legislative history. I ask the taxpayers to pender on these facts. I ask the people how long they are will-ing to submit to it and all for a little cheap glory of conquest, all for a little glitter and pomp and circumstanes, all for a little tinsel and tasset and gold lace. How long do you want it to last? You can answer in the comping elections. Ask yourself what has this congress donfor you; what has it done for the rank and file?

is the Right of Petition Futile? What has this congress done for labor! Where are the bills which were petitioned for by millions of workingman? Congress has been deluged with petitions more mamerous than "the leaves in Vallombruss." and all to no purpose. The Republican party has turned a deaf car to these pe-titions. It has legislated either solversely n them or ignored them altogether. No man will again be deserved by the Republicans passing a measure in the was done with the antitrust bill in the last congress, but this plan worked so well then that it has been tried again with the same idea of deceiving the work ingmen of the country who have signed these politions of which I spink. The eight hour bill is a shining example, as well as the immigration bill, the letter carriers' bill, the overtime pay or excess carriers bill, the overtime pay or excess of eight hours on government work bill, the building of warships in government yards bill and the Chinese exclusion bill, all denied except one, the Chinese ex-clusion bill, and the legislation on that subject was adverse to the true interests of American labor.
