HEART AND HAND.

THE HEART COLORS THE WORDS

When the Heart Utters Itself. The Mouth Gives Out The Words.

In Longfellow's beautiful "Evangelist" there is a line that deserves both remembrance and study. It is a line that has wisdom in it, and it springs from the same experience of life. We have found it so. It is thought comes into the prose and the poetry of our daily lives.

When the Heart Utters Itself. The Mouth Gives Out The Words.

The hand follows the heart. The heart stands for love. The hand stands for work. Where goes the heart, there follows the hand. When the heart utters itself, the mouth gives out the words.
