First and to prove that I am opposed to negro education or to giving the negro any chance on the merit system. He owes it to himself and the cause of truth to either produce the evidence and get the $100 or to acknowledge in his paper, fully and freely, that through malice and prejudice he deliberately published a slander about me. He mentioned. Why this is the case it also seems to think that it is a sin for a man to hall from Missouri. Mis Hill is a man of great intellectual force souri's sin, in his eyes, lies in the fact | no one whose opinion is worth having O lice over Ayoucke Drag Co.'s drag store that she is reliably Democratic, and my sin is the same.

It so happens that Missouri has the largest per capita school fund of all certain. All decent people will wish in the Union The negro children of the state share in the benefits of this fund in exactly the same proportions as the white children. In district votes upon itself such tax for local school purposes as it desires, and in this local school tax, voted by the taxpayers upon themselves, the colored children share precisely as do the white children, although the colored people pay only an infinitesimal portion of the taxes. In the legislature I voted to appropriate one-third of the general revenues of the state instead of one-fourth annually to the public schools, the one-fourth being the minimum amount which the constitution provides for. The negro children as well as the whites were the beneficiaries equally in this increased appropriation. I have never yet failed in the school elections to vote for the highest tax proposed, notwithstanding the fact that about one-fourth of the children in the district are colored children. In addition to this, every time I have had occasion to discuss the subject, either with pen or tongue, publicly or privately, I have insisted that as the negroes are here, and are here to stay, they ought to be educated, at least sufficiently to discharge intelligently the duties of citizenship, and this is the universal sentiment, so far as I know, among the Democrats of Missouri. It ought to be stated in this connection that in addition to the public schools proper the state maintains for the benefit of the colored people exclusively Lincoln institute, a high grade college. While in the legislature I voted for larger appropriations for the institute and for the addition of a manual training school and made a speech on the floor advocating these things. These acts were not done in a corner. The Lewiston Journal man could have known them had he cared to know and state the fruth rather than to misrepresent public men simply because they happen to differ with him politically. He ought to know that the latter perform ance is not the highest virtue in jour-

been opposed to the merit system for either whites or negroes. A sensible merit system honestly conducted and not juggled for party advantage would be a good thing. One more fact should be stated here and that is that in Missouri there is no attempt whatever to prevent colored men from voting, and their votes are counted with absolute fairness after they are cast. There is no property or educational qualification on suffrage in Missouri. While the large bulk of the colored vote in my district is Republican, some of the negroes vote for me and I believe it is true that every colored man in the district is my personal friend whether he votes for me or not. I am certain this is the case in the county where I live. There is not a man in the county to whom they would go for succor when in distress
