PREVENTION OF SUICIDE.

IS DEATH WORTH DYING.

A Word Properly Spoken at the Proper Time May Save a Would-be Suicide From Committing the Rash Act.

Globe-Democrat.
A society for the prevention of suicide might be constructed on the principle suggested by the action of a St. Louis resident who, seeing an aged man wading into the river for the purpose of destroying himself, called out to him peremptorily to "come back and don't be foolish."
When the rescuer landed the intending suicide, he poured philosophy and consolation into the old man's ears until he changed his whole point of view, and came to the determination to live. Snicker in intention probably need, more than anything else, a good talking to of a sympathetic and uplifting nature and sometimes some material help. The melancholy need a job, something new to think about and to be interested in. It should be the business of the society we speak of to provide this; to give its proteges a mental shake-up. Why should any one in good health wish to die when there are so many other places to go than across Jordan; something interesting happening every day? The love sickness that leads to suicidal madness is the most baseless of all. It is possible that in a population of something like two billions on the earth, there is only one "affinity." Being deprived of that, must the sentimental sufferer, his or her quietus make? Time heals all wounds. It even softens the memory of horrible, mortifying blunders we all make from time to time. Who knows but an old love affair may be so mellowed by the years that rejoicing that it didn't go any farther, may come to those who contemplated pistol or poison? These "terrifics" may become even a subject for laughter, later on. Men mostly commit suicide through loss of money, women for love, says a philosopher. The possession of either makes life pleasanter, but there is plenty of both in the world. There shall still be cakes and ale. No need to hasten to that bourne from which no traveler returns, for all are sure to reach it soon or late. It will elude no one.

OUR RESERVE ENERGIES.

THE EDITOR OF SUCCESS ONCE PENNED THE FOLLOWING INSPIRING THOUGHTS:

Many a girl who has been reared in luxury and ease, who has never had practical training, is suddenly thrown upon her own resources by the death of her father, or the loss of property, and instead of being cared for, married and cared for by tender parents, she finds herself obliged, not only to support herself, but to take care of brothers and sisters and an invalid mother. This crisis which confronts her calls out her reserve and develops an independence and power of self-effort which no one ever imagined she possessed, and which is amazing even to herself.
There is a certain something in our nature, a divine force, which we can not describe or explain, which does not seem to adhere in any of our ordinary faculties, which lies deeper than any visible attribute, but which rushes to our assistance in great emergencies, in supreme crises. When death or danger threatens in railroad or steamship accidents, how often we see men, and sometimes frail women, exert the power of giants to extricate themselves from the impending peril. In disasters at sea, during great fires or floods, how often have delicate girls and women performed Herculean tasks, tasks which they would have deemed impossible had it not been for the magic stimulus born of the emergency.

It is the locked-up spiritual forces within us—forces that we do not, as a rule, call to our aid, in the ordinary experiences of life—that make men giants, that stamp humanity with the divine seal. The man who uses all the resources that the Divine Power has implanted within him can not fail. It would be strange, indeed, if the grandest of God's creatures were ever, in his real character at the mercy of the accidents which make and unmake fortunes. No, there is no failure for the man who realizes his power, who never knows when he is beaten; there is no failure for the determined endeavor; the unconquerable will. There is no failure for the man who gets up every time he falls, who rebounds like a rubber ball, who persists when every one else gives up who pushes on when every one else turns back.

AVOID BITTER MEMORIES.

We Grow Old Because We Do Not Know Enough to Keep Young.

Bitter memories of a sinful life which has gone all wrong make premature furrows in the face, take the brightness from the eyes, the elasticity from the step, and make one's life hapless and uninteresting.
We grow old because we do not know enough to keep young, just as we become sick and diseased because we do not know enough to keep well. Sickness is a result of ignorance and wrong thinking. The time will come when a man will no more harbor thoughts that will make him sick or weak than he would think of putting his hands into fire. No man can be sick if he always has right thoughts and takes ordinary care of his body. If he will think only youthful thoughts he can maintain his youth far beyond the usual period.

PATENT MEDICINE DECISION.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14th.—The commissioner of internal revenue today decided that the manufacturers of patent medicines composed largely of distilled liquors must, after December 1, 1906, take out licenses as rectifiers and liquor dealers, and that druggists and others handling the goods in question must pay the license required by law of a liquor dealer. In a letter of instruction just sent to internal revenue collectors Commissioner Yerkes draws their attention to the existence of a large number of compounds on the market that sell as medicines, but are chiefly composed of distilled spirits without the addition of drugs or medicines in sufficient quantities to materially change their character.
Rheumatism, gout, headache, acid poison, are results of liquor trouble. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea goes directly to the seat of the disease and cures where all else fails. 35 cents. R. A. Bobbitt & Co.

UNWELCOME SUITORS.

SOME ADVICE FOR LOVERS.

Love is a Disease—Sometimes It Takes Strong Medicine to Cure It.

A girl who signs herself Mabel asks how to get rid of an unwelcome suitor, who is so persistent that no brand of snubs or even coldness of the polar variety has sufficed to banish.
It should be an easy matter to look a love-sick youth squarely in the eye and tell him that the time has come for him to do his roosting on some other front porch and to carry his little bag of caramels to some other girl.
Perhaps, Mabel, you can't appreciate the ache that gets into the heart of a young man when in awhile, his name is meant. His world begins and ends with you. He writes bad poetry when he should be keeping books for the boss. His appetite fails him, and when he walks the street the birds sing, the dogs bark and even the breezes echo the one word, "I-o-v-e." He knows he is unworthy; that a century of correct living will not make him fit for you to wipe your shoes on; but has a hazy sort of an idea that if he keeps on loving in time he may wear out resistance and that your pity may be transformed into affection.

EVER TRIED COFFEE THIS WAY?

It is a well known fact that even the best of housekeepers cannot make really good coffee without having the proper materials.
They will never make it with coffee of doubtful origin, adulterated, queerly blended, and possibly dirty coffee that has, perhaps, been mixed up with all kinds of other things on the counter.
But let them take a package of Lion Coffee—the purest and cleanest—and the brand universally used throughout the United States for over twenty-five years. Millions drink it daily, and get the best results if it is made in the following way.
Try it once and you will never want to try any other brand of coffee.

HOW TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE.

Use Lion Coffee, because to get the best results you must use the best coffee.
Grind your Lion Coffee rather fine. Use a "tablespoonful to each cup, and one extra for the pot." First mix it with a little cold water, enough to make a thick paste, and add white of an egg (if egg is to be used as a settler), then follow one of the following rules:
1st. With boiling water. Add one cup of water, and let it boil three minutes only. Add a little cold water and set aside five minutes to settle. Serve promptly.
2d. With cold water. Add your cold water to the paste and bring it to a boil. Then set aside, add a little cold water, and in five minutes it is ready to serve.
3rd. Three Dots.—Don't boil too long. Don't let it stand more than ten minutes before serving. Don't use water that has been boiled before.

THE ORIGINAL.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the sale. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is a reliable remedy. Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds. G. L. Aycocks.

TO MY PATRONS.
I want to please my patrons in every way, but can't afford to make but one trip in delivering laundry. I must insist on CASH ON DELIVERY, and if no one is at place of delivery to receive and pay for laundry, they can get it by calling at the Laundry and paying charges.
Tinkery stuff will be sold only for cash, I can't afford to charge it. When phoned for or orders left at bakery, bill will follow and all orders pay C. O. D. I have aluminum cloths which can be bought for $1.00—then you will always have change.
My patrons will please aid me in carrying out these rules.
Very truly,
R. T. CARLIER.

THROAT COUGHS

A tickling in the throat; hoarseness at times; a deep breath irritates it—these are features of a throat cough. They're very deceptive and a cough mixture won't cure them. You want something that will heal the inflamed membranes, enrich the blood and tone up the system.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

is just such a remedy. It has wonderful healing and nourishing power. Removes the cause of the cough and the whole system is given new strength and vigor.
