BURROUGHS-UPPERMAN.

VERY PRETTY MARRIAGE CEREMONY IN M. E. CHURCH.

Mr. Roger Gregory Burroughs and Miss Sallie Daniels Upperman Take the Solemn Vows of Matrimony.

The wedding vows of Miss Sallie Upperman and Mr. Roger Gregory Burroughs, of Henderson, were happily spoken on Wednesday morning last at ten o'clock at the Methodist Church, Rev. W. B. Morton, brother-in-law of the bride, performing the ceremony. The church had been beautifully decorated for the happy occasion, and the pews were crowded with friends and admirers to witness the event. The dark clouds of the preceding eve were entirely dissipated by the bright sunshine of a lovely April day, comparable only to the smiles of the lovely bride and her beautiful maids. The fine organ under the master touch of Miss Sallie Williams pealed forth the beautiful bridal March as the party entered the church. Mrs. J. L. Palmer was dame of honor, Mr. Thomas Bullock best man, and Miss Eula Mitchiner maid of honor with Mr. Jacques Phelps. The ushers were Messrs. C. F. Upperman, Alex. Clifton, J. H. Best, Henry Morris, R. G. Davis, and J. M. Coleman. The bridesmaids and their attendants were as follows:—Miss Alice Spruill with Mr. Sam Watkins, Miss Sallie V. Harris with Mr. P. H. Thomas, Miss Virginia Foster with Mr. Sam Peace, Miss Blanch Egerton with Dr. Tucker, Miss Nan Malone with Mr. E. V. Singleton, Miss Sallie Green with Mr. B. F. Harris.

The bride was attired in brocade satin, point lace trimmings made princess and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses, and lilies of the valley. The dame of honor wore white net over blue taffeta and carried pink roses. The maid of honor wore white net over pink taffeta. The bridesmaid wore white silk all wearing black picture hats and carrying prayer books. After the ceremony the happy couple left the 1120 train for eastern points. The out of town visitors were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Morton of Marion N. C., Mr. and Mrs. Coleman of Macon, Mrs. Phelps and Mr. B. LaBoyteaux Jr., of Henderson.

Delightful German.

The young men of the town gave a most delightful German Tuesday evening at the Opera House, complimentary to visiting and local young ladies. The dancing continued until the early morning hours and "Home Sweet Home" was heard with regret by the participants. Levins Orchestra of Raleigh furnished the music. Those present were:—

Mr. Sam Watkins of Henderson with Miss Alice Spruill, Mr. Frank Harris of Henderson with Miss Nan Malone, Mr. Percy White with Miss Urtie Harrison, Mr. Joe Person with Miss Fannie Boddie, Mr. A. W. Person with Miss Bessie Willis, of West Virginia, Mr. Willie Wilson with Miss Tucker, Mr. R. G. Burroughs with Miss Sallie Upperman, Mr. K. K. Allen with Miss Antoinette Taylor, Andrew Davis with Miss May White of Oxford, Mr. Blair Tucker with Miss Judd of Henderson, Mr. R. G. Davis with Miss Fannie Gregory of Oxford, Mr. W. W. Boddie with Miss Julia Winston of Oxford, Mr. Edwin Cooke with Miss Nell Durham of Wilmington. Stags Messrs. A. A. Clifton, Brooks LaBoyteaux, Dr. Tucker, Carrol Singleton, Jacques Phelps, Thomas Bullock. Judge and Mrs. J. Crawford

Biggs of Durham, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Clifton, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Boddie, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ford.

Injunction Case.

An injunction case was argued here on Tuesday before Judge Biggs. It was rather a novel question. The trustees of Lucama Graded School decided to erect a new building, which was objected to by a few of the people of the district, and they "injunctioned" the trustees. The injunctions were represented by J. D. Bardin, while the Trustees were represented by Messrs. G. W. Conner and E. J. Barnes, all of Wilson. After the reading of affidavits and argument of counsel the Judge dissolved the injunction.

Messrs. K. W. Barnes, secretary of the Lucama School, and Dr. I. W. Lamb, Chairman of the School Board, of Wilson, were here also.

What We or Are Not.

The longer we live, the more we learn, and the more we learn, the less we think we know. Such is the inconsistency of man's ideas. The less one knows the greater his opinion of his abilities and wisdom. In the morning of life a conceited man prides himself on his greatness, and wonders to what great channel he will confine his talents. He looks upon his school district as the world at large, and himself as the great genius in whose keeping the world's nature rests. He imagines that when he speaks, nations tremble, mountains totter and the sea becomes silent.

He imagines that a gaping and wondering populace are gazing on him with open-mouthed wonder and iron-clad astonishment, and that he holds the world in the hollow of his hand with a grasp that is perpetual.

But as days, and months, and years pass in rapid succession, the young man finds out that he is possibly mistaken and if he would wander away and get lost some one or more of all the people on the earth would not miss him. By and by he begins to realize that he is only one of the many millions of people, and instead of standing forth as the center of attraction, he only fills a small niche of some obscure corner, and really attracts but little attention. The ignorant man who realizes his ignorance and who does not seek to pass himself off for more than he is worth, is pardonable, but the self-conceited man who tries to pass himself off at a premium, is to be pitied. The best way is to hold one's self-esteem down and not rate himself high. The man who climbs the highest has the farthest to fall.

It is more pleasant to be invited to take a higher seat than to be deprived of it. It is more pleasant to be king of a cottage than the servant of a palace. It is better to be a good five cent piece than a bogus quarter; in other words, it is better to hold ourselves at what we are honestly worth. The world is full of people who never learn anything because they think they know enough to begin with. Thousands are teaching when they ought to be taught; thousands believe themselves wise when their ignorance is lamentable; thousands believe themselves clothed in gold when they are only thinly plated and the copper shows through in many places. The wisest are comparatively ignorant and thousands of men who have grand ideas of their own abilities will some day wake up to the realization that they been laboring under a large sized delusion. Many a young man's life is glided by bright dreams that come in the early stage of the game, but later on he finds that these dreams are only empty, and O, how little is the change when it comes.

COURT STILL IN SESSION

THIS WEEK FOR THE TRIAL OF THE CIVIL DOCKET

Pulley Found Insane and Sent to Asylum—Many Other Cases of Minor Importance Disposed of—Solicitor Reports.

Our report of the proceedings of the April term of Franklin Superior court, closed Thursday evening of last week. On Friday morning the case of State vs Ham, charged with killing Jack Thomas, entered, was taken up, the trial of which consumed all of that day. The jury was out only about 20 minutes and returned a verdict of not guilty.

In the case of State vs Willis Young, convicted of attempting to burn the dwelling of P. B. Clifton, the defendant was sentenced to the penitentiary for seven years. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, but was afterwards withdrawn.

State vs Govan Cheek and others, a d w., continued, defendants to give bond.

The civil docket was taken up Saturday, and several cases were continued by consent.

Monday morning, all of the jurors, except two, A. H. Vann and F. M. Davis, who had been excused, answered to their names.

The first case taken up was M. L. T. Davis vs John Mann which was decided in favor of plaintiff.

L. N. Neal vs William Dunston, order publication and additional summons.

Yarbore vs Hight, verdict for plaintiff.

Solomon Davis vs Mary Davis, divorce, allowed.

Solicitor Daniels made the following report to the Judge. "The undersigned Solicitor of the 4th Judicial district, beg so leave to report that he has examined the office of the Clerk of this Court, and finds the same in good condition, the records properly kept and indexed, and the duties of the office satisfactorily performed, in so far as he is able to ascertain."

C. C. DANIELS, Solicitor.

MR. PULLEY SENT TO THE INSANE DEPARTMENT OF PENITENTIARY.

On Tuesday a jury found that J. W. Pulley, charged with the murder of W. Henry Perry, is now insane. All the witnesses so testified, and there was also evidence that the father of J. W. Pulley died in the insane asylum; that he has an insane sister, and that two of his great aunts died in the insane asylum. This does not mean that Mr. Pulley has been acquitted, but if he regains his mind he will be brought back here and held for murder.

U. D. C.

The monthly meeting of the J. W. Davis chapter will be held in the Masonic Hall, at 4 p. m. Wednesday, May 1st.

A full meeting is desired, that arrangements may be completed for the proper observance of Memorial Day, May 10th.

MRS. JORDAN BARROW, Pres. Mrs. R. H. DAVIS, Treas.

How To Open A Can Of Salmon.

To open a can of Argo Red Salmon properly, lay the can on its side, insert the can opener at the seam, then stand the can on end, and pressing the top firmly down, work the can opener around the top, removing the entire top. The Argo will then come out in one solid piece.

THE ORPHANS COMING.

WILL BE IN LOUISBURG ON WEDNESDAY, MAY 1ST.

A Class of Sixteen Boys and Girls Will Give a Concert in the Opera House That Night—Let Everybody Go.

The Easter Tour, of the Singing Class of the Oxford Orphan Asylum has been arranged, and a class of ten girls and six boys will give a concert in the Opera House in Louisburg on Wednesday night May 1st.

These concerts are given for two purposes, viz: to raise funds to assist in the good work being done for the orphans, and to give the people of the State an opportunity to see in person, how well they are being trained.

The Opera House should be filled to overflowing next Wednesday night. The admission fee will be small, so that all can afford to attend.

The class will be at Youngsville on Thursday, night May 2nd.

The Times Free Trip.

The Jamestown Exposition opens to-day, with the booming of guns, the strains of music from Marine Bands, speeches from the President and other prominent men. About June 9th the editor of the TIMES will, providence permitting, accompany the two young lady winners in the TIMES contest for the FREE TRIP to this Exposition. Remember that the contest will close May 1st, and that a little over a month remains in which to win these trips. A five day's trip to the Exposition, with all expenses paid, is worth working for. As we have said before it shall be our aim to make it an enjoyable trip for the young ladies who shall be so fortunate as to win out.

Renewals as well as new subscribers count, and all old subscribers to the TIMES can have their vote cast for their favorite if they will simply say so, when paying up. Up to yesterday at 12 o'clock the contestants already on the list stood numerically as follows:

1. Miss Ella Harris.
2. Miss Margie Macon.
3. Miss Onnie Tucker.
4. Miss Louisa Jarman.
5. Miss Virginia Foster.
6. Miss Fannie Winston.

His Narrow Escape.

Mr. Furgerson, two of whose downtown friends had just dined with him, had taken them into the library for a smoke.

"I must tell you a good one on my wife," he said. "She's been roasting me because I look at the headlines in the papers once in a while to see if anything important is happening in the Thaw trial. Well, the other afternoon while the girl was away, she put a pan of biscuits in the oven to bake, and while she was waiting she picked up a paper and began to read the staff herself. She got so interested in it that she let the biscuits—"

At this moment Mrs. Furgerson came into the library for a book.

"And the joke of it was," continued Mr. Furgerson, without a moment's pause, "that they found the cow next morning in a forty-acre lot."

"Ha ha ha!" roared the guests, laughing till the tears ran down their cheeks but not at the story.

For Mother.

He was only a mite of a boy, dirty and ragged, but he had stopped for a little while in one of the city's free playgrounds to watch a game of ball between boys of his own and a rival neighborhood. Tatters and grime were painfully in evidence on every side; but this little fellow attracted the attention of a group of visitors, and one of them, reaching over the child's shoulder as he sat on the ground, gave him a lustrous gold coin. The boy's eyes sparkled; but the eyes were the only things as he looked back to see from whence the gift had come, and then turned his face away again, too shy or too much astonished to speak. But from that time on his attention was divided between the game and his new treasure. He patted the coin, he looked at it, and at last, as if to assure himself that it was as delicious as it appeared, he lifted it to his lips and cautiously bit a tiny piece near the stem. Then with a long sigh of satisfaction and assurance he tucked the prize safely inside his dirty little blouse.

"Why don't you eat it, Tony?" demanded a watchful acquaintance.

"Eat it? All myself? Ain't I savin' it for me mother?"

The tone, with its mingling of resentment and loyalty, made further speech unnecessary. Whatever else Tony lacked—and it seemed to be nearly everything—he had learned humanity's loftiest lesson; he had another dearer than himself, and knew the joy of sacrifice.—E. K.

School Close at Pilot.

After a successful term of eight months the school at Pilot, conducted by Miss Mamie Luther of Apex and Miss Lillie Coward of Harris county, closed with fitting exercises on Friday April 19th. Notwithstanding the rain which fell during the morning a large crowd was out to hear Rev. G. M. Duke and Hon. R. B. White speak. But owing to the weather or some other hindrance they did not come. We were anticipating a feast of good things from them and are sorry they were absent. But fortunately for us Mr. Wester of Franklin was present and consented to give us a speech. For twenty minutes he spoke on the subject of education, strongly emphasizing the point that, to a large extent, the hope of our state rests in our public schools. We wish to take this opportunity of again thanking Mr. Wester for his talk and hope he may be with us again.

In the evening from 7.30 till 11.00 the final exercises, consisting of recitations, songs, dialogues, comic plays etc, were performed by the school. On the whole the exercises were the best we have witnessed for some time. Both teachers and the pupils are to be congratulated on the excellent entertainment they afforded.

During the past session the school building, which was erected by the people of the community, was sold to build a church. The patrons of the school are taking more interest in the education of their children than formerly. The number of pupils enrolled reached 106, while the average attendance was much larger than ever before. With such efficient teachers as Miss Luther and Miss Coward have proved themselves to be we feel sure that the school and the community are progressing.

Concerning "Post Cards."

The Government Postal authorities are still battling with the "post card" in addition to the recent or der forbidding cards ornamented with particles of glass, mica or other similar substances, (unless enclosed in envelopes,) to the mails, the following order has been sent to all postmasters:

"A 'post card' must be an uncolored piece of cardboard not exceeding 3 1/2 by 5 1/2 inches nor less than 2 1/4 by 4 inches. It must be firm and the quality and weight of paper be substantially like the Government postal card. It may, or may not, at the option of the sender, bear near the top of the face the words 'Post Card.'"

THE MOVING PEOPLE.

THEIR MOVEMENTS IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

And Those Who Come and Go.

Some for Pleasure, Some for Business and a Large Number Because They Like It.

Mr. H. T. Beasley returned Tuesday evening from a visit to Apex.

Mr. J. C. Winston and daughter, Miss Nellie, were visitors here yesterday.

Miss Julia Winston, of Oxford, is among the visitors in town, guest of her uncle, Mr. J. P. Winston.

Mr. E. L. Jones and Miss Elizabeth Jones, of Youngsville, were among the visitors to Louisburg this week.

Mrs. Ida Pearce who has been spending some time with her daughter at Columbia, N. C., returned to Louisburg this week.

Dr. Powdson, of Wake Forest, Riddick, of Youngsville, and Hamlin, of Franklinton, were here the past week, as witnesses in the Polley case.

The editor had a pleasant call this week from Mr. Joseph H. Harris, of Lynchburg, Va. We are glad to learn that he is succeeding in the insurance business.

His host of friends were glad to shake the hand of Rev. W. H. Maston here this week. He came to attend the Burroughs-Upperman marriage, and was accompanied by his wife and little daughter, Elizabeth.

Miss Eliah Yarbrough, who has been teaching in Rockingham County arrived Friday, and is teaching in the graded school in place of Miss Mary Yarbrough, who is undergoing treatment in the hospital in Raleigh.

Rev. C. W. Robinson, of Hunt, accompanied by his wife and son, came over to visit Mrs. W. H. Furgerson, sister of Mrs. Robinson, this week. Mr. Robinson returned home on Wednesday, but his wife and son will remain a few days. Mr. Robinson is a prominent minister of the M. E. church.

Masonic Notice.

There will be a special communication of Louisburg Lodge, No. 418, A. F. & A. M., this (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock. Every member is earnestly requested to be present.

Educate Children.

Every child has a right to such an education as will qualify it for life's duties. This is recognized as a patriotic duty by the state. The permanence of our political institutions depends on the intelligence of our citizenship. "The byproducts of foreign soldiers are less to be feared than are the habits of ignorant voters." The welfare of the state depends more on the moral and religious training of her citizens than on their intellectual training, yet the state makes no provision for this moral discipline. In some cases it makes it difficult or even impossible to secure the moral and religious training of the mind at all. There must be a training of the moral sensibilities, particularly the will. Not all this is the duty of the church, but the larger part is the function of home. Every child deprived, by whatever means, of this education and training is defrauded out of an inalienable right, and when he comes into the inheritance of his citizenship may be depended upon to strengthen the trend upon him. In deference to the views of middle, school and others, the Bible is cast out of the public schools, and all school books are stripped here of everything that might tend to build up and strengthen the child's moral character. It is crucially in need of more children this higher and greater training. Children have rights which the state is bound to respect. It disregards them at its own peril.
