Are you sure that you are doing right in opposing better roads? One thing is true, no country will ever be as prosperous as it could be, unless good roads are kept up, and experience has proven that the old plan is a dead failure.

"I'm not in favor of this scheme of putting a tax on old bachelors," says one of these unhappy meanderers on the earth. "On the contrary I think most of 'em should be pensioned for refraining from making homes unhappy."

Under the law all land taxes not paid by April 1st, must be advertised for sale by the Sheriff, and this officer says that he will be forced to advertise a large number if they do not pay within the next week. A word to the wise should be sufficient.

The good life is the one that is great with goodness, enriched with every resource, daily growing, becoming more, enjoying more, and finding such completion in the attempt to awaken dormant lives, to lift lagging lives, and to lead its fellows into the life that is life indeed.

His friends were curious to know the cause of certain unusual performances on the part of our friend, Mr. F. N. Egerton, a few days ago, as he came down the street, but when they were informed that a fine little boy, in the person of Master Frank Egerton Underhill, had arrived at his house the night before and that Mr. E. was a full-pledged GRAND-PA, their curiosity was appeased and they were able to fully account for the antics that he was cutting.

Rev. F. A. Holtzhausen, of Wittenburg, Germany, delivered a lecture at the Baptist Church on last Tuesday night on Martin Luther, "The monk that shook the world." It is to be regretted that the shortness of the notice prevented a larger number of our people being present and hearing this entertaining and instructive lecture.

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing stomach, heart or kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This no doubt clearly explains why the restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by The Boddie-Perry Drug Co.

Good Cough Medicine for Children.

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ribley, W. Va., says: "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children, and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by The Boddie-Perry Drug Co.

NATURE TELLS YOU.

Mrs. George Powell, 635 E. Hargett St., Raleigh, N. C., says: "I suffered from kidney and bladder trouble for a long time. I could not control the kidney secretions and the passages caused me much distress. My back ached constantly and there were frequent pains through my loins. My husband hearing Doan's Kidney Pills highly spoken of, procured a supply for me and after using them a short time, I was entirely relieved. Doan's Kidney Pills proved more beneficial than any other remedy I ever used and in view of this fact I consider it my duty to recommend them.
