

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

M. F. Houck—For Sale.
C. C. Pearce—Sale of Valuable Timber.
John E. Hughes—New Brick Warehouse.

TAR DROPS.

—Read the new ad of B. G. Hicks in another column of the TIMES.

—Telephone subscribers will please add 183 to their list—TAR TIMES office.

—Remember that Mapleville Academy will have its closing next Tuesday. Mr. J. W. Bailey to speak at 11, a. m.

—We now have a supply of the special Franklin county Short Form Crop Liens and will be glad to serve all in need of same.

—The kind of board of town commissioners that the people are clamoring for is one that will reduce taxes and work the streets.

—The News-Observer "contest" is over, and while some of our Franklin county "candidates" run well we regret that they failed to "land."

—From now until the middle of June newspaper readers will be supplied with a sufficiency of "school closings" and "commencements."

—Mr. Charles J. Alston has rented the Carlyle store on Main street, where he will bottle his mineral water from his springs in the lower part of the county, for shipment.

—If you want a nice pair of slippers at less than half price, you should see what P. S. & K. K. Allen have to say about those and other lines in their advertisement this week.

—The May Day Exercises on the college campus will begin at 4 o'clock, next Tuesday afternoon. Every one is cordially invited. No admission. Don't miss this afternoon of pleasure.

—Contractor M. F. Houck has contracted with Mr. W. B. Boyd, of Warrenton, to build the latter a $13,000 dwelling in that town. Mr. Houck informs us that work will begin at once.

—A liberal proposition is offered in another column, by John E. Hughes, of Danville, Va. He offers to build a large warehouse on the "Thomas' warehouse lot" and furnish the capital to run it.

—Seoggin Brothers have received their large new and beautiful soda Fountain which will be put in place in their drug store as soon as the representative of the Fountain Manufacturer arrives.

—If the farmer who mailed the list of books wanted, to Hon. E. W. Pott, at Washington, and who failed to sign his name to the list, will let his name be known to the Congressman, he will get the books.

—At a regular meeting of the K. of P. last Monday night Mr. T. W. Watson was elected to represent the lodge at the district meeting in Henderson on May 6th and Dr. J. E. Malone was selected to respond to a toast.

—Attorney General Bickett went down to Castalia Wednesday to deliver the literary address before the pupils of the High School at that place. He will make an address at the closing of the Franklinton Graded School to-day.

—The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of Mr. J. S. Cobb in another column. He is going to make the picture of your baby and give you one of same on Monday next, if you will only take the trouble to call to see him.

—To-day is the time set for the "primary" to select a candidate for Mayor and six commissioners to govern the town of Louisburg for the next two years. The present incumbent, Mayor Yarborough, has no opposition, but we hear at this writing (Tuesday) that there are quite a number aspiring to be commissioners. We also hear that several members of the old board "have enough" and are not candidates for re-election.

—The closing at Line Ridge and Pearce's Schools in Dunns township, both occurred on Friday of last week, and we had hoped to have reports from each of them for this issue, but they have failed to reach us. We hope to get them for next week's issue.

—The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of the sale of the personal property belonging to the late Mrs. Anna Arrington, on Wednesday, the 5th day of May, 1909, which will be found in another column of the TIMES.

—It is being whispered that there are a few "blind tigers" in Louisburg. If this be true, the owners thereof had better stop the business right now, and we throw out this warning to them. If you are caught, and you surely will be, if you keep it up, your doom is "shoveling dirt" on the roads.

—We have a large number of Year Books of the Department of Agriculture of the United States that we are giving away. These books are of great value to farmers and contain reading matter that will be interesting to anyone. We shall be glad to give one of these books to any person calling at the TIMES office for same.

—A peddler, an Ayrrean, who claimed that he could not speak a word of English, was taken up near Mapleville last week for peddling without license. He had a hearing before B. B. Massenburg, J. P. who required him to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs. His brother, who lives in Springhope, came up, and after right much "rag chewing" paid his brother out.

—Our good friend, Mr. C. T. Perry, of Cedar Rock, was in to see us this week and reports the farmers in good condition down his way. Says that they are preparing to set tobacco and are raising more "hog and hominy" this year. He claims that the people around him have decided that it will be better to have their "smokehouse and corn crib" at home instead of in the west.

—Again: Local advertisers will please get their copy for new advertisements or changes in the office by noon on Wednesday. This will insure better position and certainty of changing. We are compelled to adopt this rule, in order to get to press at an early hour Thursday evening. Get your copy ready and have it in the office by Wednesday noon. Please remember this—and do not forget it.

—A subscriber in the "Perry's Mill neighborhood," sends in the following items: G. H. and J. T. Cooper and families visited relatives in Wake Forest last Sunday.

Our friend, Wiley Holmes, forgot about preaching at Katesville last Sunday, and going down to his cabbage bed took the cloth off for safe-keeping until next season.

The young man who went to fill an engagement with a lady friend at Royal on last Saturday night, is kicking because she broke the engagement.

Walter Holmes has invented a new "road worker" and superintendent Williams is invited to come out and inspect it. The farmers in this section have made good headway with their farms, and are preparing to sow cotton.

AMERICAN DUTY ON WHEAT.

From the Toronto Globe, according to the Philadelphia Record, those Canadians think we are responsible for the shortage in wheat and places the blame at the doors of Congress when it created a duty on wheat. The Globe says:

Our neighbors are confronted with a situation which even their all-wise Government did not foresee when devising the duty on wheat that was to make them prosperous. There is a shortage in wheat, and, instead of rejoicing in the blessing they are looking about for a means of relief. Naturally they feel impelled to seek relief in the removal of the obstructions they have placed in their own way. But it is passing strange that they should object to a scarcity. The whole object of their fiscal legislation is to create scarcity. They put on tariffs, not to make it easier, but to make it more difficult for them to get the things they require. Their tariff is designed, not to help them to get good bargains, but to prevent them from getting good bargains—not to make conditions of life easy, but to make them onerous. The more difficult, not less difficult, to satisfy their wants.

Clearly the men who think scarcity a good thing and try to create it by obstructive legislation often reach points beyond which they will not follow their philosophy. It will be beneficial to themselves and to many Canadians if they remove the embargo, which is doing its work too well to suit them. But this will be questioned by those who still hold that commerce to be beneficial to one party must be injurious to the other.

A SAMPLE FAKE.

The Virginian-Pilot says that the duty on cotton oil is nothing but a shallow play on the gullibility of certain Democrats. Only 202 gallons of this product were imported to this country during 1908, of which the value was less than one hundred dollars, and from which less than nine dollars of revenue was collected. The exports during the same period amounted to nearly twenty-six million gallons. To say that an industry thus without foreign competition needs to have doubled the rate of protection it now enjoys is to insult the public intelligence. To double the tariff will bring no revenue, will not increase the price at which the oil can be sold abroad, but will enable the Trust to add materially to the price imposed on home consumers. Such legislation would be a fraud on its face, and the Republican leader only favors the suggestion as a means of tempting Southern Congressmen of weak minds and no fixed political convictions to accept this gold brick and others like it in full compensation for withdrawing their opposition to the real oats in the meal tub of protection. Esaw traded off his birthright for a mess of pottage. The South is asked to become party to a series of frauds and impositions and will not even get the pottage in return.

Best Treatment For Colds.

"Most ordinary colds will yield to the simplest treatment," says the Chicago Tribune, "moderate laxatives, hot foot baths, a free perspiration and an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet after treatment." While this treatment is simple, it requires considerable trouble, and the one adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two, or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted, and in many instances pneumonia follows. Is it not better to pin your faith to an old reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cures of colds and can always be depended upon? For sale by Boddie-Perry Drug Co.
