TAR DROPS.

—Quite a large crowd went from here to Oxford yesterday on the excursion.

—It's a fine little girl and Mr. F. L. Herman seems to be the proudest man in town.

—A game of ball was played Tuesday between the small boys and the larger boys here in which the score resulted 7 to 5 in favor of the small boys.

—Read the new advertisement of M. C. Pleasants in this issue. He says that in order to get rid of a lot of his stock he will sell you at almost your own price.

—Bob Burdette says, "The Lord wasted mud when he made a man so mean as to tell the postmaster to return his paper marked "Refused" when he owes for two or three years subscription."

—Mr. O. E. Franklin, of Mt. Olive, has taken a position as registered druggist with the Scoggin Drug Co. for the present. He was accompanied here by his wife who will remain with him during his stay here.

—Aaron Deitz informs us that he has one of the prettiest stocks of gets summer furnishings to be found anywhere and that he is selling it at a sacrifice. He will have a change of ad in our next issue, so watch for it and learn of the good things he has for you.

—The Virginia Bay Hotel, at Ocean View, Va., opened on the 15th, and is again in charge of that experienced hotelist, Mr. Jno. A. Tucker, a Franklin county boy. He reports that quite a number of guests have already arrived and that the Virginia Bay will, as heretofore, be headquarters for Tar Heel visitors to the seashore.

—On Monday afternoon Mr. B. F. Harper, a farmer of the Castalia section of Nash county, was killed by a fall from his buggy, his head catching between the wheels and breaking his neck. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon, after which the remains were interred in the cemetery at Castalia. The deceased was about thirty six years old and was a member of a large and prominent family in that section of the county. He leaves a wife and a daughter, ten years old, to mourn their loss.

Cedar Rock Items.

THE McIVER LOAN FUND.

Meeting of the Normal Alumnae of Franklin County Called to be Held in Louisburg, Saturday, June 26, 11 a. m.

The Alumnae Association of the State Normal and Industrial College, shortly after President McIver's death decided to raise a McIver Loan Fund.

The object of this fund is to make it possible for strong ambitious young women of the State to receive the advantages offered at The State Normal College, and at the same time keep fresh in the minds of all the name of the man who gave his life to the upbuilding of North Carolina.

A field secretary of the Alumnae Association has visited 40 counties and $18,765 has been promised by these counties. Guilford leads with a pledge of $40,000, New Hanover, Wake, Cabarrus, Mecklenburg and Wayne have each pledged $1,000. The other counties visited by the secretary have promised from $100 to $500 each. Two years is given for the payment of the pledges made but some have already paid the amount pledged and are continuing to add to this sum.

It is proposed that the money from each county be used by young women from that county by which it is given. This should be an inducement to liberality as it will become to a certain extent a matter of local pride. As the money is returned it will be loaned to others, and hence its benefits will be continuous.

In every community the alumnae themselves have responded most generously and enthusiastically but others have also been most liberal.

The field secretary, Miss Etta Spier will meet the Franklin county alumnae in Louisburg at the Graded School, Saturday June 26 at 11 a. m. All public spirited citizens interested in the educational advancement of the county are invited to be present and lend their co-operation and assistance. The McIver Loan Fund is a matter of too great importance, meaning too much to the State to be carried on by the alumnae alone, so we hope there will be a good attendance at this meeting for Franklin County.

What Mr. Joyner says of the McIver Loan Fund.

"I wish to express my hearty approval of the movement of the alumnae of the State Normal and Industrial College to establish at that institution a memorial to Dr. Charles D. McIver, its first president, in the form of a loan fund to be used to aid worthy young women of limited means to secure an education and training at the institution. The establishment of such a memorial will be in perfect accord with the great idea for which Dr. McIver gave the best of his life and thought—equality of opportunity to capable North Carolina women, rich or poor."

Fuller-West.

On Sunday Morning, June 13th, at Corinth church, Mr. W. E. Fuller and Miss Minnie O'lia West were married, by the Rev. Mr. Poe, pastor of that church.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to extend my sincerest thanks to my neighbors and all those who so kindly assisted me during my recent illness and recovery.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our thanks and appreciations to our friends and neighbors who so kindly rendered us assistance in the recent illness of our son.

MR. AND MRS. J. T. HARRIS.

If You are Worth $50,000 Don't Read This.

This will not interest you if you are worth fifty thousand dollars, but if you are a man of moderate means and cannot afford to employ a physician when you have an attack of diarrhoea, you will be pleased to know that one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will cure it. This remedy has been in use for many years and is thoroughly reliable. Price 25 cents. For sale by Scoggin Drug Co.

OBITUARY.

At Laurel, on Monday June 7th 1909, the death angel entered the home of Joseph B. and Laura B. Jones, and bore from it the gentle, pure spirit of dear little Joseph Plummer, taking it back to God who gave it. On November 14th, 1908, this frail, but precious infant came into our midst, not quite seven months, ere he was called to Jesus. Such a short time, yet, long enough too, to so entwine himself in, and around the hearts of us who loved him, that we feel, in giving him up, that our very hearts are being torn from us.

All that loving hearts could prompt, or willing hands could do we did, in our efforts to keep him with us; but God willed it otherwise and He makes no mistakes. May God in His great mercy and tender love, draw very near to the devoted, loving father, the tender mother, (whose hands never grew weary in ministering to the dear loved suffering one) comfort, bless and sustain them, and all of us, whose hearts are yearning for dear little Joe, and give us perfect submission to this unerring will.

The remains were entered in the Louisburg cemetery Tuesday p. m., at four o'clock. Services conducted by Rev. J. H. London.

ONE WHO LOVED HIM.

EFFECTS OF PROHIBITION.

Commenting on the above the Monroe Enquirer says: "Col. Tom Black says the negro excursion of seven coaches which went to Salisbury yesterday under his protection was the most orderly crowd of negroes he has ever seen. 'Not a fight nor a drunk the whole day,' he said, 'and those niggers ought to be complimented.'"

The foregoing is a news item in the Charlotte Observer of last Tuesday. It was not ever thus. If there had been barrooms in Salisbury, Col. Tom Black would have told an entirely different story. Prohibition laws have not entirely stopped the sale of liquor in North Carolina no more than has the law against theft stopped stealing altogether, but the law making the sale of liquor illegal has changed matters greatly in this good State. It has come to pass in North Carolina that women and children can go on excursions, attend great gatherings and celebrations unattended by men and get along all right. When the barrooms were cut out more was done for the women and children than was done for any other class. Many a woman and many a child has been denied the pleasure of a day's outing, something they would have greatly enjoyed and something they really needed, because the barrooms were there. A better day has dawned in our good state. The women and children do not have to stay at home on great gala days and away from big gatherings, as they did when liquor was openly sold, for fear of being terrorized by drunken men. In the days of barrooms many a good woman and her children stayed at home—wanting to go to town and hear the speaking, wanting to hear the band play and see the big crowds, the decorations and to take part in the celebration or whatever great occasion it was—while the husband and father went off alone to attend the gathering. It is not so now. The time has come when the women and children can go along, too and that without fear of being bothered by drunken men. It is indeed a better day. Anybody want to go back to the time when the barkeeper was the greatest gainer when there was a great gathering of all the people? Anybody not willing for the women and children to have the privilege of going unmolested on excursions, to the Fourth of July celebrations and other great occasions and not be insulted by drunken fools? Does anybody want the happiness taken away from the women and children on the happy, go-lucky gala days and the broad smile put on the face of the barkeeper as the coin rattles into his till, as it used to do on such occasions? When barrooms went out the women and children came into their own.
