THE SUNDAY SCHOOL,

Lesson III.—Second Quarter,
For April 17, 1910.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xi. 1-19. Memory Verses. 4, 5—Golden Text, John v. 36—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

After the commission of last lesson both Jesus and His disciples departed and went through the towns preaching the gospel and healing everywhere. See verse 1, with Mark vi. 12-13; Luke ix. 6. We may imagine the result from such a passage as Matt. iv. 24. In Luke vii. 16-18, we read that after Jesus raised the widow's son to life the people glorified God, saying that a great prophet is risen up among us and that God hath visited His people. And this rumor of Him went forth throughout all Judea and throughout all the region roundabout. And the disciples of John showed him of all these things. This explains how, according to verse 2 of our lesson, John heard in the prison the works of Christ. We learn from chapter xiv that John was put in prison because he had fearlessly rebuked sin in high places, a dangerous thing to do if one's own comfort is considered when the powers that be are in league with the devil. So Michael, son of Imia, found it when for speaking the truth he was put in prison and fed on the bread and water of affliction. Zechariah, son of Jehoiada, was stoned to death because he testified that the people were in trouble because they had forsaken the Lord (1 Chron. xviii. 25, 26; xxiv. 20, 21). The hatred of the world, however, is not strange, for the devil is the god of this age, and he is the great adversary of God and man. But when one is suffering for righteousness' sake and our God, whose we are and whom we serve, seems not to hear us and sends no deliverance then it becomes very perplexing to any but the strongest faith. See Joseph as slave and prisoner, Martha and Mary with a sick and dying brother and John the Baptist seemingly neglected and forgotten. In reply to John's question by his two disciples Jesus in that same hour wrought many miracles and said to the messengers, "Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see" (verses 8-9; Luke vii. 20, 21). He also said as much as "Do not be offended, John, if I do not come to see you, and do not think it strange if I do not release you." We must remember His words in John xvi. 1-3; Isa. i. 10.

The messengers from John having departed, Jesus said to the multitude concerning John that he was the one foretold by Isaiah and Malachi as the messenger who would prepare the way of the Messiah (Isa. xl. 3; Mal. iii. 1). He also said that among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist (verse 11). We remember that Gabriel said, "He shall be great in the sight of the Lord, . . . he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, . . . he shall go before Him in the spirit and power of Elias" (Luke i. 15-17)—not great in the sight of men, but ready to testify or suffer or die that God may be glorified. In connection with John's greatness our Lord added, "He that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he" (verse 11). This has perplexed many because, perhaps, they have not noticed that Jesus did not say "the least in heaven," but the least in the kingdom of heaven, or kingdom of God (Luke vii. 28), which means the kingdom to be set up on this earth when Jesus shall be king over all the earth. When the kingdom comes John himself shall be greater than he ever was when here in humiliation. The least in the glorified body, like Jesus Himself (1 John iii. 2), shall be greater than the greatest here in a mortal body. There is more light for us upon this in due time, but let us consider the greatness of being "like Him" and so continually behold Him as to be more like Him now.

The kingdom suffering violence (verse 12) evidently refers to the violence which John was now suffering and which Jesus, the King, was soon to suffer at the hands of the rulers. See Luke xvi. 16, 17. They killed the herald and also cruelly murdered the King. They they violently pressed against the kingdom and caused its postponement till He shall come again in His glory. Stephen summed it up in his discourse when he said, "Ye stiff-necked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost—as your fathers did, so do ye. Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? And they have slain them which shewed before of the coming of the Just One; of whom ye have been the betrayers and murderers" (Acts vii. 51, 52).

John the Baptist came in the spirit and power of Elijah, and had they received him and the Messiah whom he heralded the kingdom would have come (verse 14); but, having acted as they did, the real Elijah must come to herald the return of Christ in glory (Matt. xvii. 10-13). Let those receive it who can.

They said that John had a demon, and Jesus they called a glutton and a winebibber and a friend of publicans and sinners. We must not therefore think it strange if we receive similar treatment and are numbered with transgressors, reviled and persecuted for His sake. We must consider Him who endured test we become weary. He giveth power to the faint, and to them that have no might He increaseth strength.

CORTRIGHT METAL SHINGLES

ARE FIRE PROOF.

THEY will not burn. Will not split or curl like wood shingles. Will not crack and fall off like slate. Will not rip at the seams like plain tin. Neither will they rattle during high wind storms. They never need repairs and last as long as the building. And last of all, they make the handsomest roof and are not expensive.
