SUBSCRIPTION $1.00 PER YEAR

VOL. XLJ.

LOUISBURG, N. C., FRIDAY OCTOBER 13, 1911.

NUMBER 33

CLUB OFFER OF 25,000 VOTES

For Two Weeks Beginning, Thursday October 12th.

Miss Kearney Wins the 20,000 Votes But Closely Followed By Misses Williams and Collins

INTEREST IS INCREASING RAPIDLY

Misses Hayes, Dorsey, Speed and Dean Make Good Showing—Who Will Get the Most Free Votes the Coming Two Weeks.

The bonus offer of last week was won by Miss Madeline Kearney, her reports being the best made. Miss Mary Williams coming second, but we must say that the best was not much better than the reports of both Miss Ruby Collins and Miss Irene Sledge, they giving Miss Kearney a close call for the offer of 20,000 votes. Now after naming the winner and how close the call came to winning the offer, these young ladies should be complimented on their report, for there is not one of them but should they have put in a little more effort, would have won the offer with ease. The ladies that did such good work are Misses Una May Hayes, Annie Dorsey, Margie Speed, Irma Dean.

Now, ladies, comes the big Club offer, this offer is one that if taken advantage of will not merely give you a lead but will make your lead the winning one. This is the chance of your life, read it carefully and put in the effort necessary.

Here it is.—for every report of $10 during the next two weeks, the management of this contest is going to give in addition to the regular amount of votes due on the report, a bonus certificate of 10,000 votes

This offer is not for just one to win but all, and the bonus is to be given on every report made by the contestants of $10.00. It is up to them as to how many reports they can and will make during the time. This offer is just for two weeks commencing October 12. Ladies take advice from one who knows and don't let any time pass without some results, as your race depends upon what you do during the next few weeks.

The management of this paper and also the management of this contest wishes to thank the many citizens who have already given these young ladies their subscription also those who have renewed, and we trust that those who have not renewed will do so when the young ladies make you a call.

It is not the intention of the owners of this paper to build air castles as to what they are going to do, but if you will only bear the present situation a week or two, then you will be able to witness what we have been promising the people of this county for the last few weeks. We are going to make our paper the best county paper published in North Carolina.—F. R. THOMPSON, Contest Manager.

Sent to Roads.

"Snowball" Satterwhite was sent to the roads for ten days and to pay the costs in a case for being drunk and disorderly by Mayor Holden on Monday.

Skip.

Herman Davis, a colored boy eighteen years old runaway from Louisburg Monday with Margie Mann, the wife of Bennie Mann, colored. A warrant was taken out for him and they have been traced as far as Portsmouth.

N. M. Perry Appointed.

We take pleasure in announcing the fact that Mr. N. M. Perry, one of Franklin's most prosperous farmers, has been appointed by Governor Kitchin as a delegate to the National Farmers Congress to be held at Columbus, Ohio, October 12-16, 1911.

Tobacco Market.

Quite a nice lot of the golden weed has been placed on sale on the local market here the past week. The prices have been good and, are holding their own. There was a good amount from off a distance and all the producers seemed to be well pleased with the result of their sales.

Among the Movers.

C. B. Cheatham has moved his family to Kittrell where they will make their future home.

W. E. White moved his family to the C. B. Cheatham residence on Church street, Friday, which he purchased some time ago.

R. W. Hudson has moved his family to the residence vacated by W. E. White. Having purchased same he will begin a lot of improvements on the lot in a few days.

Sunday Fire.

The fire alarm was turned in from the south side of the river on Sunday morning about 10 o'clock. Immediately the wigwag team of the local fire department responded and was followed closely by the reel team. Someone in passing had discovered the cotton storage warehouse of C. T. Stokes on fire and phoned the message over town. It was only a few minutes before the companies had water on the burning building and after a short hard fight the fire was extinguished. The trouble was a bale of cotton on fire and the fire had spread to the roof. The damage was estimated at about $200 fully covered by insurance.

Crowell-Lambertson.

We take the following account of the marriage of Mr. G. L. Crowell and Miss Eleanor Lambertson from the Greenville, Tenn., Democrat of October 5th: A beautiful wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lambertson on Tuesday, Oct. 3rd, at 3 o'clock, p. m., when their daughter Miss Eleanor became the bride of Mr. Glen L. Crowell, of Louisburg, N. C.

The rooms and hall were lavishly decorated with ferns, palms and cut flowers, gifts from friends of the family. Owing to the recent deep bereavement in the family, the wedding was very quiet, only the most immediate friends being present.

The bride, sadly beautiful, came down the circular stairway on the arm of her father, while the groom with the best man, Mr. Harry Candler, of Louisburg, N. C., met her under the hall archway. The impressive ring ceremony was used, Rev. C. O. Shugart officiating.

The bride's gown was white satin, with Princess lace and pearl trimmings. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The groom wore conventional black.

Immediately after the ceremony a delicious fruit punch was served by Mrs. J. A. Austin, a life-long friend of the family. The happy couple, accompanied by Mr. Harry Candler and Mr. Crowell, brother of the groom, left on an afternoon train for Asheville, N. C., where they will stay a short time to be present at the reunion of Mr. Crowell's family, after which they will take a wedding trip, destination to be a surprise to the bride.

The bride and groom each wore brown for traveling, the bride's costume being of brown manish cloth, embroidered chiffon waist, with brown accessories.

A rose clipped from the bouquet was given each guest as a souvenir. The bridal bouquet having been so designed, was taken apart and sent to the graves of the maid of honor and bride's maid the late Misses Florence and Alice Lambertson, who had been laid to rest in Oak Grove Cemetery two weeks before the wedding day.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Austin, Brownwood, Tex.; Mr. Crowell, of Asheville, N. C., brother of the groom, and Mr. Harry Candler, of Louisburg, N. C., business partner of the groom. Mrs. Austin, of Brownwood, Texas, a life-long friend of the family, who came during the bereavement, left for her home on the same train with the bridal party.

Mr. Crowell is a young man of exceptional ability and possesses the qualifications and disposition that has made him extremely popular among his many friends in Louisburg. He has proven his business ability in his connection with the Candler-Crowell Co., being the junior member of same which has grown to be one of the leading ladies furnishing establishments in this section. Previous to his locating in Louisburg in 1910 he had held exceptional positions as traveling salesman in which he did much credit to himself and the firms he represented. He is justly popular among his numerous friends here all of whom extend to him and his bride the warmest congratulations.

They will arrive in Louisburg today and will take rooms at Mr. F. B. McKinne's on Elm street. Louisburg's welcome to the young couple is only awaiting their arrival.

Produce.

All produce is still in strong demand and is bringing good prices. You will do well to come to Louisburg with what you have to sell.

Building in Raleigh.

M. S. Davis has taken contract and is building a nice residence for Rev. L. S. Massey, editor Raleigh Christian Advocate in Raleigh. We are informed that it will be a very nice home when completed.

Transfer of Property.

J. M. and W. H. Allen have purchased the Hart Warehouse on Main street.

B. T. Holden has purchased the J. M. Person residence on Church street.

Millinery Opening.

The Millinery opening display at the big Racket on Monday and Tuesday of this week was the centre of attraction to the many ladies of Louisburg and surrounding territory. The many beautiful and stylish dress fabrics formed a display that could not help but catch the eye of all who visited this well known establishment, while the many pretty styles of the seasons latest hats attracted the especial attention of the many ladies. The opening proved a grand success for the store and from many who visited there and the expressions used it seems as if the values are indeed numerous. Their advertisement, which will be found in another column, will be of much interest to our readers as they will be kept fully posted up on the latest and best of the market at all times.

Fine Catch.

W. E. Tucker and Joe Nash went out on a "possum" hunt on Monday night and met with splendid success. They treed ten and caught six, which were on exhibition at McKinne Brothers Co., on Tuesday.

Cotton.

Right much of the fleecy staple was sold here the past week. The prices has been fluctuating right much, but only a small difference remains between the prices yesterday and one week ago. The prevailing price yesterday was 9 3-16 cents per pound.

New Industries.

The Chattanooga Tradesman for the week ending October 4th, reports the following new industries established in North Carolina:

- Asheville—$25,000 furniture company.
- Concord—$25,000 lumber company.
- Conover—$100,000 handle factory.
- Hamlet—$10,000 bank.
- Magnolia—$25,000 bank.
- Maxton—$100,000 lumber company.
- Raleigh—$100,000 ice plant.
- Rocky Mount—$25,000 publishing company.
- Statesville—Construction company.

Meeting Called in Raleigh.

At the request of Dr. H. Q. Alexander, president of the North Carolina Farmers Union, I unite with him in a call for a conference as to the best mode of selling the present crop so as to procure and maintain a price that will be remunerative to the producer.

All persons interested in the matter are requested to meet at Raleigh, on Wednesday, the 18th inst., the time and place of meeting to be published in the city papers on the day of the assembly and the evening before.

W. A. GRAHAM,
Commissioner of Agriculture.
H. Q. ALEXANDER,
President North Carolina Farmers' Union.
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 7, 1911.

Comes to Louisburg.

The Rev. E. Lucien Malone, of Belhaven, North Carolina, has accepted a call to St. Paul's Episcopal church, Louisburg, and will come to his work here the first Sunday in December. Mr. Malone is by no means a stranger in Louisburg, being a son of the Rev. Charles Malone who was raised in Louisburg, and a nephew of Dr. Ellis Malone. Rev. Lucien Malone himself spent part of his boyhood days here and was partially educated at Louisburg; though his education was finished, and his ministerial work has been in the Diocese of Eastern Carolina. Mr. Malone had received a call to Bainbridge, Ga., when the invitation to St. Paul's, Louisburg, reached him, but preferring to remain in his native state and near his own people, he declined the call to Georgia and accepted the one to Louisburg. The Diocese of North Carolina and particularly Louisburg, are to be congratulated in his decision. He leaves a flourishing work in Belhaven and will receive a cordial welcome to Louisburg.

A Word in Season.

At the end of the first six months of his pastorate the Rev. Amos Johnson had learned the ways of his flock so thoroughly that he knew exactly how to deal with them. One Sunday the collection was deplorably slender. The next week Mr. Johnson made a short and telling speech at the close of his sermon.

"I don't want any man to gib more dan his share, bredren," he said, gently, bending toward the congregation, "but we must all gib according as the Lawd has blessed an' favored us, and according to what we rightly hab.

"I say rightly hab, bredren," he went on, after a short pause, "because we don't want any tainted money in de box. Squire James told me dat he'd missed some chicken dis week. Now if any one of my pore benighted bredren has fallen by de way in connections wid dese chickens, let him stay his hand from de box when it comes to him.

"Budder Leroy, will you pass de box while I watch de signs an' see if dere's any one in de congregation dat needs me to wrastle in prayer for him."—The Youth's Companion.

Takes New Lease on Life.

Selma Ellis, a Columbus county boy sixteen years old, who lives near Fair Bluff, was brought into the State and County Dispensary July 25th on a stretcher. He was unable to sit up or walk. He had been in declining health for six years, unable to work or go to school. He weighed only sixty pounds and had an enormous ulcer on his left leg.

A microscopic examination verified the belief that he was a victim of the severest type of hookworm infection. Treatment was begun by Dr. Pridgen, but as he had to move his hospital, Dr. C. W. Stiles, Scientific Secretary of the Hookworm Commission, was prevailed to complete the treatment at the Marine Hospital in Wilmington.

Selma made a splendid recovery, can walk or run, and is now at his home in good health. He gained 19 pounds, now weighing 79 pounds, and the quality of blood has increased from 14 to 60 per cent of normal. He is an enthusiastic worker in the hookworm crusade, but is only one of the thousands who are finding restored health and pleasure as a result of the campaign.

Seventeen of the eastern counties of the State have provided for these dispensaries.

Smith-Swanson.

The pretty little Red Bud Baptist church was the scene of a beautiful wedding ceremony on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when Miss Annie Richard Swanson was happily united in marriage to Mr. Norman D. Smith, one of Franklin county's most popular young couples.

The church has been previously decorated with evergreens and golden rods by the friends of the bride and it presented a most beautiful setting for the occasion.

Long before the appointed hour friends and neighbors had filled the church and were waiting with interest the arrival of the bridal party.

Presently Miss Kate Wilder beautifully sang "Melody of Love," which gave the information of the arrival of the party. While Miss Juanita Penny, of Castalia, rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march the bridal party entered as follows, the ladies going up the left aisle and the gentlemen up the right, crossing in front of the altar and forming a semi-circle, which was completed by the arrival of the bride and groom. First came the ushers Messrs. C. C. Hudson and W. J. Lancaster, followed by the bridesmaids and groomsmen, Miss Lela Dell Griffin with Coleman Smith, Miss Pattie Lou Smith with J. B. Parrish, Miss Mary Etta Hunt with Eugene Fulghum, Miss Annie Batchelor with Henry Parrish, Miss Annie Tickle with J. P. Davis, Miss Maude Lancaster with Emmitt Bartholomew.

The bride and groom were preceded by little Misses Louise Griffin and Evelyn Bartholomew, flower girls, carrying beautiful bouquets of roses and ferns, who took their positions to the right and left of the contracting parties. Then came the bride, beautifully gowned in a blue coat suit with gloves and hat to match accompanied by her maid of honor, Miss Bessie Conn, of Louisburg, dressed in an exquisite blue meslin satin suit trimmed with fringe and pearl ornaments with gloves to match, up the left aisle, while advancing up the left was the groom and his best man, Mr. R. O. May. The bride, who was never more beautiful, was met at the altar by the groom and a beautiful ceremony was pronounced by Rev. G. M. Duke, while "Hearts and Flowers" was being rendered.

After the ceremony the party left the church in reverse order in time with "Schubert's Serenade," and drove to the home of the groom's father, where a most bountiful repast was laid and a reception given the party from 9 to 12 o'clock, at which the party was delightfully entertained with recitation and music by Miss Penny which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The bride is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mrs. Dora Swanson, of Cedar Rock township and by her sweet disposition and gentle manners has won a host of friends who will regret to give her up from their social pleasures.

The groom is a son of our esteemed countyman, Mr. Marcellus D. Smith and is a young man of sterling worth. He is the possessor of exemplary habits and good business ability, and has a host of friends in this and adjoining counties.

The popularity of this young couple was well attested in the many congratulations and numerous valuable presents.

May theirs be a long life full of happiness is the wish of their hosts of friends.

Say a Good Word About Your Town.

This thing of saying a good word about your town is a habit which the people of this community need to cultivate and they need it badly.

You just start out here some bright morning—yes, even on a bright morning when every one ought to feel good, and mention something about every citizen, we don't care who he is, or how pure he is, and you will be surprised to know how many people have out their little hammers and how with their might they will be trying to use them. Now, how much better it would be if we all had a good word to say of our neighbors. What makes your town but the people who live in it? When you hit them, don't you know you are striking your town, and when you strike your town don't you know that you are driving blows on your own little head? Say something good or keep your tongue in your mouth. You will feel better yourself, and you will be better too.

Neyada or New York.

From Life.

Ranpall—I wonder which is the best State to live in?

Rodgers—That depends on whether you want to get a divorce or to steal money.

Masonic.
