CLOSES ON WEDNESDAY

—Fenner Sanderling killed one hog weighing 675.

—John Speed, we learn, is quite sick at his home.

—Brush, the great, coming! Who? the great magician when! February the 8th.

—The Baraca Banquet was a great success and all present expressed much delight at being there.

—Will Hunt, formerly with the Sterling Company, has accepted a situation with S. C. Williams.

—Wednesday morning found the ice still stuck and much colder than Tuesday, but if we still have sunshine it will help some.

—Don't forget there are some in Franklinton that owe subscription to the Times that is long passed due. We would be glad if they would see the collector and make settlement.

—Sunday morning was a fine day to "rabbit hunt" and we understand there were several "picked" up by some who were merely walking around and the "rabbit" got in their way. We suppose no harm if parties were out of meat.

—Early risers on looking out on Sunday morning were much surprised to see the earth covered with snow. As usual in Franklinton it caught a lot of people about out of wood. Snow is almost a stranger in this part of the country and there are many children in this town who never saw any snow before.

—The wind got up in "G" Monday night and it rained and froze and Tuesday morning found a heavy sleet on the ground and it made it difficult and dangerous to those who had to walk to their place of business; the sun came out and made it a little more comfortable overhead, but none of us were going that "way" so those who could not risk the ice had to stay indoors, however the weather man predicts warmer weather by last of week, so all things are well that ends well.

—At the annual competitive drill of Co. F, Franklin Guard last Friday afternoon in their armory, both medals, one for promptness and one for manual of drills, were taken by 1st Sergt. G. G. Cooper. Sergt. Cooper is now serving his second enlistment, and he has missed attending drill only one time since enlisting in the company and is the only man in the company who has taken two medals at one time. Sergt. Cooper is well liked by officers and men of this company. Capt. Kearney wishes us to say that he needs five more good men to enlist in this company right away to complete his roll in number.

Brush, the Great Magician.

It has been a source of delight to all the people of Franklinton to attend the Alkahest shows this winter. Not only have the people of our immediate vicinity expressed pleasure in them, but those from the surrounding towns who have attended them.

Let us call attention to our "Wonder Show" of the last season. Walls, the magician, gave a splendid performance, with his assistant. His was a seventy-five-dollar show.

Brush, the great magician is a "ninety dollar" man and in a class by himself. The Alkahest people claim him to be the best in our States and recommendations of him comes from all who have seen him. His assistant, too, is a high class artist.

You can't be disappointed in this performance on the 8th of February.

Remember that the surplus amount from proceeds is to go to the improvement of our graded school, so come.

The parlor and hall were attractively decorated with holly, mistletoe, ferns narcissus and Japanese lanterns.

After the business discussion of the meeting, each guest was given a dainty Japanese booklet containing questions, which were to be answered with words ending in "tea" or "ty." Miss Frances Winston, the successful contestant, presented the prize, a Japanese story, "Little Snow," to the visiting guest, Miss Annie Parker, of New York.

While the refreshments were being served, the Japanese fireworks, which were hung among the decorations, were lighted, throwing a bright light over the dimly lit room.

The Club adjourned to meet with Mrs. G. B. Harrill, Tuesday the 17th.

Baraca Banquet.

The Baraca Class of the Methodist Sunday School closed the year Friday night with a banquet in the dining hall of Franklinton hotel. A delightful menu consisting of oysters stewed and fried, chicken salad and coffee were charmingly served by the following young ladies of the school, Misses Grace Ward, Kate and Mattie Ballard, Annie Parker, Frances Winston, Mrs. F. M. Drake, Mrs. A. O. Perry and Mrs. W. W. Rose. Short talks were made by the president, D. E. Burkley and other members of the class reviewing the old and mapping out a campaign of aggressive work for the new year just beginning. Short talks by the superintendent E. J. Cheatham and pastor W. W. Rose were also listened to which inspired the class with greater zeal.

The teacher Mr. B. W. Ballard was then presented with a walrus skin grip bearing his name by Mr. E. J. Cheatham for the class in a very pretty little speech as a token of their appreciation of his untiring devotion to his class. The annual election of officers was then held the following being unanimously re-elected for the term. President D. E. Barkley, Vice Presidents E. M. Speed, B. W. Ballard, Sec. E. A. Harris; Treas. # LAST CALL

FOR

COLLECTIONS DURING 1911

Now gentlemen, colored men, cracker boys and coons, I want the balance you owe me on this year's account.

I once heard an old gentleman say: Bad Debts and Bad Bargains Was Hell

Now I don't propose to have any old debts after Christmas. I am going to close up the deal, that is, get ready to have another big Mortgage Sale in January sometime. Now don't tell me about holding your cotton any longer, I want you to settle because I need my money. Now I know several little stores that have bought seed cotton that did not keep any record of it, I know several men who owe me money who sold cotton that I had a mortgage on and would have them up but they have the folks who trade with me and pay me, and I don't want to have any articles, but unless I collect a all of the money owing to me I am going to have a talk with the Solicitor about this business at January term of court. There is no use to have up negroes for shooting orip, and a few sorry negroes for selling whiskey and allow a lot of high church members to run little wet weather stores and buy cotton at half price when they knew it was mortgaged and not keep any record as the law requires.

Now save your money and get ready for a big mortgage sale in January, dates to be announced latter.

At this sale I am going to sell all the buggies that people have bought from me and have not paid for, all the horses, mules, wagons, harness, rakes, disc harrows, cattle, hogs and a lot of house-hold and kitchen furniture. A lot of them owe me small accounts that I have carried a long time and are about as near out as they ever will be and now is the time to close down. Now you fellows who don't want to be closed out make your arrangements to pay me or get somebody to take up your note. This advertisement will only appear once, after now this space will belong to the Hill Live Stock Co., for later announced sales of mules, horses and buggies on next years time.
