The ceremony was impressively per formed by the father of the groom Rev. Chas. D. Malone, of Washington. N. C., and was witnessed by many interested friends

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S Morrison, a graduate of the State Normal, is pretty and refined and much loved for her genuine worth, and many persona charms

Mr. Malone is a strong young minister, and was rector of the Episcopal church in Louisburg until his recent acceptance to a-call to Gadsden, Ala He has many friends throughout the State who will be interested in his marriage.

Miss Crystal Swope Dead.

Louisburg people will learn with much regret of the death of Rev. L. W. Swope's oldest daughter, Miss Crystal, which occurred the past week. telegram to friends here Tuesday brought the sad intelligence. Rev. and Mrs. Swope have the sympathy of this entire community.

New Postmaster.

Mr. R. H. Davis, who has recently been appointed postmaster for Louisburg and who took charge of the duties the first of July is one of Louisburg's best citizens. He is a straightforward and upright gentleman and will do all in his power to give the best of acrvice to the people of Louisburg and vicinity.

Miss Roberts Entertains.

Tuesday night as the shades of evening cast a shadow over mother earth with only a constant hum of a distant engine and the ever-lasting tune of a nearby waterfall to break the stillness even-tide and while the moon stood still in wonder at the beauty arrayed below, some eight or ten couples of bright and beautiful young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Young to be the guests of Miss Maggie Roberts and vie with each other as to who could drink the most cherry punch served by their charming hostess, after indulging in several games, and exchanging a few thoughts as to the best method to secure their girls decisive answer they finally decided the best way to do was to take them away from civilization for awhile, so some in wagons packed with hay, others in autos and buggies, hied away for a ride where only the moon could see her expression when she answered After a pleasant ride and just before this same moon dropped behind the western horizon they dishanded and d

GENERALS GROW Morelos. Moving of His Capital to Monterey The Controlling Gateway is Regarded as Significant and Promotion of Generals to Rank Above Villa Omin-

The Franklin

ESTRANGEMENT OF

Ladero, Texas, June 30 .- Several week may escape before General Carranza replies to the proposal of the Ningara Falls mediators, who have tendered their good offices in arranging a conference between representatives of Huerta and the Constitutionalists, according to travelers who arrived at Laredo today from Monterey No answer will be made until General Carranza has submitted the proposal to all of his generals. A number of the commanders are beyond reach of the referendum vote will require some time.

" In the meantime, it is said the victory of Villa at Zacatecas has done absolutely nothing to bring the Carranza and Villa factions together . At no place along the line where the di-vision of the notheast is stationed or at Saltillo or Monterey was there any determination or demonstration such as usually follows a Constitutionalist victory, according to infor-mation brought here today.

Carfranza Holds Gateway.

Great significance is being places y many in close touch with the situation on the announcement that Caranza will make Monterey his provisional capital. The strategic location of that city is being pointed out, in view of the present situation. Monterey, it is said, will be the controlling gateway for Mexican coal and fuel oil and ammunition and any party holding it could cut off from Torreon and the west fuel supplies necessary to move troops trains, by checking shipments from Tampico and the northern Mexican coal fields, great stratgetic prominence... Troops can be mobolizen there quitely or disturbed readily to points west and south toward Torren and San Louis Postosi. The town also presents numerous avenues of retreat besides offering splendid facilties for withstanding a seige

Villa May Be Cut Off.

Persons in close touch with the situation point out that should Villa continue this victorious course south toward Mexico City and a definite and final break should come with Carranza, the travelers say the latter with General Gonzales' force readily available along the line between San Luis Potosi and Monterey, might be in a position to readily cut across Villa's line of communication to the north, shutting off all supplies south of Torreon and obtaining virtual control of Northern Mexico. Carranza's headquarters, however, continue to emphasize the statement that the campaign against San Louis Potosi and the south would be published at once

The keenest interest obtains a Mon terey as to the movements of Villa.

Other Generals Promoted.

The announcement Monday that General Pablo Gonzales and General Obregon had been promoted to the generals of division is regarded as significant according to today's arrivals. Gonzales, Obregon and Villa have been in actual command of the divisions of the northeast, northwest, and the center respectively, but none of them has been entitled to the formal title of general of division. Each has been a general of brigade only. Villa was selected to command the division of the center (then called the division of the north) by a vote of the seven brigade commanders who com<sup>r</sup> posed that body, as they realized that although each was of equal rank, it was necessary to have one directing and responsible head. The promotion of Gonzales and Obregon will make them superior in rank to Villa.

Winston-Macon-Wedding.

On Tuesday evening the Methodist hurch of Louisburg was the scene of very pretty wedding, when Miss Margie Macon of Louisburg became the bride of Mr. M. Eaton Winston, of Youngsville. The church was beautifully decorated in white and green, and long before the appointed hour was filled to its fullest capacity.

Just at 9:00 o'clock Mrs. Arthur Fleming took her seat at the organ and Mrs. Percy Cooke very sweetly sang "Constancy."

Then the church was flooded with the thrilling strains of Lohengrins Wedding march and the bridal party First came the ushers, Dr. entered. R. F. Yarborough, Mr. Maurice Clifton, Dr. C. W Banks and Mr. E. J Macon.

They crossed at the chancel rail and took their places on either side. Then entered Miss Gertrude Winston. of Youngsville, with Mr. Bland Mitchell, of Youngsville, crossing at the center of the chancel and entered the chancel rail.

Then followed Miss Annie Belle Harris, of Greensboro, with Mr. Edwin Cooke, of Louisburg, Miss Lucy Smithwick, of Louisburg, with Mr. Clyde Perry, of Youngsville, Miss Julia Barrow, of Louisburg, with Mr. Paul Winston, of Youngsville.

Then entered the dame of honor, Mrs. E. J. Macon, wearing a handsome gown of white crepe metor, carrying white carnations. Little Miss Annie Perry Neal entered bearing the ring upon a small silver tray.

Then from the left isle entered the oride on the arm of her sister, Miss Mary Belle Macon, while the groom and best man, Mr. Herman Winston entered from the right isle.

They were met at the alter by the Rev. A. D. Wilcox, and in the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony were made man and wife. During the ceremony Mrs. Fleming

Held For Illicit Distilling.

the case of State vs. Bob Woodleif on Monday gave reason to believe that Wiley Murray and Bob Woodleif had been blockading whiskey, whereupon Judge Cooke ordered the clerk to draw a warrant for them and have them before him the next morning at 9 o'clock. The case was tried and sufficient evidence developed for Judge Cooke to hold the two defendants for court, therefore he placed Murray un-der a bond of $250 and Woodleif under

On last Monday morning upon a warrant sworn out by him, Judge_C M. Cooke tried Bob Woodleif for committing rape upon Mrs. Wiley Murray. The case was pretty well gone into and the defendant was held for court under a $500 justifiable bond.

The Fourth of July

This day is not as generally observed as a holiday in the South as in other sections of the country; but is observed in some of our eities and towns to touch an extent as to call for a warning against the dangers from some things done in its observance Public sentiment is in favor of a safe and sane Fourth of July. The day can and should be observed without the use of fireworks, powder and other explozives. Officials, business men members of the fire departments and householders should be informed and prepared for emergencies.

Burning Trash Piles.

The Insurance Commissioner again varns housekeepers of the danger from fires resulting from burning of trash to yards or on streets. If people insist on destroying refuse matter in this way, the burning heap should be watched - carefully to prevent sparks from flying to buildings and causing great loss of property, always see that the fire is thoroughly extinguished at night, as a wind is likely to fan the embers into a blaze with consequences none can foresee. Each city shouldislse-parksmmgsndhrhrdh city and town should have and enforce ordiances forbidding trash fires. #### 12. Gets Two For Car Breaking

Quite a little excitement was created on our streets Wednesday ,when constable R. W. Hudson left town saying he was after a negro who had broken jail. He soon returned however with a negro boy named Henderson Mitchell and it was learned that the prisoner together with Wesley Green, both Louisburg negroes, had broken into a box car at Norlina on Sunday night. They were caught by the officers and locked up at police headquarters in Henderson and on Monday evening they made good their escape by breaking out and got away. Wednesday railroad detective W, E, Wilson, and an officer came over to Louisburg in search of the two negros. They soon found Constable R. W. Hudson and told of the occurrences and gave him the description of the negroes and in a short while Mr. Hudson saw Mitchell crossing the bridge when he gave chase and caught him at the depot arranging to leave on ,an outgoing train. He was brought back over town and turned over to the detective. On Wednesday night Mr. Hudson began his search for Wesley Green, the other negro, and it was not long before he had him in custody .... The officers were notified and came for him yesterday.

Miss Lucy Perry Badly Hurt.

Dr S. P. Burt and Mrs. Willis W. Boddie accompanied Miss Lucy Perry to Raleigh yesterday morning where she will receive treatment at Rex Hospital for a broken arm and should-

Boddie. where she lived on Wednesday night to see that the windows were closed from the storm, and not realizing that she was near the stairway, Miss Lucy accidentally stepped through the opening and fell to the first floor, a distance of about ten or twelve feet, breaking her right arm just above the wrist and her left arm just below the shoulder, also breaking her left shoulder. It was quite a painful accident and her many friends will learn with much regret of her suffering .

In the retiring of Miss Mary W Yarborough as postmaster at Louisburg, who has held the position for two terms, a most efficient official has stepped out to make room for another. During these eight years the service to the people of this community has always been a matter of high importance to her and in every case where possible changes were made to more conveniently serve the public. Under her administration the office has prospered and only a short while ago was promoted from the third to the second class. She was a splendid and painstaking officials and leaves a reeord that is a credit to her ability.

Fireworks.

It is generally realized the great loss of life and property occurring every year caused by fireworks. A few years ago two-thirds of the city of Portland, Maine, was burned, caused by the careless handling of firecrackers. From the same cause Pittsburg lost $50,000 worth of property in one day, and in eight years the fire loss in the United States as result of the careless handling of fireworks amounted to over $2,500,000.

Fireworks may be divided into two classes, those exploded in the upper air, such as skyrockets and toy balloons, and those discharged nearer the ground, such as small firecrackers, the cannon or giant orackers, blank cartridges, toy pistols, spin-wheels, etc. They are decidedly dangerous and should be avoided.
