MAYOR AND OLD BOARD RE-NOMINATED.

Capt. Joyner Withdraws from Mayorality Race—Much Interest and the Best of Feelings.

What was possibly the most interesting city primary held here in many years with such good feelings prevailing was pulled off Tuesday. There was a registration of 285 and a vote of 269 was polled, being one of the largest percentages of registered voters ever polled here in a primary. A clean bill of health was given the old administration as the entire number were reelected. Capt. L. L. Joyner, who was opposing Mr. J. A. Turner and Mr. A. O. Dickens for Mayor withdrew from the race Monday night and Mayor Turner was nominated over his opponent, Mr. Dickens, in a vote of 195 against 70. The withdrawal of Joyner from the Mayorality race relieved what appeared to be possibly the strongest fight.

The next feature around which the interest centered was that of the vote for Commissioners. In this box a great deal of scratching was in evidence all working hard, and as a result did some splendid work in the field and at the bat Mr. James Malone and Mr. C. C. Julian were in the game for the first time and showed up well. The game only lasted five innings on account of the delay of getting started, but the result would probably have been the same had the full nine innings been played. This makes the third game with Franklinton this season, and Louisville has won two of the three.

In this game Alley could not stand the pressure of our boys and he was replaced by Speed, while Cooke held the post behind the bat for the visitors. Julian and Weaver did good work for the locals and showed indications of developing into a strong battery. The game was an enjoyable one and we hope to see many more between our neighbors and ourselves and that each of us may develop teams equal to the support of our townspeople.

The Louisville boys went over to New Hope for a game Wednesday. It is hoped that we will be able to secure a return game with New Hope today.

A great deal of interest is already centering around the engagement for a game to take place on the local diamond on Monday between Wakelon High school and the local team. The Wakelon boys have a reputation that is especially flattering to their skill in the game and our boys are determined to redeem themselves against teams of such reputations. Therefore the lovers of baseball may expect to see a pitch battle on the local diamond Monday. Go out.

The new baseball suits have arrived and will be seen at the next game. This together with the good playing done lately by the team should create more enthusiasm among the local fans for the rest of the season. Louisville expects to have the best amateur team in the State and will if everybody gives it the support that it has had in the past.

A Pleasant Trip.

Supt. W. R. Mills, Misses Onnie Tucker, Beulah Cyrus, Lillie Mae Aycock and Messrs. Edward Webb and Will Collie left by automobile on April 8th for Chapel Hill, where Misses Aycock and Cyrus, and Messrs. Collie and Webb, were to enter the annual debating contest for the Aycock Memorial Cup.

On arriving in Chapel Hill Miss Tucker went to the home of Pres. Edward K. Graham, Misses Aycock and Cyrus to the home of Dr. W. D. Toy where they were charmingly entertained during their stay at the University.

Messrs. Collie and Webb, spent the time very pleasantly with Mr. Graham Egerton, their townsman, who is a student at the University.

Supt. W. R. Mills went to the hotel where he and dozens of others Superintendents "talk shop" and communed with kindred spirits.

In the first round of preliminaries the contest was narrowed down to twelve teams, six on the affirmative, and six on the negative.

It was a great compliment to Misses Aycock and Cyrus that they were chosen from such large numbers to be among the winning six.

This gave them the right to the second preliminary and they upheld the affirmative of the query, "Resolved that the United States should adopt the policy of subsidizing its Merchant Marine engaged in foreign trade."

In this preliminary the Louisville debaters were pitted against the second of Hillsboro, Lincolnton, Lowell, Falling Creek, Almond and Jefferson.

Louisburg and Lincolnton were selected as the best teams from their section and Misses Aycock and Cyrus were again chosen to represent their school in the final preliminary.

This was an honor for these young ladies, and for the school and town that they ably represented.

One of the striking features of this debate was the numbers of girls among the debaters.

Of the forty-eight debaters qualifying for the second preliminary, twelve were girls, Louisville, Lincolnton, Manteo and Wilson all being represented by girls.

Louisburg is proud of the part her girls played on this occasion and fully appreciates their efforts, intelligence and ability.

Grouch Proof.

In Chicago a man has just left a hospital whose inner works are all topsy turvy, and yet the world is exceedingly bright to him and his good nature radiates sunshine whenever he goes.

His heart is on the right side; his liver is on the left, when it should be on the right side; his spleen is on the right, when it should be on the opposite, and his stomach is farther over to the right than it should be.

He has excellent digestion, is happy 43 years old, and has never been in love.

He is grouch proof.

FIELD DAY EXERCISES

WITNESSED BY LARGE CROWDS.

Louisburg and Bunn the Biggest Winners—Runs and Jumps Show Splendid Work.

The field day events of the County Commencement were pulled off at the Williamson Ball Park on last Monday afternoon in the presence of several hundred visitors from all parts of the county and proved to be quite interesting.

The 100 yard dash was run by Aloneous Hinton and Clyde Moody, of Bunn, and Will Collie, Aubrey Waddell and E. Webb, of Louisburg, with Hinton winning in the first heat and Moody in the second, the tie not being run off. The same run for the smaller boys was run by Hill Yarborough and Warren Hollingsworth, for Louisburg, Bernard Stallings, for Justice, William Boone, for Cedar Rock, Willie May, for Prospect, Forrest Smith, for Moulton. This also resulted in a tie which was not run off with Stallings and Boone winning first and Louisville second in both heats. The Broad Jump was won by Hinton, of Bunn, with a record of 17 feet 3 1-2 inches, while Waddell, for Louisburg, made second with 17 feet 1-2 inch. In this feature Williams for Louisville lost by falling back, which if he had prevented he would have cleared 17 feet 9 inches. The Broad Jump for the small boys was won by Yarborough for Louisville with a jump of 12 feet 7 inches, while Mullen for Bunn, made second with a record of 11 feet 11 inches. The High Jump was won by Hinton, for Bunn, with 5 feet 2 inches, while six made a second of 4 feet 8 inches. The High Jump for the smaller boys was won by Houck for Louisville, with a record of 4 feet 2 inches, and Yarborough for Louisville, with 4 feet 1 inch. The 440 yard race was won by Hinton, of Bunn, with Waddell, for Louisville, a close second. The 220 yard race was won by Collie and the second made by Craile, both of Louisville. The half mile relay race was won by Louisville. This gives to Louisville 41 points and Bunn 26, making Louisville winner of the percentages. The prizes were all awarded as announced and the crowds repaired to the Farmers' Union Warehouse, where a game of basket ball was played between Franklinton and Ingleside to determine the championship of the county. The line up in this game was as follows:

Franklinton Right Forward Ingleside

C. Kearney Left Forward Ellington

High Center Johnson

Winston Right Guard Scruggs

D. Kearney Hayes

This was a hotly contested game and was therefore especially interesting until about the middle of the second half, when Ingleside refused to finish the game on account of a decision of the referee, which of course forfeited the game to Franklinton. However at the time of the forfeit the score stood 11 and 9 in favor of Franklinton.

This being over the crowd again returned to the ball park to witness a game of ball between Louisville and Franklinton.

It was a most enjoyable occasion for all.

Weekly Weather Forecast

Issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C., for the week beginning Wednesday, April 21, 1915.

For South Atlantic and East Gulf States: Except for local showers at its beginning in the East Gulf States, the week will be one of general fair weather with temperatures above the normal.

Mapleville Commencement

The closing exercises of Mapleville Academy will take place on Wednesday May the 5th. There will be an address in the morning at 10:30 o'clock and the afternoon will be given over to the Betterment Association. Of course there will be the usual big dinner.

In the evening the school will give two plays, "Economic Boomerang" and "Uncle Jack." Both plays are funny and at the same time have a good moral.

Special School Tax For White Level.

Franklin county has another special school tax district as the result of an election held in White Level district, near Dickens, on Wednesday of last week, when the voters ratified the measure with a majority of 18 out of a registration of 69. This is quite a compliment to the people of this neighborhood and shows their progressiveness.

Interest Growing.

The interest in the drawing for the $10 gold pieces at Candler-Crowell Co's seem to be increasing as the weeks pass. On last Saturday the successful persons were: Mrs. A. F. Johnson with No. 4358; Miss Annie Belle Preddy, of Youngsville, with No. 3995; and Thomas Alston colored, with No. 4293.

DEATH OF COL. ANDREWS

SEIZED WITH CHILL ON FRIDAY NIGHT.

Saturday Morning Pneumonia Set In; Rallies Came Later But Unfavorable Conditions and at 9:17 Last Night The End Came; All the Members of the Immediate Family With Him Except Daughter and She Will Arrive Today; Death Heralded From Many Lips; Funeral Monday Afternoon.

Colonel Alexander Boyd Andrews, first vice-president of the Southern Railway, one of Raleigh's best known and most influential citizens and prominent in railroad circles in the whole South, died of pneumonia last night at 9:17 o'clock at his residence, 407 North Blount street. He was in his seventy-fourth year.

Col. Andrews' illness was very brief, he was down town both morning and evening Friday. A part of his left lung was shot away in the war and pneumonia developing yesterday morning in his right lung, it was seen that it would be a hard fight for him to rally. He sustained a heart attack twelve years ago and after that time was compelled to guard his health very carefully.

Seized With Chill.

For several days past Col. Andrews had been suffering with a very severe cold. Friday night between ten and eleven o'clock he was taken with a severe chill. Physicians were summoned and were up with him a good part of the night. Saturday morning the chill had developed into an acute attack of pneumonia and it was apparent that he was quite a sick man though there was strong hope that he would rally and it was not felt that his condition was necessarily critical. At noon he seemed to be breathing a good deal better. Later in the afternoon his condition grew unfavorable again and at 5:30 o'clock his children who with the improvement in his symptoms had felt warranted in going to their homes or places of business were called to the Andrews home.

Rallies Again.

Again shortly after seven o'clock there was a rally and the aged patient was sitting out on the veranda. At nine o'clock members of the family were expressing satisfaction at his condition and giving voice to the belief that the worst of the attack was over and that restoration to health would soon result.

Passes Without Struggle.

A little after nine, however, one of the physicians came into the room where members of the family and friends were waiting and summoned them to the bedside. In about five minutes Col. Andrews passed away, death coming without a struggle.

News of the death of the well known railroad man and citizen of Raleigh and the State caused a profound impression. For many years his portly form had been a familiar figure and the open carriage drawn by the white horses was one of the show sights of the town. Everybody knew Col. Andrews and a great many felt a sense of personal loss when it was known that death had claimed him.

Funeral Probably Monday.

Arrangements for the funeral had not been completed last night. It is probably, however, that the obsequies will not take place until Monday afternoon. Prominent officials of the Southern and other railroads will be in attendance.

Col. Andrews married Miss Julia M. Johnson, daughter of Col. William J. Johnson, of Charlotte, September 1, 1869. Mrs. Andrews and five children survive, the children being Messrs. W. J. Andrews, A. B. Andrews, Jr., John H. Andrews and Graham Andrews, of Raleigh, and Mrs. W. M. Marks, of Montgomery, Ala. All of the children were present when the end came with the exception of Mrs. Marks, who is expected to arrive on the noon train today. There are also three sisters and a brother—Mrs. Thomas H. Houghton, of Charlotte, Mrs. W. J. Roberts, of Henderson; Mrs. John Wilder Atkinson, of Wilmington, and Mr. Phil H. Andrews of Raleigh. He also is survived by an uncle, Dr. A. B. Hawkins, of Raleigh.

Col. Andrews was an uncle of our townsman, Mr. A. A. Clifton, and had many relatives and friends in Franklin county, who will learn of his death with much regret.

In speaking of Col. Andrews the News and Observer said editorially: "Approaching seventy-four years of age, his health such as seemingly to promise many more years of life, there came at an early hour last night the sudden summons to cross the river to Col. Alexander Boyd Andrews, a man whose life has been identified with the progress of North Carolina, a man whose sudden taking off will come as a shock to a great host of friends.

"Born in Franklin county in 1841, entering the Confederate army at the outbreak of the War between the States returning from it with the rank of captain and with wounds received on the field of battle, he entered into the railroad work and became a factor in the railroad and banking life of the State. First with the Raleigh and Gaston Railway as superintendent, he rose from official position to official position and in 1895 became the first vice-president of the Southern Railway, a position which he has held since. In the organization of the present Citizens National Bank in 1871 he became a director and has been its vice-president since 1890.

"Col. Andrews was perhaps first among the constructive captains of industry in North Carolina, his part as leader of the movement which caused the building of the Western North Carolina Railroad being such as to give opportunity for development to the great West of this State. He was deeply interested in education and as a member of the executive committee of the University of North Carolina he rendered service to his State. A Confederate veteran, he kept close to his heart the men of the gray, and was a director of the Confederate Soldier's Home. President of many railroads connected with the Southern and interested in many other enterprises in the State, he was a citizen whose life has been one of service in the State's upbuilding.

"Col. Andrews was a man who loved his home, and the circle at his fireside was one of cheer, broken now by the passing away of the one who was its guiding spirit. As boy and man, as citizen and soldier, as railroad builder and as factor in business life, as husband and father, he had established high place in North Carolina. His going away will bring grief to many, and the deepest sympathy of a host of friends goes out to the home that is bereft in his death."

Missionary Meeting.

The Woman's Missionary Society met in the reception room of the Methodist church Monday afternoon for their monthly literary meeting. In the absence of the president, the service was conducted by Mrs. J. A. Turner. After the devotional exercises, an interesting program was given on "China," and "The Cities."

Mrs. Hodges gave two splendid selections on China and Mrs. W. E. White, a most helpful and instructive reading on "The Cities our Opportunity." Mrs. S. J. Parham presented Christian Stewardship, in a forceful, and heart-reaching selection, and the general discussion which followed showed how our women were becoming deeply interested in this feature of our work.

Mrs. Turner gave in a few words the greatest need of each foreign mission field followed by a prayer that our Father would send each country its great desire, and a determination on our part to do all in our power by gifts and prayer to relieve these needs. At the conclusion of the program, a few business items came up, and were settled. Because of a vacancy it was necessary to elect a 2nd Vice-president to take charge of the children's work.

Mrs. Ernest Furgurson was unanimously elected. A new book for the Study Circle work was selected, and by general consent, "The Child in the Midst" was decided on. Our study circle which meets twice each month at the home of some member has proven possibly our most helpful and popular department. Great interest is shown by the large attendance at these meetings, and the earnest way our women are studying the books.

Bunn High School Commencement.

We are requested to state that the Bunn High School Commencement will begin on Tuesday night, April 27th, 1915. The grades below the High school will give their performances at this time.

On Wednesday morning, April 28th, at 11 o'clock the address will take place. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock a debate between the boys of the Hawthorn Society will be the occasion of interest. And on Wednesday evening an operetta will be given by the Music class. This will bring the exercises to a close.

A. & M. Glee Club and Minstrels Next Tuesday Night.

We are requested to state that arrangements have been perfected whereby the A. & M. College Glee Club and minstrels of Raleigh, will give an entertainment in the Opera House here next Tuesday night. The entertainment will be given in the interest and for the benefit of the local Civic League and a large crowd will be expected to attend.

This Club is well organized and has many interesting features besides the music which is of an especially high class. Seats now on sale at Aycock Drug store.

Patmont Again.

Newark, N. J.—Mrs. Louis R. Patmont, wife of "Rev." Patmont who was arrested here last week charged with setting fire to a church, according to the News of this city, confessed to the following points; that Patmont is not a minister; that he was not kidnaped and confined in a deserted building near Danville, Ill., that he confessed to her that he set fire to their Newton street home; that it was her money that educated him; that he told her he paid $10 for the right to use "Reverend" and that he told her never to write him unless she could send money. She said that he had never been persecuted by any "mysterious," "invisible" or other interests and that he dearly loved publicity of any sort.

Germany swears by everything holy that she will never sue for peace. And the allies swear a little harder and louder that they will never take the initiative in favor of a suspension of hostilities, and that the Kaiser must crook the knee. So, there you are—sick 'em!

"CLEANING UP" WEEK

BEGINS MONDAY, APRIL 26th, 1915.

Every Person in Town is Expected to Take Pride Enough in Their Premises to Clean Them Up During This Week.

The Ladies' of the Civic League of Louisville have set apart next week as clean up week for Louisville and they earnestly ask all property owners or occupants to co-operate with them towards the end of making Louisville a cleaner, healthier and more beautiful town. They will be assisted in this movement by the County Health officer and the town officials. Arrangements have been made for each person to place their trash on the street and the town will have it hauled off. You are requested to keep the trash separated from tin cans, bottles, etc., as they will be hauled to different places. Let everybody take part and make this a most successful week.

The health officer advises the generous use of lime on the premises after cleaning them up.

Franklin County Baraca-Philathea Union.

The Franklin county Baraca-Philathea Union will hold its second meeting with the Baraca-Philathea classes in Franklinton on Saturday evening and Sunday May 1st, and 2nd.

Every class in Franklin county is expected to have two delegates who will be met at the Baptist church in Franklinton Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock where they will be assigned homes with the good people of the town.

This Union was organized a year ago by Miss Flossie A. Byrd at a meeting held at Bunn for that purpose, and since its organization the Union has gone far beyond what was expected and it promises to be one of the biggest Unions in North Carolina.

Franklinton is a progressive town and it is the home of a number of the best citizens in the county, which guarantee this to be a meeting of vital importance to the Franklin county Baraca-Philathea movement.

The committee is working faithfully on the splendid program which will be published next week.

We hope to have the pleasure of giving to every loyal Baraca and Philathea in the bounds of this Union a friendly hand-shake at Franklinton on Sunday morning of this meeting.

Everybody wants to go to heaven, but the young buck who spends his time making "racy" remarks about women will find it a long and rocky road to travel.

MAYOR JAMES A. TURNER. Who was nominated to succeed himself as Mayor of Louisville Tuesday.

through the day which was possibly increased by the use of the ticket containing the names of all nine Candidates, and the presence of so many folded tickets, due to the fact that all the Candidates were good men and no one wanted to scratch any particular man, made it impossible for any one to forecast the result. Even when the count was more than half over there was nothing certain as to what the final result would be. However the vote stood as follows: Hodge A. Newell 205, Benjamin N. Williamson 198, Brantley G. Hicks 192, George W. Ford 190, Frank W. Wheelers 189, James M. Allen 187, Malcolm McKinnie 161, T. Wayland Watson 140, Arthur Hynes Fleming 100. It will be noticed that Dr. H. A. Newell lead the ticket for Commissioners with Williamson a close second. The three last named were the new Candidates and each made a splendid run and even the result might have been different if the Mayorality fight had been pursued.

The old administration has been doing a good work for the town and is composed of men who will continue the same or better. However the new ones seeking a position on the Board would have made splendid officials and would have looked after the town's affairs in a business like manner, as they were among our most popular and leading citizens.

ON THE DIAMOND

To Play Wakelon High School Monday.

Quite a little interest is being manifested in baseball in Louisville, and the local fans may feel sure that they will be well paid for the time they spend in encouraging the boys as they are improving with every game and will no doubt develop into a team that will fear none and play any in a short while, as the greatest need at present is team work.

The game on last Thursday evening between Louisville and Wake Forest was a splendid one and up until the seventh inning was equal to a professional game, as until this time there had been only three scores made by the visitors and two by the local team. At this time, however, our boys became discouraged at several costly errors, due entirely to lack of such practice as would cause the boys to play together, and the game went to pieces. The score at the wind-up stood 15 to 3 in favor of the visitors. Herndon and Taylor for the visitors did some good work and received splendid support from the entire team, while Allen and Weaver for the home team did splendid work, but owing to the lack of team practice failed to get the necessary support. It was easily seen that if our boys had been in good team practice they would have been fully equal, if not more so, to their opponents and would have made them play for the game or not gotten it.

With Franklinton.

Monday afternoon the local baseball team won against Franklinton by a score of 9 to 3. Since the game with Wake Forest the players have been
