"Prevent Pellagra."
Mr. Editor:
In the last issue of the "Franklin Times" we called attention to the alarming increase of the above disease in our county and also to the fact that our county commissioners has instructed me as county health physician to look into the matter in order to find out extent of its spread and existence and to see if something could not be done to checkmate it. Since beginning the work of investigation of the subject we feel more strongly the importance of work along these lines for the terrible disease in all of its horrible aspects and direful results is with us in force of numbers and dangerously on the increase. We have left no stone turned in our efforts to locate the communities where it is most prevalent and to do all that we could to instruct and inform the people in so far as we were able of its presence, its gravity and what results if something isn't done to try to prevent it.
After visiting the district or communities where it is most prevalent and talked to and with the people in private and in public, we feel that some good has been accomplished by arousing an interest about the matter and getting the people to report all cases which they know of and at the same time getting all the knowledge and information they have on the subject. By these visits we have been enabled to obtain a better and wider insight as to its history in our county, its first appearance, its effects and its results. As stated before from what we can learn there are strong grounds for hope that the bothersome disease can be prevented and this is the principle duty and work of the County Health Officer—to find out how it can be prevented. Our duty and object is to prevent, if we can, all diseases (that are preventable) and not wait to try and cure them. Without consuming any more of your time or space we will simply state for the present that after visiting other people and communities we will in a future issue of your "goodly Times" sum-up and give all of this history, figures, data and work done along the line of investigation of Pellagra in the county. We promised those we have met and others who had the disease that we would give them in this paper all that we had learned about the prevention of this disease. We believe that the consensus of opinion lay and medical, is that the disease is preventable and curable that it is non-contagious and non-infectious that it is caused by the kind of diet or food you eat (some think to a certain extent mental as well as material food).
They claim that a person who lives on a well mixed, well balanced diet of the following food stuffs will not have Pellagra. Plenty of fresh milk (butter or sweet milk) eggs, fresh lean meat, beans, peas and soups of the last two, plenty of good water between meals both inside and out, chew your food well, get all the pleasant mental recreation and diversion you can, get all the fun out of life that you can, don't think about it, talk about it or look at it any more than you can help and you will miss having Pellagra.

A Textile Education is a valuable asset to a young man. During the past year graduates of the Textile Department of the A. & M. College, Raleigh have been appointed to responsible finishing in a mill in Mass. Making fancy goods; Efficiency Engineer in Engineering firm, fabric designer in mill Assistant superintendent in yarn mill; superintendent in yarn mill; Mill Inspector for Federal Horticultural Board.

This Textile Department is the Textile school of North Carolina and to make this school representative of the State and thoroughly up to date, the equipment will be considerably increased during the year by the addition of dyeing machinery; knitting machinery; plain and fancy looms, combining machines for the manufacture of fine yarns.

The addition of this machinery will make this Textile school one of the best equipped in America for instruction in cotton manufacturing.

The faculty of the Textile Department has been added to by the appointment of Mr. Henry K. Dick as instructor in carding, spinning and five years been instructor in these subjects at the Lowell Textile school.

Mr. Hayes for Congress.
Pittsboro, N. C.
August 3rd, 1915.

Dear Mr. Editor:-
Mr. Hayes of Pittsboro, Chatham county's leading lawyer and orator, after giving the most careful consideration to the urging of his legion of friends has at last decided to make the race for Congress against E. W.
Pou in the Fourth district.

Your correspondent found Mr.
Hayes looking as fit as an athlete—he having just returned from a vacation spent in the mountains of western North Carolina, he looks a well man.
His complexion is ruddy and his manner is brisk and active. The state of his health has been the one thing that has kept him from announcing his candidacy before now.

Mr. Hayes is a man of the people and one whom the humblest citizen can approach with ease and comfort, he is as plain as an "old shoe" to use an old expression and he can mix with the cottager or the King and each will feel that he is in the presence of an equal.

Mr. Hayes declares he is in the fight to win and his friends believe he will. Those who know him most intimately say he will neither ask nor give any quarter and will carry the battle to the enemies last trench. As a stump speaker and orator he is hardly excelled by any man in the State, while his genial personality will draw thousands of democrats to his standard. His entrance into the fight spells the doom of Mr. Pou.

Hayes democracy is of old fashion rock ribbed variety, the kind of a democracy that thinks nothing too good for his democratic friends, he will lie awake nights if it becomes necessary looking after their interest. When he gets to Washington republican office holders in the Fourth District will not long enjoy the patronage that democrats are entitled to and which the present incumbent seems to be entirely indifferent to.

In a previous communication the writer named three men who in his judgment could easily defeat Pou—Hayes, Winston and Baily were the men named. Winston dropped out of the contest very quietly a short time ago without any apparent reason or effort. Baily sold his "birthright for a mess of pottage"—when he named his man for the postoffice at Raleigh, A. C. Zollicoffer of Vance was seriously considering making the race two years ago but for some reason, he got out and it is very doubtful whether he will give the matter any further consideration. Norris of Raleigh has ambitions along congressional lines but so far he has imitated the Oyster perfectly in silence.

With the fight between Pou and Hayes anybody with ordinary intelligence can pick the winner. Hayes will have Chatham solid. He will get more than forty percent in Wake and will carry Franklin by a good majority over Pou. He will beat Pou in Vance. He will get forty to fifty percent of Nash and will have a considerable vote in Johnson, Pou's own county.

Mr. Hayes is well known over the State and the Fourth District and he has also had considerable legislative and parliamentary experience—he having represented his county several times in the legislature. He has also been closely identified with the political affairs of his county and State for many years. At one time he was prominently mentioned for speaker, but he was beaten by a frameup of his opponents.

At last the opponents of Pou see in Hayes a man whom they can gladly support and one who is in every sense a worthy and deserving democrat.
One who has stood true to the principles of his party and fought for them in season and out of season. Here is doffing our hat to the next congressman from the Fourth, Hayes of Chatham.

A Surprise Birthday Dinner.
Sunday August the 15th marks one of the happiest days to children and grandchildren ever spent at Mr. J. L.
Bowden's.

The children all wishing to give Grandpa a surprise and also make it a happy day for him planned a family reunion on his birthday, so promptly at eleven o'clock the children with well filled baskets and grandchildren bubbling over with fun at the unexpected in store for grandpa and grandma arrived, each one surprised to see the other.

Grandma not expecting anyone had not prepared dinner for anyone except the family, was worried a great deal over not knowing we were coming. After teasing her for a while she was asked to have a seat on the front porch and told her not to worry that we would prepare dinner ourselves.

We found an old cast-away bedstead out in the yard; over these we spread the cloths we had brought in our baskets and used them for our table. Then the baskets were brought cut and all the good something to eat such as vegetables, meats, pickles, cakes, pies, custards, milk, etc., were put upon the table.

When all was prepared and blessing was asked, everybody was invited to help themselves, which they did to the best of their ability. Grandpa remarked while eating dinner that he was sixty-nine years old that day, but he never remembered of eating from a bedstead before, or pretaking of a better dinner.

The crowd numbered thirty-eight.
Those present were: Messrs. L. W. and H. C. Bowden, from Raleigh, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cooper and family, Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Perry and family from Louisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Earp and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hayes and Despondency Due to Investigation.

"About three months ago when I was suffering from indigestion which caused headache and dizzy spells and made me feel tired and despondent, I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets," writes Mrs. Geo. Hon. Macedon, N. Y.
"This medicine proved to be the very thing I needed, as one day's treatment relieved me greatly. I used two bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and they rid me of the trouble." OB-TAINABLE EVERYWHERE.

Death of Dr. K. M. Clark.
After an illness of about five days, Dr. K. M. Clark one of the most beloved and most useful men of this community died in Richmond August the 10th where he had been taken for treatment. He was accompanied to Richmond by his only sister and Mr.
Richard Hawkins a cousin, who remained with him until the end came.
All was done that loving hands could do. Of the immediate family Dr.
Clark is survived by one sister Miss Marina T. Clark, of Kittrell and one brother, Dr. M. H. Clark, of Wilmington. For about twenty years his home was a home for several of his cousins who in his death feel that they have lost their dearest friend. It seemed to be almost more than they could bear when they received the sad message, he had passed away. It has cast a gloom over the entire community in which he spent almost his entire professional life in relieving the suffering and doing good in so many ways. We have lost one of our best doctors and one of our best neighbors. He was always ready to help everybody who called on him in any way he could—no one can fill his place. The remains were brought to his home in the Bobbitt community the day of his death, and on the day following was taken to Plank Chapel, where the interment was made in the cemetery near the church. The burial services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Beaman, among a large crowd of sorrowing friends.

The family has the sympathy of the entire community. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Robert Kittrell, Prof.
Gill, Lowell Rogers, Bennie Rowland, Charley Pace, and Wyatt Pace. Truly a good man has passed away.
