them come off with "Gets-It." It just loosens the corn from the true flesh, easily, and then makes it come "clean off." 48 hours ends corns for keeps. It makes the use of tape, corn-removing bandages, irritating salves, knives, scissors, and razors really look ridiculous. Get rid of those corns quickly, surely, painlessly—just easily—with "Gets-It." For warts and bunions, too. It's the 20th century way.

BOOKER WASHINGTON OF TUSKEGEE DEAD.

Noted Negro Leader and Educator
Hurried From North Last Week to Die at Home.

Tuskegee, Ala., Nov. 14.—Booker T. Washington, the noted negro educator and founder of Tuskegee Institute, died at his home here early today four hours after his arrival from New York. Death was due to hardening of the arteries following a nervous breakdown.

The negro leader had been in failing health for several months, but his condition became serious only last week while he was in the East. He realized the end was near, but was determined to make the long trip South to bear out his oft-expressed statement that he had been born in the South and lived to die and be buried in the South.

Accompanied by his wife, his secretary and a physician, Washington left New York for Tuskegee Friday. He reached his home last midnight.

Specialists who had examined Washington said he was suffering from nervous breakdown and hardening of the arteries. His last public appearance was at the National conference of congregational churches, where he delivered a lecture October 25.

Washington is survived by his wife, three children and four grandchildren. His brother, John H. Washington, is superintendent of industries at Tuskegee Institute.

The funeral will be held at Tuskegee Institute Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Washington was born in slavery near Hale's Ford, Va., in 1857 or 1858. After the emancipation of his race he moved with his family to West Virginia. He was an ambitious boy and saved his money for an education. When he was able to scrape together sufficient funds to pay his stage coach fare to Hampton, Va., he entered General Armstrong's School for Negroes there and worked his way through an academic course, graduating in 1875. Later he became a teacher in the Hampton Institute where he remained until 1881 when he organized an industrial school for negroes at Tuskegee. He remained principal of this school up to the time of his death.

Washington won the sympathy and support of leading Southerners by a speech in behalf of his race at the Cotton States Exposition in Atlanta in 1895. Of undoubted ability and breadth of vision, his sane leadership enabled him to accomplish more for and among the negroes of the United States than any negro of his time.

In addition to his prominence as an educator, Washington gained considerable fame as an author. He received an honorary degree of Master of Arts from Harvard University in 1896 and was given an honorary degree of doctor of laws by Dartmouth College in 1901.

FAT AND FORTY.

A Few Hints for "Stout" People.

Getting fat means that there is, physically speaking either an excessive income or a deficient out-go or both. From this the remedy would appear simple. Theoretically it would be either to limit the income of fat producing foods or, once they are eaten, burn them up and get rid of them or both, and presto, the change is made. In practice, however, after certain habits of eating and living have been indulged in for 30 or 40 years, it is not always the easiest thing in the world to form new habits. Only those with abundance of will power will succeed. Jelly fish, with jelly fish backbone and jelly fish determinations, will usually go on resembling more and more the proverbial jelly fish or sack of meal in figure. Little hope for them.

For those who mean business, however, there is much hope. Much can be accomplished and much more prevented by observing the following suggestions: Drink three glasses of hot water, to which has been added half a lemon, half an hour before breakfast. For breakfast, indulge sparingly in baked apples, stewed prunes, or similar fruit, omitting cereals, sugar and cream. Let dinner consist very largely of salads and vegetables, such as lettuce, tomatoes, turnips, cabbage, greens, spinach, celery, etc. Let supper consist largely of the same things, being careful to avoid cakes, sweets, mushes, bread, especially fresh bread, or soggy biscuits. Hard toast or graham wheat bread may be tolerated in small amounts.

For the best results it is highly essential that bulky, rather than nourishing, foods and laxative, rather than constipating, foods be eaten. The bowels should move freely once a day, although twice a day is much better.

By all means live, work and sleep in the open air. Burn up all excess avoidrups possible by breathing exercises, by walking, and by exercising rather severely every day. Get up "a good sweat" every day. Avoid a sluggish, idlent, indifferent life and disposition. Be active mentally and physically. In other words, keep busy.

VIENNA OFFICIALLY DECLARES SHELLS NECESSARY TO STOP FLEEING VESSEL.

Crew Saved Themselves Instead of Passengers, Says Statement; 45 Minutes Given Those Abroad to Take To Boats; Liner Sunk After An Hour.

Berlin, Nov. 14. (by wireless to Sayville).—The Austro-Hungarian Admiralty today officially announced that the Italian steamship Ancona attempted to escape after a warning shot had been fired across her bow and that she only stopped after being shelled several times by an Austrian submarine, says the Overseas News Agency.

The submarine commander, it is further ascertained, allowed the Ancona's passengers and crew 45 minutes to abandon the ship, after which the vessel was torpedoed. The report that the submarine fired on the life boats is denied.

The statement, issued by the Austro-Hungarian admiralty after declaring that the foreign press had spread false rumors regarding the Ancona incident, says the sinking took place as follows:
"The submarine fired one shot in

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare it forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years.

To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is a food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. No alcohol in Scott's.
