DR. THOMAS J. DEAN

While in Apparently Good Health He Enters Cafe, Suddenly Stricken and Death Follows Within a Very Short Time.

Dr. Thomas J. Dean, a prominent physician of Nashville, died somewhat suddenly and under very distressing circumstances in Rocky Mount last Saturday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock, and the news of his death has cast a deep gloom over Nashville and the entire county.

Dr. Dean left Nashville about noon in seemingly perfect health and went over to Rocky Mount on business. During the day he was seen moving about the streets of Rocky Mount and conversing with friends in his usual affable manner. Leaving his automobile at a local garage he started for the depot to return on the afternoon train. After speaking to Mr. Burroughs, the Nash county farm demonstration agent, in front of the Ricks Hotel Cafe, Dr. Dean turned into the cafe and ordered a lunch. Suddenly he was stricken and sank to the floor, and the manager, thinking the Doctor was under the influence of whiskey, summoned a policeman to remove him. Policeman Davis responded and with the aid of others placed Dr. Dean in an automobile and was in the act of taking him to police headquarters. The commotion around the car attracted the attention of the editor of The Graphic, who was standing under the railroad shed preparing to return to Nashville on the afternoon train. Hearing someone remark that it was a "Nashville man," Mr. Lincke hastened to the car and upon seeing it was Dr. Dean, advised that he be taken at once to a hospital just as the car swept by on its down-town tour. Rushing into the ticket office of the A. C. L. Mr. Lincke immediately got in touch with Chief of Police Hedgepeth and informed him that Dr. Dean was subject to somewhat peculiar attacks and urged upon the Chief that in the event the unfortunate man should be brought to police headquarters to rush him to a hospital that he (Mr. Lincke) was compelled to return to Nashville to fill an important business engagement would notify the Doctor's people and return on the next train. For this notice Chief Hedgepeth thanked Mr. Lincke and assured him that, every attention would be given the stricken man and immediately got busy summoning the city health officer, who responded in a few minutes and with the aid of Dr. Quillen, tried to revive the unfortunate man, but without avail and in a short time he was dead.

It is stated that an investigation later showed that Dr. Dean had apparently taken a heavy dose of bromide preparation and this in conjunction with some heart trouble, was the cause of his death. In a short while after reaching Nashville Mr. Lincke in company with Mr. S. S. Gay, father-in-law of Dr. Dean, and Mr. B. G. Alford, and several other friends were on their way back to Rocky Mount in automobiles to look after the corpse and prepare the body for return to Nashville. The funeral services were held from his late home Sunday afternoon by Rev. J. W. Autry, pastor of Nashville Methodist church, after which the ceremonies were held under the auspices of Nashville Council J. R. O. U. A. M., and members of the W. O. W., of Tar River Camp, of Nashville and Rocky Mount, the number in attendance being more than a hundred and fifty, while the crowd in attendance was variously estimated at from seven hundred to one thousand people. The following gentlemen acted as honorary pull bearers: Dr. Jas. P. Battle, Dr. J. T. Strickland, Dr. J. A. Speight, Dr. R. A. Winstead, of Nashville; Dr. D. R. Dixon, Dr. J. L. Lane, Dr. L. W. Cornegay, of Rocky Mount. The pall bearers were Messrs. N. C. Warren, John J. Jones, Thos. R. Harper, B. B. Whitaker, John H. Griffin and Jus. D. Price. The floral tributes were beautiful and came from hundreds of sympathizing friends as tokens of esteem. The interment was made in Forest Hill Cemetery, the rites of the Junior Order being conducted by Messrs. L. T. Vaughan and M. W. Lincke, of Nashville Council, and Messrs. B. F. Proctor and J. W. Council, for the W. O. W.

Dr. Thomas J. Dean was about twenty-six years old and was born in Franklin county. He was a son of Mr. W. T. Dean and is survived by three sisters. After securing his license to practice medicine he first located at Castalia and later came to Nashville where he has had a lucrative practice. He married Miss Lillie Gay, daughter of former county treasurer, Mr. S. S. Gay, now postmaster at Nashville. One little daughter also survives in the deeply saddened and broken home, and to all these the genuine sympathies of the people is extended.—Nashville Graphic.

Has Used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for 20 Years

"Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in my household for the past twenty years. I began giving it to my children when they were small. As a quick relief for croup, whooping cough, and ordinary colds, it has no equal. Being free from opium and other harmful drugs, I never felt afraid to give it to the children. I have recommended it to a large number of friends and neighbors, who have used it and speak highly of it." writes Mrs. Mary Miniket, Shortsville, N. Y. OBTAINABLE EVERYWHERE.

COLDS NEED ATTENTION

Internal throat and chest troubles produce inflammation, irritation, swelling or soreness and unless checked at once are likely to lead to serious trouble. Caught in time Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey loosens the phlegm and destroys the germs which have settled in the throat or nose. It is soothing and healing. Pine is antiseptic; honey is soothing—both together possess excellent medicinal qualities for fighting cold germs. Insist on Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. 25c. All Druggists.
