The electors met in Raleigh on last Tuesday morning and cast the vote for President. Mr. D. E. Henderson, of New Berne, was made messenger to take the vote to Washington.

Senator W. M. Person has introduced a bill to abolish the crop lien law of North Carolina. This is a good move and our Senator is to be congratulated. The crop lien system is a means that makes it possible for both farmer and merchant to take great risks, which often results in loss to both.

The United States Supreme Court on Monday gave out a sweeping decision upholding the Webb-Kenyon bill, which makes it unlawful for whiskey to be shipped from one state to another where there is a State law against such shipment. Prohibitionists consider this action second in importance, so their cause, to the proposed Constitutional amendment.

The Raleigh Daily Times of Tuesday in an editorial took notice of Gov. Craigs inconsistency in refusing to pay Judge Bond for holding the term of Court at Kinston in connection with the lynching trouble, without special authority from the General Assembly and at the same time paying out the money to the State convict families without such a warrant. It closes by suggesting that the Legislature have the former Governor reimburse the State in that amount from his personal funds.

Representative Newell has had a bill passed in the House providing that an auditor may be appointed for Franklin County immediately at a salary not to exceed $1,200.00 per year. The same bill also provides for the discontinuance of the Clerk for the Clerk of the Courts office, and the nine deputies to be appointed by the Sheriff outside Louisburg township, and also places the salary of the Clerk of the Court at $2,000.00 per year. In another bill, by request of the County Commissioners he will try to have the tax listing system changed back to the old plan in use six or eight years ago. He has also introduced several special road bills for several of our townships.

Popes Items.

On Wednesday Dec. 20th the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Conyers and took therefrom their beloved son Lee. He came home about six months ago from Philadelphia, where he served six years in the Navy. He came home in feeble health and never recovered. He was 26 years old and was an industrious and intelligent young man and was liked by all who knew him. The burial service was held at home by Revs. Harrell and Buffalo, of Franklinton. The remains were laid to rest in the old family burying ground.

Miss Ida Fuller, of Durham, and Miss Maude Fuller, of Raleigh, came home Christmas to visit their people. Their many friends were glad to see them.

Miss Nannie Frazier, of Harris, and Miss Helen Frazier, of Katesville, visited Miss Rosa Pergerson Christmas. Miss Mit Conyers spent Christmas week with her brother, Mr. R. L. Conyers.

Mr. Henry Upchurch, of Norfolk, spent the holidays here with his relatives.

Mr. Thad Haswell and family, of Smithfield, spent the holidays with friends and relatives at Popes.

I don't believe in telling stories in the Popes Items but this is what one reliable lady told me last week. Mrs. M. J. Dent states that she has a hen that has laid 92 eggs since the 13th of September, or in about 105 days, and is laying now every day.

Mr. W. A. Cooke is one of the champion hog raisers of Popes. He killed six that made 2114, five weighed 1500, one weighed 614. A great many large hogs have been made into pork this winter up here.

Well Santa came this time in all of his glory and every heart has been made glad. But I think he must have forgotten the jugs as I have not seen a person boozey this Xmas.

It has occurred to us that a newspaper is much like a public school. Not one patron in twenty visits the school once a year, yet most of them are always ready to criticize it. The same is true with the newspaper. If every person in town would drop into the office once a week or in some other way tell us the news items they know, what a newspaper we should have!

If your eyes Depend on glasses We have the glasses Your eyes can depend on.

When Croup Comes, Treat Externally

The old method of dosing delicate little stomachs with nauseous drugs is wrong and harmful. Try the external treatment. Wick's "Vap-O-Bub" Salve. Just rub a little over the throat and chest. The vapors, released by the body heat, loosen the phlegm, soothe and ease the difficult breathing, and produce a refreshing sound sleep. 25c, 50c, or $1.00.
