Markets, The Farmer's Need.

Raleigh, June 11.—If the present aggressive campaign for a largely increased acreage and production of food and feedstuffs in North Carolina is to have the permanent success it deserves and that is demanded by the exigencies of the situation the farmers of the State must have adequate markets for corn, small grain, beans, hay and hogs—markets that are on a par with the cotton and tobacco markets. The burden and responsibility of providing these markets is upon the shoulders of the business men of the cities and towns of the State. This is a part of their "bit" in the campaign which is intended to make the South feed itself. These are the conclusions of members of the North Carolina Food Conservation Commission and other experts and leaders here who have carefully analyzed the situation in its many phases.

Acting upon these conclusions, Executive Secretary John Paul Lucas of the Commission has written to the boards of trade, chambers of commerce, merchants' associations and other commercial bodies in the State urging them to give consideration to the matter of proper markets in their respective localities without delay. The situation in North Carolina with regard to markets is described and the importance of these markets stressed by Mr. Lucas, who, in the course of his letter, says:

North Carolina is woefully lacking in the matter of established markets for corn, small grains, hay, peas, beans, etc. The absence of these markets has held back to a greater extent than most of us realize the movement for diversified farming and the producing at home of all of these products that we consume. We cannot expect our farmers to produce crops that they cannot sell readily and at such a price as the buyer would have to pay for the same product imported from the West. It is a notorious fact that in the vast majority of cities and towns in this State the merchants have been prone to take advantage to the utmost of the absence of such markets, refusing to pay anything like a fair price for products and thus, unintentionally, holding back the agricultural progress and prosperity of their county and State. This is shortsighted policy. If our merchants will offer the farmer a just and equitable price for his corn, small grain, hay and other crops we shall see wonderful development of our agricultural industry and increased prosperity not only for our rural districts but for our cities and towns as well, for it is more and more clearly demonstrated that even our largest cities are largely dependent for their prosperity and development upon the farming districts.

This matter of markets demands careful and mature consideration. For best results, the merchant purchasing the products in question should have facilities for shelling corn, grading corn, wheat, oats and other small grain and for the proper handling of other products. With a large warehouse, bonded in proper form, the financing of a huge amount of products becomes a comparatively easy matter as the National Banks loan on warehouse certificate for any staple products.

Our merchants should be willing to give to the home farmer the same price for corn or any other products delivered at his warehouse that he is compelled to pay for the same grade of the Western products. And this year, he is not going to be able to get much of the Western products. The farmer should find it just as easy to get a fair and stable price for his corn, small grain, hay, etc., as he does for his cotton or tobacco, and our State is not going to prosper as it should until he does.

It is none too early to begin working upon the marketing proposition and I am sending you this reminder so that you will have ample time to see that your city and community is not without a proper market when it is needed. I will appreciate it if you will keep this office informed as to any plans you may formulate and any progress you make along this line. Any service which we may be able to render will be offered gladly.

Yours in the interest of greater North Carolina, raising its own food and feedstuffs and prospering because it does.

Necessary.

"I do not understand why you wish to sell such a valuable lot when the price is bound to increase," said his adviser.

"Ah, but it is absolutely necessary. I'll have to apply the money as a partial payment on my wife's new shoes."

Happy Fellows.

"These restaurant proprietors must be happy men," said Henpeck, glancing at a sign on the wall.

"Why so?" asked the only friend his wife would let him have.

"Look at that," responded the down-trodden one, pointing to a sign which read, "Not responsible for hats, other apparel or valuables."

Bowel Complaints in India.

In a lecture at one of the Des Moines Iowa, churches a missionary from India told of going into the interior of India, where he was taken sick, that he had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him and believed that it saved his life. This remedy is used successfully in India both as a preventive and cure for cholera. You may know from facts that it can be depended upon for the milder forms of bowel complaint that occur in this country. OBTAINABLE EVERYWHERE.

A Drawback.

"Can't be done."

"Why not?"

"Because every man in the club will want to take the negativeside."

She Couldn't Have It.

A small boy who was sitting next to a very haughty woman in a crowded car kept sniffing in a most annoying manner. At last the lady could bear it no longer and turned to the lad. "Boy have you got a handkerchief?" she demanded.

The small boy looked at her for a few seconds, and then, in a dignified tone, came the answer: "es, I ave but I don't lend it to strangers."—London Chronicle.

MOTHER! YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, FROM CONSTIPATION

If Tongue is Coated, Breath Bad, Stomach Sour, Clean Liver and Bowels.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated, poisoned, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs;" then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."
