MRS. NEAL HOSTESS

Mrs. W. P. Neal was at home from five until seven o'clock Wednesday afternoon, July 31st, to the ladies of Louisburg, in honor to Mrs. T. W. Bickett and Mrs. R. F. Yarbrough.

The halls and parlors were beautifully decorated with ferns and daisies. The dining room, where a delicious ice course was served, was brilliant with masses of golden glow. The soft strains of music particularly the vocal quartette, by Mesdames E. S. Ford, A. H. Fleming, W. E. White and Miss Sallie Williams, added greatly to the spirit of the occasion.

Mrs. Bickett's home town people, who feel proud to send her "over there" in the beautiful mission of the Y. W. C. A., were glad of the opportunity to have a parting word with her, and to bid her God-speed.

To Mrs. Yarbrough who has won the love and admiration of our people and who is leaving on account of Dr. Yarbrough's entering the service, they were loath to say good-bye.

Bolshevik Execute Russian Grand Dukes

Paris Aug. 4.—Three Russian Grand Dukes, one of whom seems to be Nicholas Nicholavitch, former Commander-in-chief of the Russian Armies, have been executed by the Bolsheviks, according to Moscow advices to the Bayerische Zeitung of Munich.

Former Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholavitch was reported June 3, 1917, to have been arrested at Tiflis and early in the present year his death was reported in German newspapers. These reports, however, were not confirmed and were later denied by reports from Russia. The former Grand Duke was reported to have been arrested at Moscow July 14. Late in July an Amsterdam dispatch stated that four Grand Dukes had been seized at Peterburg by members of an unidentified band. The names of these were Constantynovitch and Serge Micholavitch.

Left Banks of Germans Between Rheims and Soissons

Paris, Aug. 4.—(Battle Front, 4:20 P. M.)—Both banks of the German army between Rheims and Soissons appear to have been turned. The Germans have forced a crossing of the Vesle at Rheims.

German reinforcements are reported entering in the Soissons sector from the north. The Allies continue their advance, according to latest reports, although it is held within prudent limits. The Allied left wing has moved faster than the right and further progress in the Soissons region might expose it to a counter attack from the enemy.

Germany Retreat Five Miles On Left Bank of the Vesle. WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 4.—The Germans are retreating on the left bank of the Vesle river between Bouzies and Braches, northwest of Montdidier, on a front of five miles in extent. Allied patrols are keeping in contact with the enemy.

French Force Four Crossings of Vesle River. LONDON, Aug. 4.—The Germans are retreating to the north bank of the Vesle and the French have effected four crossings of the river, according to reports received here tonight. The French are said to be resisting the German advance strongly near Montdidier.

French Force From Mulzon to Montdidier. THE FRENCH ARMY ON THE WESTERN FRONT, Aug. 4.—The French have taken Mulzon by the American troops, retreating by the French. The French are across the Vesle at several points to the eastward and the line has been extended northwest of Rheims to La Neuville. The Germans are resisting sharply from Mulzon to Champsigny.

Quentin

In the last two or three weeks the name of Quentin Roosevelt has sounded loudly in our ears. Beyond the prejudices born of political creeds we see in the death of this young aviator a significance which is neither modified nor emphasized by our mental attitude toward the policies which we have learned to connect inseparably with the Roosevelt name.

Democracy offers to its leaders no immunity from personal obligation for themselves or for their children, nor can any man here accept it as a perquisite of high office. The Roosevelt family is well trained in this school, and it is with pride that we point to a quality in our national make-up which we share with those other democracies on whose side we fight. The number of deputies elected to the French Chambers who have fallen in battle furnishes a roster which would be appalling were it less glorious; and the same condition exists in England, which is a republic in everything but name, with the title of King preserved as a medieval survival to be used occasionally as a rubber stamp. Two of England's ex-prime ministers have lost sons on the battlefield, and both houses of Parliament have seen among their own ranks how great a price in human life must be paid for the perpetuation of the democratic principles. But are there any gaps yet made in the family of the Potsdam depot?

The Kaiser didn't raise his oldest boy to be a soldier—only to command an army. There's a difference.

The interest of the country seems largely to center on the amendment to the agricultural bill. There is quite a distinction between a "dripping" and a "bone dry" nation.
