SUGAR SHOWED OUR BACKBONE

American Willingness to Give Up Luxury Demonstrated Nation's War Conscience.

STAND WITH THE ALLIES.

By Reducing Consumption People of the United States Averted a Famine at Home in Spite of Low Supplies.

The fact that the people of the United States were able to reduce by more than one-half million tons their July, August, September and October consumption of sugar proves conclusively that their war conscience was thoroughly awakened and that the country as a whole stood ready to follow the injunctions of the Government. Our normal consumption of sugar in the four-month period beginning with July has been 4,000,000 tons per month, a total of 16,000,000 for the quarter year.

In July, when our sugar stringency began to reach its height, consumption was reduced to 2,000,000 tons. In August only 3,250,000 tons went into distribution and in September only 2,700,000 tons. In October the distribution fell to 2,300,000 tons.

If the general public had failed to observe the injunctions of the Food Administration this country would have been in the throes of a sugar famine before the end of August. Our visible supplies were so low as to bring great anxiety to those familiar with the sugar situation. They feared that it would be absolutely impossible to reduce consumption to a point where sugar would no longer be a mere luxury in the American diet.

The recommendations of the Food Administration will stand forth so prominently as this reduced consumption of sugar. By it we have been able to bring over the period of stringency until the new beet and Louisiana cane sugar crops were in sight.

Now the nation is in a position so that if we choose we may return to our normal home use of sugar, and still keep the release of ships to go to the front in a minimum. Its recent record is a fact. If, however, those who are so inclined increase their use of sugar considerably it must be by our continued sharing with them of the burden of our own consumption.

AMERICAN SPIRIT RELIED ON TO WIN.

In the face of succeeding events it is interesting to recall the confidence with which the United States Food Administrator viewed the gloomy outlook in July of 1917, when this country had been in the war for less than four months and the Germans were still sending the "imperial front" and "neutral" to Paris.

"Although the situation in Europe is not so bright today," he declared in a public statement, "the American who has knowledge of the world's already obtained in every direction, and the plan of our government will not be defeated in these United States."

LOYALTY IN LITTLE THINGS LAST PROOF OF PATRIOTISM

As the winter murmuring cut their sugar allowance from four pounds a month to three and then as long as need be to two pounds for loyalty's sake.

Food Will Win the World.

America earned the gratitude of allied nations during war by sharing food. America under peace may win the world's good will by saving to share.
