

"I smiled and he shot me"

AFTER MONTHS and months. MY WIFE persuaded me. TO HAVE it done. SO I went arr . . . TO THE photographer. AND GOT mugged. WHEN THE pictures came. I SHOWED them to a gang. OF AMATEUR art critics. AND PROFESSIONAL crabs. DISGUISED AS friends. WHO FAVORED me. WITH SUCH remarks as. "DOESN'T HE look natural?" "HAS IT got a tail?" "A GREAT resemblance." AND THAT last one. MADE ME sore. SO WHEN friend wife. ADDED HER howl. I TRIED again.

THIS TIME they were great. FOR HERE'S what happened. THE PHOTOGRAPHER said. "LOOK THIS way, please." AND HELD up something. AS HE pushed the button. AND NO one could help. BUT LOOK pleasant. FOR WHAT he held up. WAS A nice full pack. OF THE cigarettes. THAT SATISFY.

LIGHT up a Chesterfield and sense the goodness of those fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos in that wonderful Chesterfield blend. Taste that flavor! Sniff that aroma! You'll register "They Satisfy." You can't help it.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, COLORED

Rev. S. L. Parham Resigns Pastorate Here. Has Done Effective Work for Past Four Years. Great Sorrow at His Leaving.

The Rev. S. L. Parham, for four years pastor of the First Baptist church here for the colored people, and whose work has met with unparalleled success during his ministry here, has resigned his position to take effect the first of September.

The announcement of Rev. Mr. Parham's resignation caused profound consternation in his membership, almost all of whom had learned to love him as their pastor and trust him as their true and very much tried friend and brother. However, in giving his reasons, the minister declared that a dissension among his board had greatly hampered his plans which were too far at variance with their ideas, and realizing that no one can do his best under such circumstances, he would rather leave now while so many were friendly to him, and not wearied with his sojourn.

The fact that some of the leading people of thought among the members of the church have advocated its removal from its present location, giving as their reasons the growing menace of worldly pleasures indulged in at the "fair grounds," together with the belief that the ends for which they seek could best be obtained in a neighborhood where the majority was of their own race—the fact that these barriers have arisen, the congregation has naturally been divided into pros and cons. These divisions have been watched by the pastor with no small degree of anxiety, and thinking that he saw a split coming in the distant future, he feels that he does not want it to take place in his administration.

There are those who occur in this prophetic vision; and they would be reluctant to see a membership that had worked so harmoniously together for these four years, until they had accumulated more than $4,000 to their credit in the bank, for the purpose of erecting a new and more modern edifice—then become so hopelessly divided as to completely separate themselves. They feel that Mr. Parham's efforts deserve a better lot, and are willing to work with him at all hazards.

A keen student of human nature, God has wonderfully endowed the retiring pastor with a fine personality. He is easy of approach and easily impresses one as a man of deep earnestness and profound sympathy for the unfortunate and less favored.

As a Minister of the Gospel, he is consecrated to his task, and preaches with power and eloquence, swaying his audiences with his unanswerable logic and clear interpretation of the Word. Holding degrees in theology from both Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C., and Howard University, Washington, D. C., Rev. Parham's ministry of ten years' duration has been fraught with beautiful success. For seven years he has been Moderator of the Middle Creek Association, and is the only pastor belonging to the Baptist denomination between Raleigh and Weldon, who has so elevated his work that it has made him sufficient support as to allow him to give his entire time to pastoral duties.

During the ten years of his ministry he served the following churches: Stovall Chapel, Stovall, N. C.; 2nd Baptist church, Franklinton; New Corinth, Oxford; Michaul's Creek, Stovall; Shiloh Baptist church, Henderson; First Baptist church, Roxboro, from which charge he came to Louisburg.

Since coming to the church here, thru his effective preaching, together with his ability to influence other preachers of force and power to come to his assistance, more than three hundred new members have been added to the church, he has also so directed the financial system that every one knows exactly what becomes of his contributions. When the retiring minister first came here four years ago, the church could barely pay expenses, and it was then paying a minister around $100.00 per annum. Rev. Parham soon put the church upon a self-supporting basis, and so increased the income, that today his salary is one thousand dollars per annum, and the church entirely free from debt with over four thousand dollars in the bank to its credit. Therefore if the scriptural injunction "By ye works ye shall be known," is applicable here,

Rev. Parham will certainly never die in the hearts of those whom he has touched here.

Sunday, August 28, will be his farewell sermon and his subject will be "The Duty of Church to Pastors." Special space will be reserved for any white people who desire to attend.

During this week, a revival is being conducted at the church under the direction of the Rev. S. L. Parham, the pastor, assisted by Dr. Steward Spiller, of Durham, who will fill the pastor's unexpired term for the next three months. Dr. Spiller is a Godly man who preaches with great power and clearness, making the Gospel so clear that "a wayfaring man, tho' a fool need not err therein."

Sunday will be used as the day of exercises for the pastor's departure. Sunday morning the Sunday school will show him their appreciation, while in the evening exercises will be under the direction of the church.

Rev. Parham will make his residence in High Point, where he has accepted the call to the First Baptist church of that city, which is one of the leading churches in the state.
