

CEDAR ROCK NEWS.

The opening exercises of the Cedar Rock High School on Sept. 5, were unusually good, and were well attended by the patrons.

Mr. Sledge, the Principal, commented on the Bible selection which suggests a book. He pointed out the helpfulness of one's taking the following books: inward, outward and upward. Inward—considering one's own possibilities. Outward—the appreciation of surroundings and environments. Upward—making Christ the center and guide of life's activities.

Mr. J. T. Insoe told in a most beautiful and effective way, of his meeting with an old gentleman trained in the old Cedar Rock school. This gentleman refused to sell to a second party, offering more money for a tract of land, because he had promised it to the first party at a certain price. Mr. Insoe urged the continuance of such a policy because "An honest man is the noblest work of God."

Mr. G. B. H. Stallings being called upon to speak, replied that he was so full of emotions, that he was unable to express himself.

The audience then listened patiently to Mr. J. O. Sledge, enthusiastic and happy, review sketches of Cedar Rock's proud history. The future of the school, declared he, depends largely upon the actions of the present. His dream of Cedar Rock's future was inspiring.

After singing America, Rev. E. Lee Fox in a few well chosen words, distinguished very clearly the difference in meaning of wisdom and understanding. He spoke very hopefully of the State's efforts along educational lines.

The teachers, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Sledge, Miss Beulah B. Stallings, and Miss Ruth Lambert have begun the session's work, encouraged because of the splendid enrollment and hopeful outlook for a good High School.

Mrs. Keach Tells How She Got to Know Rat-Snap.

"Have always feared rats. Lately noticed many on my farm. A neighbor said he just got rid of croves with RAT-SNAP. This started me thinking. Tried RAT-SNAP myself. It killed 17 and scared the rest away." RAT-SNAP comes in three sizes, 35c, 50c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Allen Bros. Co.

Man and wife being one, it is not to be wondered at that many married men love themselves.

The Refiner takes on a new Responsibility

Representatives of the automotive and refining industries recently decided that much of the task of instructing motorists as to the proper functioning of automobiles must fall upon the manufacturers of motor fuel and lubricating oils.

The Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) had long before gladly assumed its share of this responsibility. It realized that the automobile builders had little opportunity, after the sale had been made, to advise with those who bought engines, trucks or pleasure cars. Branch service stations furnished their only point of contact with users of their equipment.

Refiners of gasoline, on the other hand, have almost daily dealings with motorists and chauffeurs. Gasoline engines have been so far developed that fuel quality has become almost more of a problem than mechanical perfection in the motor.

Accurate understanding of the many delicate considerations involved in the making of a 100% motor fuel—in quantities sufficient for every demand—has always restrained this company from making claims for "STANDARD" MOTOR GASOLINE which could not be justified immediately by every purchaser of the product.

Our Development Department is constantly studying possible improvements in the quality of our products wherever the improvement in quality seems consistent with complete and dependable uniformity. We are the largest refiners of petroleum products in the world, drawing on practically every section of the Western Hemisphere for crude oil.

Our unhesitating advice to every motorist is to realize the advantages of this research work by using "STANDARD" MOTOR GASOLINE. This course will, in the long run, insure engine efficiency more surely than it can be secured in any other way.
