

A WORD TO WOMEN

When you spend your money you want full value for every cent you spend. You insist on knowing the real value of every article you buy, and you are justly entitled to that knowledge.

You insist on having just what you want, and you are averse to accepting substitutes.

That is the attitude of the discerning woman of today, the woman who makes the home what it is.

We know this, and have purchased our stock of dry goods and ladies' furnishings with these requirements in view, purchased to please YOU, to give you that high combination of value and appearance which means real economy in every purchase.

We give you exactly what you ask for—never a substitute. The more YOU know of the value of our goods the better it pleases us, for then you will know that this is a store where "economy" means something more than an empty word.

A Question of Service

"SERVICE"—what does that word mean to you?

Does it mean a real personal interest in your welfare? Or is it just another name for "politeness"?

"Service" at this bank means a keen personal interest in your success and a readiness to do all any bank can do to help you win success.

"Service" with us means prompt and careful attention to all the details of your dealings with us.

"Service" here means good banking methods so that your funds are always safe in our care. It means protection in all your banking.

Isn't that the kind of service you want?

What a Good Fit!

Tom—"Oh, Jim How do you like my new suit boy. Ain't it a darn good fit?"

Jim—"Where did you get it?"

Tom—"I bought it from the Service Shop. You know Jim they have on display about five hundred samples in suit and half suit patterns to pick from."

Jim—"What do you mean Tom?"

Tom—"A yard or more to select from!"

Jim—"Yes Tom."

Tom—Yes boy they give a fit, I mean a fit. That man Mr. S. W. Purvis must be from New York. He certainly does know his business, and he sho does fit a man. You can buy a Tailored suit as cheap as you can a ready made suit. Just think the good fit you get when you buy from the Service Shop."
