

CLOTHES OF DISTINCTION

Styles creations as attractive as a debutante's smile

WHEREVER MEN OF SUBSTANTIAL POSITION GATHER QUALITY CLOTHES PLAY A DISTINCTIVE ROLE... IN THEIR DIGNIFIED, QUIET WAY THEY SERVE TO EM-PHASIZE THE PERSONALITY OF THE WEARER.

These suits and overcoats will show their worth from the minute you try them on to the last minute of wear. Their styles are as persuasive as "Please"—their quality as unyielding as "No!"
—their tailoring can be equaled, but seldom is.

Quality Clothes are worthy of the painstaking efforts expended in their making. And lest you forget—money back if you're not satisfied.

A Very Easy System

ONE OF OUR PATRONS has tried several plans for keeping a record of all his income and expense during the year—but he has found all of them a lot of trouble to keep up-to-date.

But he has a fine system now.

The bank is keeping this record for him. He deposits all his earnings in the bank and then he writes checks for all the money he spends. Even for his pocket money he writes a check once in a while and marks it "Misc.
Exp."

When he wants to know the amount of his income he looks at his Bank-book.

When he wants to find out what he is spending, he looks over his Canceled Checks. By sorting these old checks into several piles he finds what he is spending for food, clothing, fuel, etc.

That plan is easy. It is safe and business-like, too.

Confederate Veteran Who Saw Much Active Service in Army and Navy.

Mr. Dixon Greene Conn, after a long illness, passed away at his home, 106 W. Jones street, Friday morning.
At his bedside were his wife, Eleanor Rosina Dowell Conn and all of the children: Mrs. S. Z. Garner, Nanie, Mrs. W. W. Covington, Chas.
S. C.; Mrs. Lonnie Smith, Apex; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Huntington, Charlotte; Misses Emma and Nannie Conn, Raleigh; Mr. D. O. Conn, of Norfolk, Va.; Mr. Edward L. Conn, of Washington, D. C.

Mr. Conn was born in Franklin County, March 13, 1840 and was educated in a private academy in Louisburg in which he also served as an instructor. At the outbreak of the Civil War, he enlisted in Company L, 5th North Carolina Volunteers, which was the first company that went out from Franklin county. He re-enlisted in 1862 in Co. I, 15th Troops and next in Company K, 32nd North Carolina Regiment.

Mr. Conn was seven times wounded in the war, five times in the Battle of Malvern Hill, during which engagement he received promotion from the private ranks to sergeant. On account of wounds, he was honorably discharged from the Confederate Army early in 1863 at Richmond; but before completing his convalescence, being refused active combatant service in the army for incapacity from wounds, he volunteered in the Confederate Navy and served on the Naval Vessel "Indian Chief," on which he was master at arms. From this ship, he later transferred to the "Pee Dee" at Cheraw, S. C. When Company F, Naval Battalion, was organized, Mr.
Conn was among the first to volunteer for service in it. He was taken prisoner April 6, 1865 and confined at Craney Island for several months.

Captain Conn, as he was familiarly known, has been connected for the past fifteen years with the State Department of Agriculture in the capacity of bulletin Superintendent. He and Mrs. Conn celebrated their golden anniversary September 15, 1920.

Mr. Conn suffered an accident last winter, since which time his health has gradually declined.

Funeral services will be held this morning at eleven o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church, of which Mr.
Conn had been a member for many years.
