Monday is first Monday.

Why not elect a set of men who do not want the offices.

It now looks as if Ford will get Muscle Shoals. Lets hope he will get the Seaboard too.

The Naval Treaty of the Arms Conference is made public. So was the Hague treaty.

Can't Louisburg wake up and start something that will make it a better town to live in.

The tobacco Growers in Kentucky seem to be especially well pleased with the prices received through the Association.

It seems that all the talk in this section for Congress is of Hon. H. E. Norris, of Raleigh, and Senator W. M. Person, of Franklin.

Yesterday was ground hog day and up to one o'clock he had not seen his shadow. Lets hope he will give us an early and dependable Spring.

It seems that time is getting ripe for politics. This being campaign year you should begin to look around and use your influence to get out and elect the best men.

Another investigation is to determine why the roof of the Knickerbocker theatre collapsed. If they would put the costs of these investigations in the subjects being investigated it would do more good.

THANKS.

Dear Friends, who have given to my dear husband honor and reverence, and love and tears, and to William and me sweet sympathy and sustaining prayers, we give you our heart-felt thanks and grateful appreciation. Will you not pray for us still, lest without the strength and inspiration he gave, we falter, and fail to follow those things he followed, and of good report?

"So prone Was he to find Some good in all mankind, So quick to stop and heed The cry of those In need. And so disposed to say Nothing to mar one's day. That Heaven, With love abrim, Did not seem strange To him."

With him, let me repeat the closing lines of his farewell to his people: "May He give His Angels charge concerning you and Carolina." FANNIE N. BICKETT. The beloved and loving wife of Thomas Walter Bickett.

COLLEGE NOTES.

A students' Recital was given at the College Jan. 30, at eight o'clock. Red shaded lights made a cozy scene which was very gratifying to the audience coming in out of the cold and snow. There were not as many present as would have been had the weather been more propitious.

The program opened with a lively performance of Licourance's played by Miss Irene Taylor with a reading of "The Punishment of Robert." Miss Elizabeth Kittrell's rendition of the popular yet ever new favorite Stultz "I Love You Dear" was well received. Perhaps the most complimented of all the performers was the small and youngest, Miss Virginia Beck, one of the town girls who played a piano solo, "Sweet Violet."

MacDowell's "To The Water Lily" was well played by Miss Etta Beale Grant. Miss Francis Ledbetter, whose readings are always welcomed by Louisburg audiences, gave a selection from Service entitled Jean Despres. Miss Temple Williams, another of the town girls gave a successful performance of Wyman's Woodland Echoes. The Etude Melodique by Debussy in which the melody is sustained almost entirely by the left hand, was skillfully performed by Miss Belvin Finch.

number left them by a humorous reading Sir Walter Rolly and Queen Elizabeth, by Miss Etta Beale Grant. Miss Genevieve Peltz created a profound impression by her sympathetic rendition of Moore's voice solo, Yearning. Deserving especial mention among the lighter numbers on the program was Miss Ellis Credle's performance of Kreisler's lively Caprice. The program closed with an unusually lively piano duet, Koniski's Valse Brillante by Misses Pauline Eason and Mary Bottoms. After the program the young gentlemen present were invited to remain for a social hour; an invitation which Louisburg boys have always been eager to receive and sure to accept.

Our one case of mumps is well again. Let us hope no one else will contract it.

Last Sunday for the first time this year no one went home for the week end. The snow was too much for even the nearest or most homesick to make the trip.

Friday evening at eight o'clock there will be a "Circus" at the College. Twenty-five cents admission to the main show with side shows extra. If you want a continuous laugh and lots of fun be sure to come.

A WOMAN'S WORTH

Women who have had a modest idea of the value men put upon them will revise their conclusions when they read of some of the verdicts indamage suits that juries rendered, before the women had the privilege of sitting with them in the trial cases.

In a New York court recently a jury awarded a woman $40,000 for the loss of a leg. This led Case and Comment to look up the subject of what a woman is worth in the light of recent court decisions, and it found that when completely assembled she has been valued by juries as follows: Legs, at $40,000 each $80,000 Arms, at $42,500 each $85,000 Hair 20,000 Nose 15,000

GROWERS OF BURLEY TOBACCO PLEASED WITH POOLING PLAN

Many Producers Receive More Money As First Payment Than They Got For Their Entire Crop Last Year—System Has Good Start In The Lexington District.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 30.—About 1,310,000 pounds of tobacco was delivered to the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative association at Lexington warehouses Thursday, a similar amount Friday, and in almost every instance the amount advanced the grower by the association was in excess of the amount he received for his entire crop last year, it was said at the offices of the association.

Thousands of interested tobacco growers from many counties were in Lexington to witness the opening of the houses to receive the pooled crop, as the houses in the other counties of the Burley district will open next Monday and the managers and bookkeepers and graders for these other counties were all in attendance on the Lexington market, observing the workings of the new system. Other pool warehouses in the district will be open Monday.

No figures as to individual crop deliveries were available. The first check, made out in Kentucky as an advance on a Burley tobacco crop under the new co-operative system of marketing was given to Albert F. Shouse, a farmer, magistrate and prominent Fayette county farmer. Mr. Shouse delivered 11,235 pounds, most of it common tobacco, and was given an advance of $1,109.85, an average of $9.95 a hundred, indicating a loan value, as fixed by the Louisville bankers and tobacco experts some time ago, of $19.90 a hundred. That value, it is generally conceded, was conservative, and members of the association declared their expectation that the pooled crop would bring more than has been paid for the non-pooled crop at the few warehouses which were not turned over to the Burley association.

An Optimistic Opening

The board of directors, in session late Thursday, adopted a resolution warmly commending President Stone and director of warehouses Ralph M. Barker and their assistants for the successful start given the biggest business in Kentucky, which has 57,000 members, controls nearly 190,000,000 pounds of tobacco and is the owner of about 120 receiving plants, warehouses and redryers.

The exact amount of tobacco delivered at the Lexington warehouses, in pounds, as estimated by the managers of each of the plants, follows: New Headley No. 2 165,000 Tattersalls 100,000 Big Bu. 200,000 H.
