tion of extra-territorial rights. Authorization for a consultation between foreign diplomats and Chinese officials at Peking with a view to withdrawal of foreign troops from China. Relinquishment to China of unauthorized foreign radio stations on Chinese soil, with the stipulation that all plants are to be used for official messages only except in emergency. Agreements to exchange full information among the nations regarding all international commitments that affect China. Creation of a board of references, to consider cases arising under the open door and railway provisions of the general Far Eastern treaty. Convening of a special commission of the five powers to meet in the near future and consider rules to govern the use of new agencies of warfare. By a second resolution on the same subject it is declared that the commission shall not "review or report upon" the submarine and poison gas rules laid down in the treaty on that subject. Recommendation that "better protection" be given the Chinese Eastern Railway. Another resolution attached but subscribed to by powers other than China declared that in future wire less disputes the open door policy must be applied. Request on the part of the other powers that China reduce her military forces.

Supplementary agreement to the naval limitation treaty, declaring the nations "in honor bound" not to dispose of ships which are listed for scrapping, before the treaty is ratified.

Supplementary agreement to the four-power Pacific treaty, excluding the islands of the Japanese homeland from the treaty provisions.

Some Important Declaration

Of the "declarations" made by the delegations and formally spread on the records of the conference chief interest attached to these relating to Siberia and the "twenty one demands." Regarding Siberia, Japan disavowed her former policy of "stabilizing" conditions in that country, while the United States reiterated its hope that the withdrawal would not be long delayed. The famous group of the "twenty one demands" was abandoned by Japan along with other concessions relating to economic and political conditions in Manchuria and Mongolia, China filed a protest against the remaining portions of the "demands," and the United States reiterated its intention not to recognize any of them which might abridge American rights. The British declaration of readiness to withdraw from the leased territory of Wei-Hai-Wei was not elaborated but will be taken up in diplomatic exchanges between London and Peking. As a supplement to the Eastern treaty, China, declared her intention not to alleviate any additional portions of her territory. As a supplement to the tariff treaty she agreed to retain the present maritime customs system. In two supplements to the radio resolution. China declared she recognized no act to install foreign radio plants without her express consent and the powers other than China declared that in future wireless disputes the open door policy must be applied.

IN MEMORIAM.

On January 30, 1922 God saw fit to take from this earth a true and noble woman Mrs. Mattie Earle Stone. In this death Cedar Rock has lost one of its most worthy and influential women. She was possessed of a disposition and character that only a few have. To know her was to love her, and nowhere was this so beautifully shown as in her home with her family. Her friends were numbered by her acquaintances always a loving word and a smile for every one whom she met. Her Christian life was beautiful and full and she was faithful to her Christian duties just as long as her health would permit. She was a long and patient sufferer and knew that the end could not be far yet she was ready and willing to leave this earth and go to be with her Savior.

She was a good neighbor and her unselfish generosity will be greatly missed in her community.

A great friend to the colored people who were always going to her for help. A woman whose place in her home and also neighborhood cannot be filled, has gone to her heavenly home to rest evermore.

Although the weather was bad there was a large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives to pay their last tribute of love to her as she was gently laid to rest in the family burying ground near her home underneath a huge mound of flowers.

She leaves to mourn their loss besides her husband one son, Mr. J. Minter Stone and, one daughter, Mrs. Howard Jones.

Weep not dear loved ones, but be prepared to meet her on the other side where she will greet you with open arms.

IN MEMORIAM.

On January 1, 1922, God in his infinite wisdom saw fit to take from our church membership, W. M. U., and Philathea class at Perry's Chapel Baptist church the sweet and gentle spirit of Mrs. Addie Mitchiner Wilder, wife of Bennie F. Wilder. She was a devoted wife and mother, a good neighbor, and kind friend to all. While we deeply mourn our loss, we feel that her sufferings are over, and that she has gone to be with God.

Therefore, since our earthly ties are severed, be it resolved: First: That in the death of Addie, Perry's Chapel has lost one of its most faithful members.

Second: That we express our gratitude for the service which she rendered this church, and our appreciation for her useful life.
