TAR DROPS

Cotton sold in Louisburg yesterday for 16 1-2 cents a pound.

Quite a nice snow storm visited this section yesterday morning.

Quite a number of Louisburg people went over to Raleigh Monday night to hear Anna Case.

Old Aunt Mildred Hayes died Tuesday night. She was ninety years old and one of the most faithful of the old time dorkies.

A mad dog on the farm of Welfare Officer Joe Jones bit his wife and two colored persons on the place. Those bitten are taking the Pasteur treatment.

The residents of Church street were greatly rejoiced to have the debris of the burned garage removed from the sidewalk one day this week. Let the good work go on until the whole corner is properly cleaned up.

SOCIETY

VALENTINE BRIDGE PARTY.

Mrs. W. D. Egerton and Miss Florence Egerton were hostesses one day last week at a most attractive Valentine bridge party.

The guests were invited to come at four o'clock. They were first ushered into the parlor which was arranged for three tables of bridge. The table numbers and score cards were dainty little hearts and cupids with appropriate bits of verse on each.

After enjoying a pleasant hour at cards the guests were invited into the dining room. The chorus of "oh's" and "ah's" from each one attested to their appreciation of the beauty of the table decorations.

The picturesque centerpiece of red carnations and maiden-hair fern was contained in a receptacle formed of large hearts, from which garlands of red ribbon extended to the lovely little standing figures of Cupid and bewitching Colombines which constituted the place cards. Beside each plate was also a lacy heart-shaped basket of salted peanuts.

When each had found her own place and all were seated a fruit course was served. This consisted of grape-fruit skillfully formed into graceful baskets upon the handles of which perched saucy little Cupids with drawn bows.

The second course was a salad course of tomato jelly in heart shapes on lettuce with mayonnaise and beaten biscuit and sandwiches also in heart shapes.

The desert course was Charlotte Russe with whipped cream served in the daintiest of containers which carried out the Valentine scheme.

The last course was coffee with whipped cream and mints. The latter were enclosed in heart boxes which each guest drew out of the large centerpiece by the ribbon attached to her place card.

Those present besides the hostesses were Misses Beatrice and Mary Turner, Mildred Scott, Alice Harris, Mary Exum Burt, Francis Barrow, Mattie Allen, and Mesdames Homes, Swindell and T. W. Ruffin.

TWENTIETH CENTURY BOOK CLUB

The Twentieth Century Book Club was most agreeably entertained at its last meeting by Miss Onnie Tucker. As the guests were welcomed at the door each one was presented with a dainty little valentine on the fly-leaf of which was written the program of the afternoon.

The Club was called to order by the president, Miss Mattie Allen. After some matters of business were transacted the program was rendered.

The first subject was Wagner. Miss Allen read a fine appreciation of the life and work of the gifted genius. Miss Adams came next on the program with two papers, the first on "Parival" and second "History of Opera." Those papers were both interesting and instructive and written in a style well suited to the theme of which they treated.

Miss Petty next gave in her usual skillful and artistic manner the vocal solo "My Laddie." Mrs. Johnson read an interesting and up-to-date exposition of the current topics of today.

A fitting climax to the whole program was Miss Lane's reading of "The Lion and the Mouse." This reading was adapted by Miss Lane from the novel of that name and her facile impersonation of the different characters represented showed unusual talent as well as the best of training.

After the program was concluded the most delicious refreshments were served. The refreshments suggested St. Valentine's day in every detail from the artistic and unusual costume of the maid who served to the last item on the menu. The first course was cream chicken on toast, green peas in heart-shaped patties, coffee, hot rolls and cheese balls. The white cream with the red heart in its center and the heart cakes looked almost too good to eat and tasted as good as it looked.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON BOOK CLUB

"The day was cold and dark and dreary, it rained" and such was the day that the Tuesday Afternoon Book Club met with Mrs. E. S. Ford.

What if the air did have a nipping tooth, our hearts beat high, knowing from past experiences, that we should find good cheer within.

We stepped from the atmosphere of rain and sleet into a glow of light and warmth, where were flowers blooming and their sweet perfume seemed to join the hostess in her cordial welcome.

Master Charles Ford greeted the guests at the door and his genial smile beamed the hospitality one always feels in Mrs. Ford's home.

Miss Peggie was there too, ready to entertain each and every guest. At a glance one recognized the fact that the spirit of the good St. Valentine was lingering near.

Mrs. Ford presented a heart-shaped program to each one there and then the meeting was called to order by the President, who asked for the minutes of the last meeting and the roll call, to which the Secretary responded.

There was no business for the day. The following program was rendered. The subject was Russia.

Mrs. Beck's paper "Home Life in Russia", read by Mrs. W. E. White gave a graphic account of the early days of Russia under Peter the great.

The blazing trail by the poor peasants of many nationalities, the sacrifices, the privations and loss of life, until they grew to a higher level. Of their customs and morals in the dark days and on to the present.

Miss Williams' piano solo, "Polichinelle" by Rachmaninoff was beautiful indeed. Everyone knows "Miss Sallie's" golden tongued music and this selection was among her best.

MRS. CRAFT DREADED FOR NIGHT TO COME

Years Of Suffering Overcome By Taking Tanlac, Declares She Can't Praise It Enough.

"If I had only believed what the people said about Tanlac when I first read about it, I would have saved myself many months of suffering, to say nothing of the hundreds of dollars I spent in vain attempts to get my health back," said Mrs. Annette F. Craft Lipscomb Station, Birmingham, Ala.

"For four years I suffered from acid stomach, sick headaches and awful spells of nausea. Often I was confined to my bed for three or four days at a time and I couldn't get out of the house for a week or two. It was simply out of the question for me to do any housework and I had to hire a girl to help me. I used to dread to see night come for many a time I couldn't even get so much as a wink of sleep. I was growing weaker and losing weight every day."

"Tanlac benefited me in every way. The fact is, I am in perfect health once more and I just feel it my solemn duty to tell everybody I can about this wonderful medicine. I don't believe it is possible to praise it too much."

"Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere." Adv.

B. Yarborough was greatly enjoyed. Her smooth even tones reached every ear and the selection was very interesting.

Miss Williams, Mesdames Ford and White sang "Deep River," an old negro spiritual arranged by Harry Burleigh, whose settings of these songs have gained him such wide fame in recent years. Coming with more than usual solemnity, this prayer of the negro whose "hope is over Jordan" impresses the listener with the intense fervor of the supplicant. Each sentence is full of religious petition of the soul which desires "to cross over into camp ground."

Mrs. Palmer gave a paper "Russia's Gift to the World." She took as her theme the higher life of Russia and touched briefly on Art, Music, Literature and most of all on Architecture. Her paper was very instructive.

The last number on the program was a trio "Humoresque, Swanee River," sung by Miss Williams, Mesdames E. S. Ford and W. E. White. This soft path throughout this well known and much loved old song always touches our hearts anew.

Miss Rosa Waddell gracefully assisted Mrs. Ford in serving a delicious salad course followed by heart-shaped ices, cake, nuts and coffee, all carrying out St. Valentine colors and favors.

The club adjourned to meet Feb. 28 with Mrs. W. R. Mills.

VALENTINE SOCIAL

The Valentine social at the Jambes Club Wednesday, Feb. 8th was quite a success. Mesdames Johnson, Adams and Arch Alston acted as hostesses in charge.

The exquisite decorations of red hearts and garlands were rivalled by the delicious sandwiches which were served with hot chocolate, candy hearts and valentine favors.

While the games were in progress at the various tables Miss Ruth Hall at the piano and Mr. Berkley with the violin played a number of musical selections, which added greatly to the cheer of the occasion.

Those playing at the different tables were as follows: hostess, Mrs. Joe Man, guests Mr. and Mrs. O. Y. Yarboro and Mr. Joe Mann; hostess Mrs. Sam Parham, guests Mr. Percy White, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Malone; host Mr. I. Meyowitz, guests Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Fuller and Mrs. Meyowitz; hosts Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ruffin, guests Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Egerton; hosts Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Homes, guests Miss Mildred Scott and Jack Griffin; host Mr. Blair Tucker, guests Misses Mary and Beatrice Turner and Mr. Charles Cooke; host Mr. Wm. Jackson, guests Misses Ewing and Sutton and Mr. James Malone; hostess Miss Jessie Taylor Harris, guests Dr. Bonnor, Miss Yow and Mr. Roscoe Earle; host Mr. J. P. Harris, guests Mrs. J. P. Harris, Mrs. June Furgurson and Miss Mamie Brown; hostess Miss Lola Jackson, guests Mr. and Mrs. W. E. White and Miss Dorothy Johnson; hostess Miss Iantha Pittman, guests Misses Nannie H. Hale, Lucy Baker and May Cooper; host Mr. Jones Parham, guests Misses Mary Exum Burt and Alice Harris and Mr. Karl Pearce; hostess Miss Virginia Foster, guests Mr. Karl Allen Mesdames J. L. Palmer, J. B. Yarborough, K. K. Allen, G. A. Ricks, J. M. Allen and J. A. Cooke.

Those playing pool were Dr. Johnson, Dr. Perry, Messrs. Hugh Perry, Cheatham Alston, Charles Adams, N. T. Green and Miss Tom Ogburn.

After the games Messrs. James King and Karl Pearce each sang two solos which were greatly enjoyed and heartily applauded.

MRS. J. T. NEAL DEAD.

Information received in Louisburg Wednesday that Mrs. J. T. Neal, who left her home at Centerville about six weeks ago to enter Mercy Hospital at Baltimore, for treatment, died on Tuesday, and that her remains would be brought through Louisburg en route home Wednesday. The funeral was held from Mt. Zion church yesterday afternoon and the interment was made in the family burying ground at the old Neal homestead.

The announcement of the death of Mrs. Neal came as a surprise to her many friends as it had been reported that she was improving in health and expected to return home soon. She was the second wife of the late J. T. Neal, and leaves one son, Mr. Lewis Neal, one step son, Mr. John W. Neal and three step daughters, Mrs. A. A. Shearin, Mrs. H. W. Griffin, Miss Bertha Neal.

PUBLIC HEARING.

Notice is hereby given that on Monday morning at eleven o'clock, March the 6th, 1922, the Franklin County Board of Education will hold a public hearing upon the question of creating a high school district comprising all the territory within the Social Plains, Pearce, Pilot, Pine Ridge, Bunn and Rock Springs school districts. At this meeting any tax payer or other interested person may appear and be heard.

After this hearing, the Board of Education will decide whether or not it will submit to the vote of the people in this territory the question of creating a high school district within the territory of Social Plains, Pearce, Pilot, Pine Ridge, Bunn, and Rock Springs school districts and a tax to take care of the building and maintenance fund.

This does not mean the consolidation of the above school but merely the consolidation of the High School interests. There will be a permanent building erected with adequate equipment at Pilot, Pine Ridge, Pearce and Rock Springs to take care of the first 6 or 7 grades and a Central High School department at Bunn to which the children in the above Districts will be transported when they have finished the required grades. The elementary school at Social Plains will be transported to Pilot and any of its high school pupils to Bunn. According to this plan every boy and girl in Dunn Township and in the Rock Springs school district would have the advantage of a modern well equipped elementary school and a State Standard High School.
