Louisburg, N. C.

Ambition is contagious. If one man beautifies his home his neighbor is going to follow his example. And finally you see from the good example of one man there originates thousands and thousands of true citizens and a stronger desire for beauty.

The spirit of beautifying does not only apply to community life; but from the community the ambitious spirits of citizens move on into a town and spreads from there through the whole universe.

By passing a block in town and just by the appearance of the houses, streets, and surroundings you can quickly tell whether or not they who dwell there are good citizens or not.

Another thing that the citizen must avoid is the destroying of nature. Nature can create a lot more attractive place than man so why does man want to do away with nature and put some of his own constructions in its place. Of course some cases are unavoidable, and yet—there are lots and lots of cases where the destruction of another nature can be avoided, and it is our duty, as citizens to see that it is avoided.

A citizen must also help his country by being a law abiding citizen and helping to prosecute those who are not law abiding. He of course must know fully the laws and amendments of his country in order to abide by and carry them out. It is his duty to picture to each person the need of having a clean country since we are a free nation.

The citizen must also look after avoiding waste. This also must start in the household. Some people do not seem to realize that the great clouds of smoke which rises up from great factories daily can be averted into energy. It can be and it is our duty to help to do it. I believe there is more waste in public money in the United States than is necessary. We too can prevent this to a certain extent.

We, as citizens must love and honor our native land. We must help to better it; stand up for it, and never allow bad things to be said about it. We should strive to carry out our parts and doing our duties just as near as its possible for us to.

Free Flower Seeds

You will be glad to know that "Hastings' Free Flower Seeds" will give away about 1,000,000 packets of seed of the South's most popular flowers this spring.

There is nothing in the home that can compare with rich colored flowers. They brighten us all up and make any house attractive. You can't plant too many flowers and this opportunity to get Shirley Poppies, Everlasting Flowers, Gladiolus, Cosmos and Mexican Bunting Bush absolutely free, is certainly to be welcomed by all readers of this paper.

You can get them! Just write to Hastings for the new 1923 Catalog. It tells you how to get flower seeds free. It has 100 pages of beautiful photographic pictures and correct descriptions of garden flower and field seeds, bulbs and plants, and also is full of helpful information that is needed almost daily in every Southern home. It's the most valuable seed book ever published and you will be mighty glad you've got it. Just write and ask for the new Catalog.

CEDAR ROCK HIGH SCHOOL

News of Interest To Teachers, Pupils and The Public Generally

By School Correspondent.

The play "Bashful Mr. Bobbs" presented in the school auditorium Tuesday night, Jan. 16, by the pupils of Bunn High School was greatly enjoyed by the small crowd present.

A much larger crowd enjoyed the second presentation of the Sophomore class play "Unacquainted With Work" on Thursday night of last week.

Misses Josie Boone and Sarah Gilliam spent last week-end with Miss Lucy Tharrington.

We are very sorry to note that Haywood Stallings, Jr. is ill at the present writing.

Miss Beulah Stallings spent last week-end with her mother in Bunn. The basket ball team evaded the agriles last week, losing to the strong Bunn team Tuesday afternoon by a score of 18 to 12. And winning from Justice Thursday afternoon, in perhaps the best game of the season, by a score of 21 to 18. Both games were hard fought and interesting. Although the locals entered the game with one of the regular forwards absent from the line-up, they put up a hard fight against the Bunn team and were at no time far behind in scoring, but the passing game put up by the visitors kept them ahead throughout the game.

We are very sorry to note that Mr. T. H. Collier, an old Confederate soldier, who resides with Mr. J. O. May, is seriously ill at the present time.

Student Editorial—"Duties of An American Citizen"

(Alma Wester—11th Grade)

Every man in our state must either be a progressive citizen or a non-progressive one, and a drawback to his country. In the first place, if a man loves and honors his homeland, state, county, or even the community in which he lives he, no doubt, is going to be a staunch and progressive citizen.

The question often arises. What must a man do and be in order to be an American citizen. First his duty must begin in his own home, for home is the true foundation for citizenship. If a person wants his name arranged in such a way that it will attract the attention of passersby he is going to have enough interest about himself to want to see his community improve, just as he would have his home do. In the home the duty of a true citizen is to see that the premises are kept entirely clean, yard grass planted, and flower gardens so arranged to beautify the home. Probably the yard is too small for gardens. But certainly there are the windows; and what can add attractiveness to a place as much as a bright looking window.

Making Vinegar in the Home
(By Boone Sykes)

The process by which Vinegar is made in the home should be understood by every member of the family. Of course Vinegar has been known from the earliest historical period. And the Romans gave it the name "spiritus veneris" but they did not understand the fermentation that common apple cider undergoes before it becomes Vinegar.

There are two important changes that take place in the fermentation.

1. The sugar in the sweet cider undergoes alcoholic fermentation, which turns the sweet cider to hard cider. And the cider then contains from 4 to 8 per cent alcohol. The cider should be in a wooden barrel and some means should be provided by which air can get to the cider, yet it should be so fixed that no insects can get to the cider. It generally takes from ten to twenty days for this process to take place, and for the hard cider to contain the given amount of alcohol.

2. After the alcoholic fermentation is completed, acetic bacteria begin to grow and change the alcohol into acetic acid, or vinegar. That is by the combination of oxygen in the air and alcohol—that this acid is formed, which has been given the name acetic acid. This acid gives the vinegar most of its sour taste. These bacteria grow on the surface of the liquid and form film or scum called the mother of vinegar. After this process the mother of the vinegar is ready to keep the vinegar strong and ready for use.

MRS. "BERT" CARR

Mrs. "Bert" Carr, nee Miss Sarah Sledge, daughter of Sherrod Sledge, after being the victim of pneumonia for only a few hours, passed to her eternal reward on Jan. 11, 1923.

Mrs. Carr, although a sufferer for many years, lived out more than three score and ten years, doing faithfully what she could as a humble christian, a devoted wife, and a loving and dutiful mother. The members of her family and the people who lived near her, do not hesitate to call her blessed.

She leaves to mourn their loss, three sons, Elias, Albert and John, besides one brother, J. H. Sledge, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Fulgum, and a host of other relatives and friends. But these mourn not as ones without hope, for we feel confident that our loss is her gain.

She was a member of Maple Springs church, having very recently received a letter of dismission to unite with the church at Mt. Zion.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Harper, and her remains were consigned to the grave in the beautiful little cemetery at Mt. Zion. May we cherish her memory and emulate her virtues. T. H. S.
