NUMBER 21

THREE TOBACCO WAREHOUSES

TO BE OPERATED IN LOUISBURG THIS SEASON

Two Auction Houses and One Co-operative House; S. M. Watkins and D. T. Currin to Run Union, S. S. Meadows, W. H. Allen and B. N. Williamson the Planters

Through the efforts of the Business Men's Association of Louisville will be placed in position to serve both the Cooperatives and Non-Cooperatives in the sale of tobacco this year. To this end they have arranged to have two auction houses operated in Louisville and one Co-operative house so that all tobacco growers may be accommodated. In addition all efforts are being made to extend every courtesy and accommodation possible to all who bring their tobacco to Louisville for sale or delivery.

We are informed that all companies will be represented and a full new corps of buyers have been promised. And every indication points to Louisville this year as the place to bring your tobacco for real satisfactory disposition. The business men realize that the market has got to be more attractive than heretofore and they are not going to allow any one to be spared to produce this attraction.

The Union Warehouse will be operated by Messrs. S. M. Watkins and D. T. Currin, of Oxford, veteran tobacco warehousemen who will introduce new effort to our market.

The Planters Warehouse will be operated by Messrs. S. S. Meadows, W. H. Allen and B. N. Williamson, men who have spent a life time in the tobacco business among you.

The Cooperatives will operate the Riverside Warehouse, under the management of Mr. Grover C. Harris, a man of recognized ability in the warehouse business. The grader for this market has not yet been named but Louisville has been assured of one who is an expert and will give every point possible in the farmers favor.

All have united in the effort to make Louisville the leading market in the State in prices and satisfaction and it is safely predicted that all farmers who come to Louisville with their first load of tobacco will be sure to return with all the balance.

There has been no definite time set for the opening as yet, but we are informed that it will be about the middle of September. Announcements with definite information will be made as it is available.

Thanks

On behalf of myself and each member of Battery B 117th F. A., N. C. N. G. I wish to extend the heartiest thanks and appreciations to all those who contributed to and served the bountiful supper and breakfast to the Battery before our leaving for camp. The meals were especially enjoyed and the spirit that made it possible found a warm response within every individual member.

H. W. PERRY, Captain.

BATTERY B RETURNS

Battery B, 117th Field Artillery N. C. N. G. returned Sunday from a two weeks encampment at Fort Bragg, near Fayetteville. Capt. Hugh W. Perry, who was in command, is especially proud of his company for the fine work and military bearing while in camp. The boys deserve special mention, said Capt. Perry, for their work on Target practice, when one of the gun crews made a record of three shots in 35 seconds, almost reaching the United States Army record of six shots in 60 seconds.

The boys all seemed to enjoy the trip but were glad to return home.

To Annapolis

Messrs. G. B. H. Stallings, Jr., son of Mr. Haywood Stallings, and Garland M. Inscoc, son of Mr. Joseph T. Inscoc, both of near Cedar Rock, left the past week for Annapolis, where they will enter for training for the United States Navy, to comply with an appointment they received some time ago. These are among Franklin's best and most capable young men and we are sure they will do credit to themselves and their county.

REVELRY AT WOOD

Announcement is made of a revival meeting at Wood that began July 15th and is still in progress with good results. "The Little Preacher," Rev. A. N. Corpening is conducting the meeting. Special music is furnished at each service. The public is invited to attend.

BUSINESS MEN TO MEET

Association to Hold Important Meeting Tuesday Night

On Tuesday night of next week at the Court House will be held a most important meeting of the Business Men's Association of Louisville. At this meeting the Committee, appointed to take up the matter of tobacco warehouses in Louisville will be ready to make a full report and something of interest is expected to come before the meeting. Plans for bringing tobacco to Louisville will be discussed and developed. Already about two thousand letters have been mailed to members of the Cooperative Association asking them to designate Louisville as their delivery point and assuring them of all the courtesies and accommodations possible and many have responded by signing and returning the cards. It is hoped that every member will mail his card and come to Louisville and if there is any member who failed to get a letter or card he is especially urged to come with us. Now efforts will be made to get all the tobacco possible that is not in the Association brought to Louisville. Every person interested is invited to be present and present his views. Other matters of importance will be brought up and discussed.

Don't fail to meet your brother business man in the Court House next Tuesday night.

A GREAT REVIVAL

Wood, N. C., July 19, 1923.

Dear Brother Johnson: You may have heard of the wonderful meeting we are having. It has already exceeded our expectations and has not yet reached its best. Such crowds have not been known since the organization of the church, and they are getting larger at every evening service.

The interest in the meeting has been constantly rising from Sunday until now. Of that time our choir went to a community singing at Red Bud and caught some of the enthusiasm of the other five choirs. They enjoyed it immensely and invite these and other choirs to help us here. They can be of big help. Last night there were nearly a hundred in the choir. This includes a choir of nearly forty children which rivals the adult choir in singing.

Singing is not all that we are enjoying. "The Little Preacher" is doing his best, and the personal workers are busy. God is opening the hearts of those present and a number have accepted Christ as their personal Savior. We need the prayers of all praying people and will appreciate you remembering us before the Throne of Grace.

Organization—Rev. A. N. Corpening, Pastor; Mrs. W. D. Fuller, Pianist and Choir Director.
Junior Choir Leaders—Miss Pearl Gupton, Mrs. W. P. Leonard.
Publicity Director—H. M. Beam.
Reception Committee—Mr. G. M. Raynor, Mr. A. S. J. Hamlett, Mr. Lige Gupton.
Ushers—Mr. Raymond Shearin, Mr. Ennis Gupton, Mr. Eddie Gupton.
Tomorrow night the children will have the opening service in charge. Sunday night the B. Y. P. U. will open the services. We are expecting Mr. Arthur Strickland from Mt. Glead to lead the singing from tonight on to the close of the meeting.
G. M. RAYNOR.

TRAVELING LIBRARY

Mrs. W. E. White went to Raleigh Wednesday to get a Traveling Library from the State Library Commission at their request, for the benefit of the young people of Louisville. The books will be kept by Mrs. White at her home and the children of Louisville are invited to make full use of this feature.

ROAD OPEN

The New State Highway road from Louisville to the Nash county line near Castalia has been completed, so we are informed, and has been opened to the public. This is a very pretty piece of engineering and is a pretty road. We understand something over two miles has been saved in the distance from Louisville to the Nash County line by the new survey.

A FAMILY REUNION

On Sunday, July 15th Mr. Walter Wyatt West celebrated his 66th birthday at his home near Raynor. As the story goes a big dinner and a big crowd. There were eighty-eight present, children and grandchildren from Louisville, Wake Forest, Oxford, Winston-Salem and Detroit, Mich. There were only a few present except the family. Everybody had a good time, and hope Mr. West many more birthdays. There was dinner enough left to feed as many more. Just as everybody had finished dinner, Mr. West received the sad news announcing the death of his brother, Mr. Ed West, of Henderson.

FINE MEETING AT JUSTICE

Cooperative Spirit Strong and Loyal—Local Talent Entertains

It was the finest and most loyal feeling that existed at Justice on last Saturday night, when the Co-ops. held a most enthusiastic and enjoyable meeting at which the entire community was invited. Besides a most interesting musical program by an excellent local string band, Miss Meade and Prof. Sexton delighted the large crowd present with numerous renditions, both original and selected.

Mr. B. T. Leppard, and Mr. J. A. Mitchener, of the North Carolina Cotton Growers Association were present and made most interesting speeches. The meeting was declared one of the most successful ever held there and the great enthusiasm of the members was contagious and spread to those on the outside with the unanimous prediction that that portion of the county would soon be signed up almost solid for cooperative marketing.

S. C. CO-OPS OPEN

MARKETS JULY 17

Organized Growers First To Receive Cash on 1923 Tobacco Crop.

(S. D. Frizzell)
All the markets of the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association in the entire South Carolina Belt opened this week to receive the 1923 crop on July 17, 2 weeks in advance of the date announced for the opening of the auction warehouses in the Palmetto State.

The organized tobacco growers of South Carolina who are generally conceded to have set the prices for tobacco in their state, which almost doubled in value within twelve months, this year set the date of opening. From present indications the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association will receive a majority of the crop in South Carolina. The membership of the association in the Palmetto State has been increased during the past twelve months by 1600 new contracts and more than 7,000,000 pounds of tobacco and the cooperative growers are bringing well-graded tobacco to the association floors, due to the fact that more than 150 locals have held demonstrations in sorting and bundling during the last ten days.

Great mass meeting to celebrate the success of the cooperative association and the opening of its second year are taking place this week at Kingstree where U. S. Senator E. D. Smith, noted farm block leader is scheduled to address tobacco farmers at a great barbecue on July 18, and at Mullins on July 19 when Gov. McLeod of South Carolina addresses tobacco farmers at what promises to be the record breaking mass meeting of the year.

T. C. Watkins, Manager of Warehouses, defines the policy of the association as it enters its second year of marketing in the following words contained in a letter mailed to every warehouse employee of the South Carolina Belt.
"Our first duty is to serve the farmer, who is your employer, a fact that we should never lose sight of. Your work is not finished when you have completed your routine duties. It is up to you to live and talk cooperative marketing. Our membership is looking to its employees and is judging our organization by their conduct."

Y. W. A. MEETING

Four examinations were taken at this time, all passing and receiving seals.

MEMORIAL TO BE BUILT TO HENRY LESLIE PERRY

It Will Be in the Nature of a Library For Henderson and County of Vance $25,000 for First Unit

Henderson, July 11.—Col. Henry L. Perry, clerk of the Superior court of Vance county, in an interview Tuesday with the Daily News representative, stated that a permanent memorial in the form of a public library had been decided upon by himself and wife and Mrs. H. L. Perry, widow of Henry Leslie Perry, a young and prominent local attorney, the son of Col. and Mrs. Perry, who died after an illness extending over a period of several years.

The library is to be located upon a lot in the heart of the city of Henderson, and is to be a joint institution for the city of Henderson and the county of Vance. The lot is the property upon which the young attorney had his office building and is very desirable for an institution of this kind being located only one-half block from the main thoroughfare of the city and directly in front of the Vance county court house on Young street, less than one block from the heart of the city.

Col. Perry stated that it was the wish of his givers that the building erected by them be constructed in the form of a unit large enough to serve the present needs of the city and county, in order that it may be added to from time to time as the population increased and the demand called for larger quarters for the institution. Col. Perry stated that it is proposed by the donors to build the first unit with a contribution of $25,000 and to reserve $5,000 of the cash gift for the purchase of books to form a nucleus around which the city in the future may increase to greater proportions.

The proposition has been laid before the city council and that body has a committee working up a report to be made back to the council as to the only condition attached by the donors of the library, namely, that the city assume the cost of maintenance of the institution at its completion. The sentiment of the city is unanimous in the belief that the offer will be accepted by the city fathers. This is the first gift of its kind ever made to the city of Henderson or county of Vance and it is meeting with the hearty commendation of the city and county folk alike.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. T. C. COLLINS

At his home near White Level on June the 15th, 1923, the spirit of Mr. T. C. Collins age 64 years took its flight to "That house not made with hands eternal in the heavens." He had been in poor health for many years but for several weeks he was seriously ill, therefore his going out from us was not unexpected. Yet it brought grief and sorrow to his family and friends. But these mourn not as ones without hope for they feel confident that their loss is his gain. Mr. Collins was born in Franklin county in 1859 and was the son of late deceased Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Collins. He was married to Miss Annmaria Collins at an early age, unto these hospitable parents were born four children, two of whom are now left to mourn their loss, Mrs. J. E. House and Mrs. Herbert Bartholomew.
Mr. Collins loved Christ, he didn't only say so but proved it by his consecrated life.

What better way can a man's loyalty to Christ be tested than by his daily walk? At the age of twenty-one he joined Sandy Creek church of which he was a faithful member and ever devoted to the work of the Kingdom at home and abroad. Later it being more convenient for him to attend he moved his membership to White Level Baptist church where he was an efficient and consistent member and served in the office of deaconship until his death.

While his way through life led not over flowery beds of ease yet through out his earthly pilgrimage his every acquaintance knew that he possessed a high order of honesty and fair dealings one who well knew how to control his temper and did not live for self but recognized his stewardship to God and his duties to his fellow men. Always living the golden rule "do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

The funeral services were held from church on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. R. Wallace who paid high and worthy tributes to the deceased. The interment was made in the church cemetery near by amid a large crowd of friends and relatives. The boral offering spoke love beyond words of power.

The pall bearers were Messrs. W. T. Gupton, J. L. Dorsay, J. D. Wood, D. R. Pearce, Charlie Collins and W. E. Brewer. Mr. Collins leaves to survive him besides his two daughters and a number of grandchildren (two brothers, Mr. J. R. Collins and Rev. W. H. Collins).

May the hope of a future reunion be the comfort of the family.
—A FRIEND.

VOLSTEAD DICTIONARY DEFINES APPLE CIDER
Prohibition Unit Says It is the Juice of Whole, Fresh, Sound, Ripe Apples. Acetic Acid in Vinegar.
Washington, July 15.—For the moment prohibition officials have diverted some of their attention away from rum runners and wet Atlantic liners and are preparing to overhaul the regulations relating to cider. An announcement from the prohibition bureau yesterday said that the fruit juice regulations "are now under revision and will be issued in the near future." Officials would add no details, but by way of preliminary advice the bureau gave out the substance of legal opinion on the subject prepared by James J. Britt, its chief counsel. The statement was in the form of a primer, and was supposed to make perfectly clear when, if ever, it is permissible to have on hand hard cider, and why. It follows:
"The word 'cider' shall mean the pressed juice of whole, fresh, sound, ripe apples exclusive of any extraneous or foreign matter, and without regard to the fermentation or alcoholic content thereof, unless otherwise indicated by the context.
"Sweet cider" is the fresh juice obtained by the first pressing of whole, fresh, sound ripe apples.
"Preserved sweet cider" is sweet cider as defined above in which alcoholic fermentation is prevented or materially retarded (1) by the addition immediately upon pressing, of U. S. P. benzoate of soda in the proportion of not less than 4 to 1-2 avoirdupois ounces to each barrel of not exceeding 50 wine gallons capacity, or (2) by pasteurizing or sterilizing and immediately placing same in small, impervious, sealed containers such as bottles or jugs.
"The presence of four per cent of acetic acid will be considered as constituting the article 'vinegar' and the presence of as much as 1-1-2 per cent of acetic acid will be considered vinegar stock. Other acetic solutions of similar strength made from malt, etc., shall also be considered as vinegar stock.
"In order to manufacture commercially a permit must be obtained and bond given in accordance with the customary regulations of the department. The production of non-oxidizing cider and fruit juices in the home is not controlled in the same manner. Permits are not required in the case of cider or fruit juices sold to vinegar manufacturers.
"Under section 29 of the act cider may be produced for use in the home for culinary and other non-fermenting purposes and may be retained without permit until it develops into vinegar or may be sold to vinegar manufacturers under permit as 'vinegar stock'."
