MR. THOMAS W. RUFFIN Nominated for the Democratic Convention in Raleigh last week as Elector for the Fourth Congressional District.

HIGH SPOTS IN STATE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

DANIELS NAME WITHDRAWN

Governor Morrison, Max Gardner, Josephus Daniels, Chairman Dawson and Colonel Rodman Will Go to New York Convention—Four Women Delegates—Mrs. Jerman, Miss Henderson, Mrs. Fearing and Miss Berry Are Chosen.

Delegates returning from the State Democratic Convention held in Raleigh stated that it was the most harmonious gathering in the history of the State.

The definite assertion by Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the Navy, that he was not seeking presidential honors and his request that his name be not put before the convention for its endorsement and the awarding to women of four of the nine delegates at large to the Democratic national convention were the two outstanding events of the session.

The platform was unanimously adopted. It mentioned the tax reforms which the Democratic party was said to have inaugurated whereby the state aided the counties in bearing their tax burdens and at the same time provided for the forward program of the administration.

The only mention of the Republican party was to the effect that it was a party of fault-finding and negation, which had nothing to its credit and relied mainly on criticisms of the Democrats for its issues.

Nine delegates at large to the Democratic national convention were elected, as follows: Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the Navy; Governor Cameron Morrison; former Lieutenant Governor O. Max Gardner; State Chairman John G. Dawson; Colonel Wiley C. Rodman, commander of the North Carolina American Legion; Mrs. Palmer Jerman, of Wake; Miss Mary Henderson of Rowan; Mrs. J. J. Fearing of Pasquotank; and Miss H. M. Berry of Orange.

Mr. E. H. Malone and Mrs. C. S. Williams were re-elected as members of the State Executive Committee and J. R. Collier was elected as a member of the Congressional District Committee.

Mr. Thomas W. Ruffin was nominated Elector from this District, and Mr. Ben W. Ballard was elected Alternate Delegate to the Democratic National Convention to be held in New York.

EASTER AT THE METHODIST CHURCH.

Two magnificent congregations took part in and enjoyed the services at the Methodist church on Easter Sunday.

At the morning hour twelve young people joined the church and at the evening service four older people were received. This makes thirty received since the last Conference—fifteen by letter and fifteen by professions. At this service more than three hundred dollars was contributed for current expenses and for the orphanage.

At the evening service the Cantata was excellent and greatly enjoyed, being one of the best presentations of the choir has as yet offered.

The Sunday School hour was most encouraging and interesting one, being one of the best in many.

A most excellent report was made from this church at the District Conference at Four Oaks yesterday. It is expected that next Sunday will be a great day at both the Sunday School and church hour at the Methodist church. All are invited to attend.

MISS BRADY HOSTESS.

Miss Sybilie Brady, a member of the Second year Domestic Science Class was hostess at a Luncheon last Wednesday, April 16, 1924.

The dining room was very attractively decorated in violets in small baskets. The place cards were very attractive being hand painted with violets on them.

Hot guests were, Misses Sallie P. Betts, Dean, E. Carter Grant, Mattie Woods, Sallie McCullers and Rena Gillette.

Eva Lumpkin as a very attractive maid served: Cream Soup, Imperial Sticks, Salmon Souffle with Spanish Sauce, Green Peas in Tumbala, Bread, Butter, Iced Tea, Dressed Lettuce, Marshmallow Sandwiches, Lemon Meringue Pie.

PLAY AT CEDAR ROCK

The public will please note that the play, Mr. Pim Passes By, to be presented at Cedar Rock on Wednesday night, April 30, is the same play that was given by the Raleigh high school pupils a few weeks ago, and so well was it received, that the people of Raleigh are asking for a second presentation.

Go to Cedar Rock to enjoy the play on Wednesday night, April 30.
