TRANSPORTATION LANGUAGE IN EVERYDAY LIFE

Transportation weaves its words and phrases into everyday life. To "bring up all standing" is a nautical term, but used by many who never saw a ship. In pre-Volstead days a drunken man was "down by the head," another nautical term; "the red light of danger" comes from the railroad. "High flyer" antedated the airplane, but "going over the bumps" comes from the bad roads we still have. To be "ditched" is common slang; anyone who ever slid off a slippery road into the gully at the side will recognize the source of the expression. The Fifth Avenue masher speaks of a "fix," she waves the go-go sign at me, and "I am side-tracked" and "he's off the main road" refer neither to tracks nor highways. The most recent development of traffic terms for other than traffic use made its appearance recently at a New York dinner, where miniature traffic signals, showing green, amber and red lights, were used by the toastmaster to warm and finally stop speakers who proved too fond of their own voices!

Gude's Pepto-Mangan Tonic and Blood Enricher

Macon County shipped its second carload of poultry during the first of April. Each farmer saw his birds weighed in at the car door, received his credit slip and cashed it at the bank. Approximately 15,000 pounds of poultry went out from Franklin and Otto in this shipment and prices above that offered locally were received. County Agent John V. Arrendale arranged the shipment.

Old Folks' Ailments

"I began taking Black-Draught over fifty years ago and my experience with it stretches over a good long time," says Mr. Joe A. Blakemore, a Civil War veteran and former Virginian, who is now a prominent citizen of Floyd, Texas. "It is the best laxative I know of for old people. A good many years ago, in Virginia, I used to get bilious and I found that was the best and quickest relief I could get. Since I came to Texas I have these bilious attacks every now and then. A man will get bilious any where, you know, and I find that a little Black-Draught soon straightens me out. After a few doses, in little or no time I'm all right again."

Theford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable liver medicine, used in America for over eighty years. It acts on the stomach, liver and bowels in a gentle, natural way, assisting digestion and relieving constipation. Bold every where.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as there is much or less stomach disturbance, the child will not thrive. Worms give regularly to the child, which the blood, impure the stomach, and act as a general strengthener to the whole system. Nature will then get rid of the worms, and the child will be healthy and contented to sleep. See per bottle.
