ARE YOUR SOYBEANS DISEASED?
Dr. Wolf Suggests a Health Survey For the Soybean Crop.

Raleigh, Aug. 25.—It is known that the soybean is subject to about twelve different diseases at this time according to investigations made by Dr. F.
A. Wolf of the State College Experiment Station.

But as to the damage done by these diseases and the extent of the trouble no one seems to know. This is partly explained by the fact that North Carolina grows about one-third of the soybeans produced in this country and the crop is relatively small and less important in other states so the authorities in those states have done little research in the control of soybean diseases. Investigations by Dr. Wolf, however, reveal the fact that the crop as grown in North Carolina is affected with pod and stem blight, bacterial blight, bacterial pustule, mildew, brown leafspot, anthracnose, Pythium root rot, Mosaic, Rhizoctonia root rot, sclerotial blight and collar rot.

From this it is evident that the poor plant is going to have a hard time if all these things attack it at once, but fortunately only a few of these diseases occur year after year on wide areas. Some of them are encountered only occasionally and in restricted localities. Some are destructive some years and unimportant in other years.

"But," says Dr. Wolf, "we know too little about soybean diseases. If your plants are infested with some disease send us in a specimen plant and perhaps we can tell you the trouble and how to overcome it."

Those growers who desire to send specimens of diseased plants to Dr.
Wolf may reach him at the Division of Plant Pathology, State College Station, Raleigh.

FEWER LAWS

Laws are made for the protection of people who live under them.

If a law is a good one, it should be enforced. No favor should be shown either rich or poor, powerful or insignificant. If it is not a good law, it should be repealed.

We have too many laws that are dead letters, for our own good.

His condition is well known to the public, and even to the younger generation, just coming into maturity. It is not calculated to increase respect for law. It is a breeder of evasion and the father of contempt.

We need fewer laws, but we need good ones that are enforced.

THIS COUNTRY PREACHER FINDS GOOD WAY TO BUILD SOILS

Statesville, August 25.—Rev. J. N.
Brinkley of Iredell County in addition to looking after the spiritual well-fare of his community is also proving to be a far-sighted teacher of improved farming methods, according to report by R. W. Graeber, County Farm Agent for the State College Extension Division in this county. Extension workers agree that more fertile soils is one great need in North Carolina and the use of lime and legumes in building up the soil is being strenuously advocated at this period of the year when clovers should be prepared for or planted.

"Rev. Brinkley began keeping accounts with a two acre piece of land on his farm in 1919," says Mr. Graeber.
"His demonstration was with wheat and during the period from 1919 until the present he has built up his yields from four bushels per acre to 37 3-4 bushels by using soil improving methods. This is an increase of 844 per cent in crop yield and is worthy of careful consideration."

In 1919, with a wheat yield of four bushels per acre, Rev Brinkley seeded the land to cowpeas, turned them under and reseeded the land to wheat.

In 1920, wheat yield was ten bushels per acre largely on account of the exceptionally good year for wheat in the county. This spring red clover was seeded over the wheat.

In 1921, the first crop of red clover was cut for hay and second turned under for soil improvement. Land was seeded to wheat in fall of 1921.

In 1922, red clover was again seeded over wheat. The yield secured was 15 1-2 bushels per acre and this was a poor wheat year.

In 1923, the first crop of red clover was cut for hay, the second turned under and the field again seeded to wheat.

In 1924, this year, a yield of 37 3-4 bushels per acre of grain was secured and it is estimated that at least three bushels per acre was lost by sprouting from the cap sheaf.

Tom Tarheel says he knows how farming should be done but he can't always do just like he wants to, but at that, the county agent is continually suggesting good ideas that were overlooked.

No Worms in a healthy Child All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance.
GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.
