-TAR DROPS-

—And its 1925.
 —Happy New Year.
 —Don't forget to write it 1925.
 —Have you broken your New Years resolution yet.
 —The Louisburg tobacco market opens next week.
 —The banks all observed New Years day yesterday.
 —Cotton sold for 23 3-4 cents a pound in Louisburg Thursday.
 —Let it be hoped the weather all the year will not be as it was Thursday.
 —So far very few changes have been made in Louisburg for the first of the year.
 —Practically all of Louisburg took two days off to observe the Christmas holidays.
 —Mr. C. A. Ragland has moved his office to the room next to R. C. Becks garage.
 —Many Christmas trees were had in the county and the little ones were made happier thereby.
 —Monday, January 12th is the beginning of the January term of Franklin Superior Court, for criminal cases. Judge F. A. Daniels will preside.
 —The New Year was ushered in amid much merriment on Wednesday night. Many bells and whistles furnished the music for the occasion.
 —The weather this Christmas reminded one of winter even though we did not have the "old fashioned white Christmas" that was promised us.
 —Eras Brame made his annual display yesterday of a watermelon that he had saved from his summer crop. The melon appeared to be in perfect condition.
 —The people of Louisburg and vicinity are showing their appreciations for the moving picture show and are commending Mr. Kissell for the splendid programs he is providing.
 —Old Santa did not forget the little children this year as had been predicted by some—he is too good an old man to forget the man little boys and girls at Christmas time.
 —Two friends met on the streets of Louisburg this week and speaking of the weather said "It's a nice day overboard." The other replied by saying "Yes, but we are not travelling that way." No. We can't tell you names and tales too.
