WHO WILL BE FIRST FLYING BRINGS CHANGE. REAL ESTATE AND RAILROADS. PEACE IN SLEEPY HOLLOW.

What railroad man will first realize what the flying machine means? What railroad man especially will first realize what the flying machine will do to the passenger traffic of the great railroads on all long hauls?

The first capable man, acting on thorough realization of the flying machine's future, will establish for his stockholders and himself such a fortune as would make those of the Vanderbilts, Hills and Huntingtons look like financial crumbers.

You think about the flying machine out west as representing the business energy of the whole Western country.

To go there now, you travel four days on trains admirably equipped and managed.

In less than twenty years the trip will be made by flying machines in six hours and with absolute safety. How many Americans will devote four railroad days to a six-hour flying trip? Not many.

The flying machine will upset theories, habits and values.

Land one hundred miles from a great city will be reached more quickly than land in the suburbs twenty-five miles away is reached now.

Flying for all long journeys will displace railroading completely within the lives of middle-aged men now living.

Many railroad men, of course, realize that a great change in transportation is soon coming. William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific Railroad, said yesterday that what caused him to do some hard thinking was the landing in San Francisco of a man that had flown from New York in one single day between sunrise and dark. "If a man can do that experimentally for the Government now, how long before the thing will be done practically by up-to-date transportation men?

Transportation through the air on a great commercial scale probably will be developed first in this part of the world, for here the need is greatest.

Real railroad men as regards present earnings will not fear the flying machine, even should they fail to utilize it. That flying machine, taking long-haul passengers from railroads, will so greatly increase freight carrying as to make railroad rights of way and terminals more valuable than ever.

That's part of the wisdom of Divine Justice. No really good thing ever disappears with another good thing already existing.

The taxi wiped out the hansom cab, as gas and electricity wiped out the tallow candle. But the hansom and the candle were really not "good things."

Watch the flying machine. It will make changes greater than the steam engine ever made, making man literally master of all he surveys by enabling him to go anywhere and everywhere without roads or terminals, crossing a continent in half a day.

Most important of all is the fact that the flying machine alone represents national safety, since all wars will be fought and won or lost in the air from now on. Write your two Senators and your Congressman, urging adequate aerial defense—not half as many first-class machines as any other nation has, but twice as many.

Samuel Gompers lies in the Sleepy Hollow Cemetery at Tarrytown, N. Y., on the grave of Andrew Carnegie.

The much talked of "community of interests" and "equality" between capital and labor become real in the graveyard.

On earth, in the sunshine equality of capital and labor, is not yet reality. Labor is labor, with worry and uncertainty attached to it, usually. And capital, with all its worries, means some leisure and a systematic share in what labor produces.

But conditions are better than they were. It is no longer a crime for workmen to unite. It was a crime once. And they no longer brand with a red-hot iron any workman convicted of leaving his own parish to seek employment in another. They did that in England, years ago.
