FOR FIRST CLASS JOB PRINTING PHONE NO. 222.

IF YOU LOVE ME TELL ME NOW

If you knew when in the morning You were bidding me good bye That ere long the one that kissed you Would beneath the daisies lie.

Would you leave me thus so coldly Without word or look of love Or a tender glance at parting That would some affection prove?

Leave my heart all bruised and bleeding With no ray of hope ahead? Ah the bitterness of living When we feel that love is dead.

I have watched you leave at morn dear Looking on you through my tears, Tender words of love eternal Longed to whisper in your ears.

But you scorned the bitter tears dear Scorned the tears I could not hide And my heart seemed full to bursting With love spurned and wounded pride.

You may never know my darling And perhaps 'tis better so, For I would not have you burdened With the heartaches that I know.

But if I one prayer were granted, Only one to me allow, This would be my prayer to you dear, If you love me tell me now.

—MARIE HYRE, Louisburg, N. C.

PUNKIN CENTER

Mr. Editor:— As the town election is near at hand, and as Sheriff Tanlac won't let us make any grass killer, me and Spanish Monkey have decided to enter politics. I am going to run for Mayor of your city and the Monkey for Chief of Police. We are going to run on the grass killer ticket which of course means the wet ticket, and this means that we will be elected by the biggest majority you ever heard of. So in order to avoid the humiliation of defeat, the best thing that Capt. Joyner and Ben Meadows can do, is to send in their resignations at once. If we are elected, there will be few arrests for drunkenness, as the Monkey claims that a man is not drunk as long as he can stand up on an acre of ground, therefore he will not arrest a man for being drunk as long as the man can keep on his feet. But there is one law he says he is going to enforce to the letter, and that is the speed law. He says it will go tough with the man who exceeds the seed limit. Everybody can bring all the grass killer to town they want to, provided they will slip us a gallon occasionally. We will bet you two cents against your old hat that Mr. S. K. and Sis Jane and even Sheriff Tanlac will vote for us, 'cause they love grass killer just as good as we do, and the only reason they don't drink it is 'cause they can't get it. We expect a large vote from the Honey Bottles and Turnip Sallets and especially the latter, 'cause most of them like G. K. themselves. And there is the Clerk of the Court. Just see how fat and greasy he looks. Did you ever see a finer specimen of the effects of grass killer? But since getting into office he had to give up his still, and no doubt he is getting pretty dry, so we have no doubts about getting his vote. Now Mr. Editor, we are not going to ask you for your support, because we know that we have got it already. You know us too well to vote against us. We are sure that you have not forgotten the taste of that gallon we sent you last Christmas, and no doubt you wish you had some more just like it. Now we wish to say to the voters of the town. You all can now see what a greasy meat time you would have under our administration, so you can't afford to vote against us. Here's hoping that the grease is running slick with you Mr. Editor, and that you will vote for us and use your superfluity in our behalf.

PRESIDENT and MONKEY.

P. S.—Sorry we could not get over to the primary, but we had to run off 3 gallons of G. K. that day to fill a hurried order for Sheriff Tanlac.
