Entered at the Post Office at Louisburg, N. C., as second class matter.

It seems that the people of Louisburg have forgotten about the establishment of a canning factory.

The hot wave that has been so evident for about two weeks was broken Monday evening by the visitation of rain and hail storms.

The defense in the Wyatt case at Raleigh, are making a serious error in blocking the immediate trial of this case. Their tactics are serving to hold prejudice against their cause.

Louisburg is to be congratulated upon having the South-Atlantic Lumber Co., of Greensboro, establish a planing mill in our midst. This will add much to the needs of Louisburg in the way of a weekly pay roll.

The grand jury in Wake county has failed to find a true bill against the ice monopoly of the city of Raleigh. They might go still further and recommend to the Legislature the repeal of the laws protecting the public against profiteering.

Clarence Darrow a defense attorney in the Scopes "Monkey trial" has the distinction of opposing a motion that the Court sessions be opened with prayer. Surely he can't feel antagonistic to this method of respect for the God of the Universe.

Judge Devin agrees with Judge Sinclair that flogging prisoners is illegal. These gentlemen may be right. But if they are the next Legislature had just as well do away with the prison system of punishment. Without any means to make a prisoner work and with accommodations equal to hotel—certainly better than many of them ever had at home—there will be no punishment left.

The official deficit of the States finances has been certified as $9,438,531.61. All true North Carolinians will tip their hat to Governor McLean if he can succeed in breaking up such a system that leads so directly to bankruptcy. There is no use having the Legislature make appropriations if the officials are to disregard them and spend the States credit at will. Its time to call a halt and we hope Governor McLean will succeed.

The Republican Executive Committee, which met in Louisburg Saturday, are to be commended in their decision to make no recommendations for a change in Postmaster at Louisburg until December 1st, 1925. Postmaster W. R. Young is making an efficient official and we know of no one in the republican party available who would make a better official. It is to be conceded that under the old rule that "to the victor belongs the spoils" the republicans are entitled to the plum and will no doubt demand their rights.

Now that the fall of the year is getting near and Louisburg expects to sell six million pounds of tobacco it would be well for the City Fathers to begin to solve the automobile parking problem in order that better accommodations for the tobacco laden wagons may be had. It is only natural that the farmer will go where he can get best accommodations. He would naturally be peeved if he was crowded off the street by automobiles. We know this is quite a knotty problem and we therefore call the attention of the Board of Town Commissioners to the matter at this time, so they will have time to solve it.

The suggestion by some of our merchants who would be financially effected, that all the stationary awnings in town be removed and that the sidewalks be cleared of all unsightly and other displays is a good one. The best advertising any town can get is the impression made upon strangers, and as practically all of the business portion of Louisburg is in full view of the State Highway, upon which thousands of strangers travel it is easy to see that with the streets in their present condition only unfavorable impressions can be made upon visitors. Lets all join hands in the move to make Louisburg a prettier and cleaner town and start with removing the displays from the sidewalks, including the iron house on the Corner of Main and Nash street, and all stationary awnings. This suggestion is respectfully passed on to the Louisburg Kiwanis Club and Business Men's Association, as a matter worthy of their attention.

WOOD NEWS.

Misses Ruth and Pearl Gupton visited friends near Sanford last week. Misses Goldie Lassiter and Sallie Newsome, of Ahoskie, are spending some time with friends in and near Wood. The former lived here for several years.

Mr. P. G. Sturges left last Thursday for a business trip to Rich Square. Miss Maude Shearin returned to her home last Sunday near Rocky Mount, after having spent the week with her sisters, Mesdames W. S. and C. R. Lewis, of this place.

Messrs. Will Tucker and Cleary Gupton went to Rich Square Thursday of last week.

Miss Dollie Gupton is spending this week with her grandmother, near Hollister.

Mr. and Mrs. Parrish, of Henderson, spent the week with Mrs. Mattie Gupton.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Harris, of near Youngsville, spent last week-end with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Shearin and Mrs. Lizzie Shearin from Rocky Mount, spent the past week-end with relatives here.

Mr. M. T. Griffin visited Tarboro Sunday.

Miss Lucy Bell Denton spent last week and is still with her sister, Mrs. Paul Galloway, of Cary.

Miss Grace Duke from Jackson, and who has been spending some time with her aunt, of Centerville, visited Leona Raynor several days last week.

Miss Alta West, of Sandy Creek, spent Friday night with Elizabeth Fuller.

Rev. Caldwell, of Wake Forest, filled his regular appointment here Sunday morning and night with a large audience.

The president of Wood B. Y. P. U. wishes to express his sincere appreciation for the interest taken in the lessons we studied for the past two Sunday nights. It showed that something had been said or done by some one which had previously been leaving off. Every part was given by the right one and it only takes a little of your spare time to give it every time. Prayer has been practical by someone and it takes more prayer backed by some real work to keep our B. Y. P. U. going. Ask yourself, "What kind of B. Y. P. U. would we have if every member were just like me?"

The Sunday School has dropped off some and we know not why because the weather is nice for every one to come. He who stays away from church and Sunday school must be the looser but all of those who go would be glad for the church to be filled every Sunday. People, come and bring our average up. It hurts your teacher, Supt. and your pastor, but most of all it hurts your Heavenly Father, who is at all times wanting your presence.

The special music given by Mrs. W. D. Fuller, Miss Pearl Gupton and Mr. Austin Fuller Sunday night was especially good.

Miss Leona Raynor and her guest, Misses Duke, of Ahoskie, and Christine Drake, of Castalia, and Raymond Shearin went to Rocky Mount Monday night.

Messrs. Guss Wester, Thurman Gupton, and Henry Radford motored to Wilson Saturday afternoon.

On Thursday evening Misses Sallie Newsome, Goldie Lassiter, Pearl and Ruth Gupton, Messrs. Raymond Shearin and Eddie Gupton enjoyed a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Min, of Rocky Mount.

Miss Ruth Gupton spent the week-end with Mrs. Hubert Lancaster near Red Bud.

Mrs. John Gupton, of Arcola, spent several days of last week with Mrs. N. C. Gupton.

Little Dorothy Dean Turner broke her arm Sunday while playing.

Mrs. N. C. Gupton and daughter, Pearl, and Mrs. R. E. Turner went to Louisburg Tuesday.

ROCK SPRING ITEMS

Rock Spring for some reason has not had anything to say about her community in some time. I think the editor will allow me just enough space to enumerate the past events among our people.

We have not been dead the reason you have not heard from us. We have been tilling the fertile soil of mother earth, and watching with thankful hearts the green and growing bank account. I guess the banks of Louisburg and other towns are waiting, well let them wait, we're coming.

The people of this section are greatly blessed with crops. Nearly every farmer has growing what he planted to make. We are human though, and we are not satisfied. It is one of the hardest things to do, to satisfy anyone. If we had a million dollars we would want more. If we could exchange places with Mr. Henry Ford we would want more. That's nature. If we never wish to reach a higher goal what are we living for? As long as we are climbing we should be content.

Mr. Z. L. Cheaves is recovering, but slowly, from the wounds that he received in the automobile wreck. We hope he will soon be well and strong again. The wreck caused the work on his new house to stop for a short while. We hope he can soon get it complete.

Mr. J. B. Wilder and son, B. R., have been very sick but are out again now.

Mr. Willard Cheaves, of Richmond, Va., with his friend Miss Harris, motored home Sunday morning to see his parents and friends. We were glad to see him, though it was only a short visit. They returned Sunday afternoon. We are always glad to see a friend at any time, especially one like Willard.

Mrs. J. B. Wilder visited Mrs. G. Dickerson and her light-of-the-home a little son, Sunday afternoon. When she returned Mrs. "Oil" Harris was waiting for her.

Mr. Homer Strickland was a visitor to Rock Spring Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Harris and family had company from Middlesex Sunday afternoon.

Sunday afternoon Rev. H. T. Wright and Mr. Lambert, former Wake Forest students took supper at the home of Mr. J. B. Wilder. After supper we met at the church for service. Mr. Lambert gave a short talk on B. Y. P. U. work. "Why we should read our Bibles." Following the much enjoyed talk by Mr. Lambert, Mrs. Elma Mullen, Miss Mattie Wilder, Mr. H. F. Parry and W. S. Strickland sang very beautifully a quartet. Rev. H. T. Wright a man who received not only a B. A. degree from Wake Forest College, but who has won many high honors from the same place, who is Wake Forest's greatest orator alumni, preached for us a very beautiful sermon. Mr. Wright helped in a meeting at Rock Spring church once. Every one learned to love him and his work. There was a large number out to hear him win honors for God.

After the service Mr. Wright and Mr. Lambert took Miss Dennie and Irene Card, Hazel Wilder and Bettie Bennett back to their work in summer school at Wake Forest.

When the golden sun of wisdom casts its sparkling hope and prosperity through the pearl and diamond set ivory minds of our honorable friends and enemies we will shine a light of riches.

Your friend, SPENNING JACK.

FARM MEN AND WOMEN TO GATHER AT COLLEGE

Raleigh, July 13.—The continued heat and drouth over North Carolina need not worry those farm men and women who will attend the annual state convention of farm folks at State College, July 28, 29 and 30, reports J. M. Gray, secretary of the Convention and assistant director of Agricultural Extension at State College.

"Bring your bathing suits," says Mr. Gray, "and take advantage of the new, modern bathing pool in the College gymnasium. We will set aside plenty of time for swimming and the heat will be forgotten in the joy of swimming in the clear, cool, clean water of this pool."

Mr. Gray states also that a number of speakers of state and national importance have been secured for the speaking program. In addition, two string bands from the country will provide music. Mr. Gray is now trying to get a third band, consisting of one family from Forsyth County, in which the men, his wife and seven children each play an instrument. The youngest child, a boy of five, leads the band.

Headquarters for the Convention will be maintained as usual in Pullen Hall and all joint sessions will be held there. The sectional meetings for the Federation of Home Demonstration clubs will be held in the Y. M. C. A. building.

Mr. Gray states that rooms will be furnished free by the College but meals will be charged at 25 cents each. Guests are required to bring their own bed linen, towels and toilet articles.

A silver loving cup will be awarded to the county bringing the largest total attendance the greatest distance. Many letters have been received from Cleveland, Cabarrus, Bertie, Chowan, Duplin, Polk, Columbus and Pitt counties stating that a good representation would be sent.

STRAYED

One yellow mare mule, weighing about 800 pounds, never had on shoes, strayed from my lot on Wednesday night. Any information leading to her recovery will be rewarded.
