REVIVAL AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. Ray E. York, Assisting Pastor John Archie McIver—Splendid Music and Strong Sermons.

The revival services which began at the Baptist church on last Sunday morning has been largely attended and much interest has been shown.

Pastor John Archie McIver is being assisted in the services by Dr. Ray E. York, of Texas, who is well known and much loved in and around Louisburg for his intense and enthusiastic interest in the cause of Christianity. Dr. York is preaching some strong and interesting sermons which are telling in the good which is being done in the community.

Services are being held each morning at 10 o'clock and evening at 7:45. The singing is an important feature of the meeting and is excellent and much enjoyed.

The services will last through Sunday and probably throughout next week. A cordial invitation is extended all to attend.

STORES CLOSE THURSDAY AFTERNOONS.

A large number of Louisburg's places of business have adopted the plan of closing on Thursday afternoons at 1 o'clock during July and August to afford the clerks some recreation. Many of them closed for the first time on Thursday of last week. In addition to the number named in the advertisement last week who closed were H. C. Taylor and F. A. Roth Co., McKinnon Bros. Co., are announcing that they have joined the number and closed yesterday afternoon.

This system shows a generous and appreciative spirit on the part of the proprietors towards their help and will afford quite a much needed recreation, and at the same time not prove to be of much inconvenience to the public.

We are glad to report a very good meeting, several additions to the church, and a great revival with the members.

THREE DEVELOPMENTS HIGHLY FAVORABLE

700 New Co-op Members S. C. Belt Reported From Raleigh.

(S. D. Frissell)

Three outstanding developments in the affairs of the Tobacco Growers' Association during the past week indicate that the fight on the organized growers is weakening most where the attack has been heaviest.

The first is the popular reaction to the resignation of Dr. James Y. Joyner, former superintendent of public instruction in North Carolina, as an employee of the association. Dr. Joyner, in severing his official connection with the association, tendered his services in the interest of the association without pay.

"Let me congratulate you with all my heart upon the inestimable service you have rendered the emancipation of the farmer," a well known Eastern North Carolina minister wrote Dr. Joyner. Many other letters have been received lauding the position of Dr. Joyner, who is as zealous in behalf of the movement which means prosperity on the farms as he was for almost 20 years in behalf of extending the public school system to every child in North Carolina.

Opponents of cooperative marketing suffered another set-back when, in a speech at Zebulon, one of the opposition propagandists was asked point-blank by a member grower if he had not been employed to make "anti-co-op" speeches by the organized auction warehousemen. The speaker denied any collusion but admitted that he did not take the stump against the association until after a long interview with an official of the organized warehousemen's association.

So much happened by way of turning back the under-cover fight which opponents of cooperative marketing have been making.

On the other side of the fence was the announcement from headquarters this week that the new sign up campaign has brought into the fold of organized growers over seven hundred new members.

Most of these new memberships are in South Carolina territory, although quite a few have come from Columbus, Bladen and Robeson counties. The result as viewed by association officials, is a most effective answer to the hostile attacks which are being made by agents of the auction system.

Figures which have been made public in a series of newspaper advertisements from Raleigh headquarters, according to directors in the field have served to present the cooperative marketing question to business men in a new light and the apathy which has marked the progress of the movement in some sections of North Carolina, these directors say, will be converted into active champion ship of the association.

The 200,000,000 slogan for 1925, according to the good news which is now reaching headquarters daily, is not an over-estimate.

Rogers, who defeated former Governor Foss of Mass., nearly 3 to 1. At right, Mrs. Florence P. Kahn who will represent the fourth California district.

OPEN AIR SERVICES LARGELY ATTENDED

Practically four hundred persons were in attendance upon the open air Service on the College campus on last Sunday night. This is an on service of all the denominations in town and the services are becoming more and more popular as the time passes on. The sermon last Sunday night, which was delivered by Rev. John Archie McIver, pastor of the Baptist church, was a strong one, delivered in such a clear and forceful manner that all present could easily see the ship as it sailed into their life.

The Band Concert was grand, the boys seeming to outdo themselves. The Sacred selections were more than well rendered and still more enjoyed. The orchestra also made some fine music which added much to the completeness of the occasion and the pleasure of all present.

The sermon Sunday night will be delivered by Rev. J. D. Miller, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, and a most interesting and forceful sermon is anticipated.

The Baptist congregation, which is now in the midst of a most interesting revival, will dispense with this service in their revival in order to join in the Union service at the College.

"SO THIS IS MARRIAGE"

The Manager of the Winner Theatre requests that every married person and every person that is ever going to be married to see this picture, "So This is Marriage," Hobart Henley's latest masterpiece for Metro-Goldwyn.

This picture will be shown here Tuesday and Wednesday, July 28th and 29th. It is a stirring portrayal of an ultra-modern wife who has been bitten by the Jazz Bug, a husband who hopes for the best, and a bachelor friend. The ordinary action alone would be sufficient to make this an outstanding effort—a film that no one should miss.

Mr. Henley, however, has inserted in natural colors the Biblical story of David and Bath-Sheba. Hundreds of extra are used in this historical romance—the vivid colors being preserved on the screen by the Technicolor process. No one can afford not to see this sequence.

Eleanor Boardman, Lew Cody and Conrad Nagel head a notable cast. The presentation is by Louis B. Mayer.

High School Graduate At Age Of Fourteen

Fourteen is rather a tender age at which to finish a regular standard high school eleven-grade course. It is the age when the average pupil enters high school. But Brantley Hicks, of Wise, received his diploma on April 29 a fulfilled high school graduate of the Wise High School. He did not become 15 years old until the 6th of May following his graduation.

His father and mother, having both died several years ago within one year of each other, he now makes his home with his grandmother. His mother was Minnie Egerton, of Louisburg and his father Brantley Hicks, of Wise. Brantley came to make his home with his grandmother at the age of five years soon after his parents' death. His grandmother is Mrs. T. J. Hicks, of Wise.

Brantley entered school shortly after his sixth birthday and has made very rapid progress ever since. He weighs 112 pounds.

FAMILY REUNION

On Sunday July 19th the home of Mr. Wyatt West, at Rock Springs, was the scene of a happy family reunion when his children gathered and enjoyed a day with themselves talking of times gone by. At the hour of 12:30 a bountiful dinner was spread on a huge table in the grove and thoroughly enjoyed by all. There was a plenty and enough left to feed as many more. The young folks were entertained by music in the afternoon which was enjoyed by all. Mr. West received many presents it being his 69th birthday. Those present and partaking of the glorious hospitality were Messrs. P. C. and W. H. Holmes and families, of Louisburg, Henry Macon and family, Hal Macon and wife, of Wake Forest, Joe and Ollie Boyd and families, of Oxford, bringing as guest their niece Miss Thelma Collier, Mr. Luther Collins and family, Ed Moore and family, Luther West and children, all of Cedar Rock, Sol West, A. L. Hicks and his father, Misses Elsie and Lucy Herman, of Louisburg were here. The many guests were sorry of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Herman being not here on account of their little child being sick. We all missed them. We were glad to have as guests Miss Lillian Young, of Rock Springs, Miss Alma Judie Young, Messrs. Foster and Leadward Young, of Wendell, also a lot of others from different places. Everybody enjoyed the day as all departed late in the afternoon wishing Mr. West many more birthdays and reunions.

CALL FOR MONEY FOR STORM AREA

Red Cross To Issue Call Today On Arrival of Disaster Expert From Washington.

Following a detailed survey of the hail storm area in Franklin and Wake counties yesterday, Miss Allie McNeill, field director of the National Red Cross, accompanied by Cole Savage, farm demonstration agent of Franklin county and John Anderson, agent for Wake county estimated the average loss to the tobacco crop at 65 per cent, to the cotton crop from 40 to 50 per cent, and to the corn crop from 30 to 40 per cent.

Estimates of the amount necessary to tide these families over ranged from $5,000 to $10,000. No official estimate will be made until R. T. House, disaster expert from the National Red Cross at Washington, arrives this morning and makes a survey of the field. In the meantime needy families are being cared for by the Red Cross.

An official call will be made upon Franklin and Wake counties, Miss McNeill stated yesterday. Edward C. Perry, Superintendent of Public Welfare in Franklin county, will assist the two local Red Cross units in Franklin and Louisburg in handling the subscriptions from that county. The News and Observer started a subscription fund immediately after the storm, but this is not confined to counties. Subscriptions will also be received at the Wake County Chapter.

Some families are in much worse conditions than others, Miss McNeill said. Damage to the tobacco crops in some cases was as high as 95 per cent, and in some cases 65 per cent of the corn crop was lost, and the cotton injured much worse in some sections. Between 175 and 200 families are involved, about 50 per cent of which are tenant farmers.

Mr. Perry thought the damage in Cedar Rock section worse than in Pearce and Pilot sections. The storm area was about 24 miles and was very thickly populated with a large per cent of the land under cultivation.

Tobacco is considered the money crop of farmers in this section, and it was almost ready to gather when the storm occurred. Many of the farmers have not paid for the fertilizer which they used in the spring.

N. C. TEXTILE SCHOOL

The Board of Trustees have enlarged the Textile Department and made it into a separate administrative unit which will be known as the Textile School of the North Carolina State College. Professor Thomas Nelson who has been director of the Textile Department for the past twenty years, has been named Dean of the School.

There has been added to the Textile School a Research Department which will be directed by Mr. James McDowell, cotton specialist with an international reputation. Mr. W. E. Shinn who has been a teacher in the school will devote his entire time to research problems. He is spending this summer in research laboratories so as to become acquainted with all the various methods of textile testing.

J. E. Sirrine & Company, Mill Engineers of Greenville, S. C., have drawn plans for an addition to the textile building. This will be completed during the year and equipment added which will make the Textile School of the North Carolina State College one of the best equipped textile schools in America for cotton manufacturing.

For the seventeenth year the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers has awarded the Student's medal to this Textile School. The medal is presented to the student having the highest proficiency in his work for four years. This association is composed of the leading textile manufacturers of America.

In addition to the regular courses offered in the school which are—Textile Manufacturing, Textile Engineering, Textile Chemistry & Dyeing, a new course in Textile Design will be offered during the coming year to those who wish to specialize in the designing and weaving of fancy fabrics. The Textile School also has a two year course for University and College graduates who have selected the Textile Industry as their vocation and who wish to supplement their academic training with a thorough textile education.

ROBBERY

It is reported to Police headquarters that on Tuesday evening some one entered the store of Julius Hayes on South Main street and took therefrom between $450.00 and $500.00. The investigation of the officers developed strong clues against Hugh Brown, so we understand, but no action has been taken.

Barley seems to be coming back to popularity in Piedmont North Carolina. It makes surer and bigger yields than oats, finds the farmers who have tried it.

Pure bred stock is much better than wild cat stock, says John A. Aray, dairy extension specialist.
