Only STEEL could meet a test like this!

A Dodge Brothers Motor Car . . . A speeding truck racing down hill and out of control . . . A collision . . .

Take one look at this photograph. It is not pretty, to be sure, but it will convince any sensible man that all steel construction is the only safe construction for a motor car body.

That is why Dodge Brothers introduced the all steel body more than eleven years ago, and this year greatly improved and perfected it.

In fact, Dodge Brothers are convinced that the day is not far off when wooden motor car bodies will be a curiosity. People will shudder at the thought of having ridden in them and will thank Dodge Brothers for the greater safety, durability—and beauty, too—of all steel construction.

A steel body will stand up under impacts that would crush the average body to bits. Steel cannot splinter. Steel cannot burn. Steel is an armor of protection on the crowded, hurrying highway.

Outwardly, nearly all types of bodies appear to be all steel. In reality, however, most of them are simply frames of wood covered by a metal shell.

Dodge Brothers Motor Car bodies are steel through and through—steel reinforced by steel—buttressed and braced by steel—even the frames and running boards are steel.

And slender, stronger steel corner posts replace the customary bulky posts of wood, affording full, unhampered driving vision on all sides—a safety feature of the first importance!

Travel in safety! Powerful, quick-action brakes, a chassis world-famous for its sturdiness, and a body of steel—these explain the enviable reputation for safety enjoyed by Dodge Brothers Motor Car—and the enviable feeling of safety enjoyed by those who drive it.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

As soon as the Boy Scouts had been organized the people wanted the girls to grow up to be helpful and kind so a movement was started to organize the girls into bands, with the same purpose in mind as the Boy Scouts.

In the fall of 1911, the Camp Fire Girls came into being. Their leader was known as the "Guardian of the Fire."

Some of the clubs have camping places in the woods where their members dress in Indian clothes while many others stay at home.

One of the clubs were started in the city of New York around three candles which were named "Work," "Health" and "Love." The ideals of the Camp Fire Girls are as follows: Seek beauty, give service, pursue knowledge, be trustworthy, hold on to health, glorify work, be happy.

The founders of the organization have grouped together the ambitions and ideals of their order about the camp fire. Fire stands for home and the love of mankind. Ever since it has been organized it has meant comfort, good cheer, service and worship.

The order of camp fire includes three degrees: The first is that of the wood gatherer. The second degree is that of the fire maker. The third is that of the torch bearer; her desire is: That light which has been given to me I desire to pass undimmed to others. She is a leader, a guide going before and lighting the way and making it easier for others.

The Camp Fire Girls dedicate their lives to work, health and love. All girls who read the Camp Fire Girls book and like the work and think health is a blessing and that love is the greatest thing in the world should try to live the life of the Camp Fire Girls.

SAINTS DELIGHT ITEMS

Since you all have not heard from us in quite a while I thought I would send in a few items.

Lots of the farmers have been busy working on their plant beds and cutting barn wood.

We were sorry to hear that Mr. Ernest Wood's baby has been sick but glad to hear that it is improving. As last Saturday was preaching day we had a right good crowd out to hear our new pastor, preacher Denton. Our former pastor having resigned we elected Mr. Denton.

We had Sunday school Sunday morning then preaching. We wish to invite all who will to come out and join us in our services. We want every member of our Sunday school to come every Sunday and bring someone with them and be on time promptly at two o'clock. We have S. S. in the evening except on preaching Sunday's which is the fourth Sunday, then in the morning. Lets both old and young come and strive to make a better Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Shearin and Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Bottoms visited Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wood last Sunday afternoon.

Miss Annie Lee Griffin spent the night with Suell and Mildred Joyner. Will ring off and if we see this in print will call again.

BOBBED HAIR.

Under the unusual name of "Herbae-Prati," common meadow fescue grass is being sold for eight times its value and some extravagant claims are made for it which cannot be supported by facts.

Habitual Constipation Cured in 14 to 21 Days

OUR RALEIGH LETTER

By M. L. Shipman

Raleigh, March 8.—An unusually large increase in auto revenues leading to a prediction of another "Good Roads" bond issue, the decision of Dr. Chase to remain at the University as its president, an important decision by the Supreme Court affecting the coast cities, the further discussion of a projected survey of women in industry in North Carolina and other matters of lesser importance absorbed the attention of the Capital the past week.

Governor Rufe Doughton, Commissioner of Revenue, is optimistic regarding another road bond issue to bring the total to 100 million dollars. He believes the next legislature, on the basis of the showing made collecting in gas and license taxes during the past eleven months $11,572,040.95 which was an increase of practically three million dollars over the same eleven months of the preceding year. The increase from the gas tax from three to four cents in part accounts for the increase.

Dr. H. W. Chase met with the trustees of the University of North Carolina and after they had unanimously endorsed his administration and urged him not to accept the post as president of the University of Oregon, he decided to retain his present position. The trustees adopted a resolution thanking him for his decision.

The State Supreme Court handed down an important decision during the week. It ruled in a case brought from Wilmington that wharves are not public necessities and thus invalidated a $100,000 expenditure of public funds planned by the city of Wilmington for the improvement of its docking facilities.

The Baptist Women's Union has gone on record as favoring retirement of the million dollar bond issue with which the new Meredith College was built. The Union, meeting here this week, decided to memorialize the State Convention at Wilmington in 1926 to this effect with recommendation that the bond issue be disposed of by a campaign by 1930.

The federal malaria control station will be transferred this week from Georgia to Edenton, this state, for the purpose of studying the disease in North Carolina. It will come on the invitation of the state board of health.

The rural schools of North Carolina are still 20 years behind those of the city, it is pointed out by the State Department of Public Instruction. Governor McLean during the week appointed a commission authorized by the 1925 legislature to make a survey of the educational system of North Carolina and report back to the Governor. The commission was appointed by the last legislature after a fight had been waged on certain phases of the school laws particularly the equalization fund law.

The hearing held this week on the proposed sleeping coach busses between Raleigh and Charlotte and Raleigh and Wilmington resulted in the Corporation Commission reserving its decision. One line proposes the night sleeping coaches while the others oppose them because "they are not needed by the public." The decision will be announced later.

The hearing on Western Union's request for increased rates in the State will not take place for another two months. It was to have been held this week but was postponed so as additional figures could be obtained.

The silver services of the discarded battleship North Carolina is back in the State as a loan from the Navy Department and will grace the table of the Governor's mansion until further notice. Governor McLean in a drive for increase of dairying activities in the State spoke at Lumberton during the week. The cotton growers association launched a campaign for full sign-up at the end of the present year when the present co-op contract expires.

The city this last week entertained 700 high school students at the first annual high school basketball tournament under the auspices of State College. Seventy high schools participated in the three day tourney.

Governor McLean declines to grant executive clemency to Eugene Gupton, Franklin county, serving a life sentence in the State Prison on a charge of murder since Jun. 1923. Three or four paroles were authorized by his Excellency during the week, among them being Buck Edmundson convicted of violating the prohibition law in Halifax county in August, 1925 and sentenced to serve twelve months on the roads. His application for clemency was approved by both the judge and solicitor who tried the case.

On Saturday Governor McLean heard the petition of North Carolina women for a survey of women industry in the State. The request for this survey was made through the North Carolina League of Women voters representatives of which told Mr. McLean that the State will not be asked to pay a dollar of the expense, the survey to be made on his invitation by Federal authorities. President Barringer, of the State Federation of Labor, agrees that it should be done and insists that startling conditions will be revealed if the authorities make a thorough job of it.

On call of John G. Dawson, chairman, the State Democratic Executive Committee will meet on Wednesday evening March 10th in the hall of the House of Representatives to determine the date and place for holding the spring convention. Also to fix dates for precinct and county conventions for the purpose of naming representatives to the State Convention.

A Wake county grand jury finds a true bill charging Mrs. Helen A. Rogers with murder in connection with the death of her son, Preston, Jr., who was mysteriously shot in her home here December 31. Presentments were also made against Mrs. Lolita Clark and Mrs. Bonnie Baste who were participants in a "petting party" the night of the tragedy. Revenue Commissioner Doughton, reports state income and other special tax for February were $662,830.52, an increase over January of more than $400,000 and a small advance over the corresponding month last year. Income, $77,734.95; inheritance, $26,999.59; schedule "B" $39,737.47; schedule "C" $40,821.16; bus taxes, $13,759.30; insurance, $434,718.96. The first half of March is expected to show even a greater gain.

Returning from a meeting of the National Education Association in Washington, D. C., State Superintendent A. T. Allen lets it be known that he is in full accord with the suggestion to create a department of education in the federal government, the head of which shall be a member of the President's cabinet. Mr. Allen says that education is one of the biggest problems of the country and should by no means be considered a local problem. The agitation is only in the initial stage and it will probably be years before friends of the movement "pat" themselves on the back.

A tour of inspection of the fish hatcheries of the State has been in progress during the week, the investigation being conducted by Henry O'Mallery, commissioner of the Federal Bureau of Fisheries, and G. C. Leach, Chief of the Division of Fish Culture of the bureau in North Carolina. The two "investigators" were welcome visitors to the Governor's office while their work was in progress.

The Raleigh Chamber of Commerce is to "dine" Frank Page, chairman of the State Highway Commission, at the Sir Walter on the evening of March 18th, in appreciation of the service he has rendered in the capacity of road builder. Governor McLean is honorary chairman of the committee on arrangements and will preside at the dinner, the hosts of the directors of the organization, and the event to be state wide.

A "charter wave" is reported by Secretary of State Everett who has been compelled to ask for extra help to meet the demands. The Secretary reports the chartering of 148 new enterprises in January and 132 during the month following. Total investments for the two months 2,381,650. Realty concerns in the western section take the lead, with manufacturing plants a close second. Three new banks were chartered in February.

Total registration for motor vehicles for the State to March 1st, was 377,649, according to estimates by the license bureau. Guilford county leads with 20,410; Mecklenburg is second with 19,011 and Wake takes third rank with 14,950. Forsyth is fourth with 14,898. The bureau finds that cars are cheaper by 29 percent today than before the World War. Also that those who purchase cars usually pay for them.

IN MEMORY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Cottrell was made sad on February 25, 1926 when death entered and laid its cold hands on the form of the dear baby Brantley. He was an unusual bright child for one of his age being only two years and four months old. He was sick only seven days but during that time he suffered more than tongue can tell. Brantley was a baby of rare beauty and he was possessed of a most charming personality combined with a rarely beautiful disposition.

It is not strange that he was adored in his home. Brantley leaves to mourn a father, mother, five brothers and one sister.

The funeral services were held at his home near Louisburg by Rev. J. C. Williams and the body was laid to rest in Oaklawn cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. T. V. Moore, Nathan May, Paul Edwards and Clyde Perdue.
