"Dear Friend: I most earnestly desire your cooperation to make the church services this summer a great success. We cannot afford to forsake the worship of God, just because it is a little uncomfortable at times at church. We cannot afford I say, to forsake the assembling of ourselves together in the manner some are do-ing. We all need the church and the church needs us. Come and you will do us good. It is said, man is just what he is, in his leisure moments. Hence how carefully and prayerfully McKimmon, of Raleigh, were visitors we should spend our holy Sabbath; for without the Sabbath we should soon have no Bible. No church, no worship, no Christian home, no God. If the foundation be destroyed what can the righteous do? "Dear parents, lend me your good influence and cooperation in the services for the children and young people we hope to have this summer. "One of the best things you can do ple is to set the example of church attendance.

"If you are not a parent, you can still help wonderfully in this good work.

"Please take this message in the same good spirit in which I write it. I am here to look after the spiritual welfare of the Mthodist church. Pray for me and give me your support.

O. W. DOWD, Pastor."
