

MONEY CAN'T BUY--

FRIENDS, but nevertheless friends seems fewer when funds fall.

BRAINS, but it can provide the means of developing them greatly.

HAPPINESS, but it can set a mighty inviting stage scenery for that feeling.

A FOUNTAIN OF PERPETUAL YOUTH, but it can insure age against the woes of want.

ONE MOMENT OF TIME, but it can enable us to make the most of the time we already have.

PEACE OF MIND, but then, neither can poverty. It is safer to take one's chances for tranquility with the former than the latter.

LOVE, but it comes in mighty handy in supplying the needs of the object of our affections, be the aforesaid needs roses or beeksteak.

O, yes, there are a lot of things in this good old world that money can't buy but--!

A "Correct" Likeness of Washington

This heroic statue of the commander-in-chief of the first armies of the United States was made for the city of Portland, Oregon, though not yet delivered there by the artist. The western municipality has loaned it to the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, opening in Philadelphia June 1 and continuing until December 1, to celebrate 150 years of American independence. At the foot of the sculpture is shown Pompeo Coppini, the sculptor. Dr. Henry Waldo Poe, of Portland, declares the face to be the most correct likeness of Washington ever modeled.

COLLEGE WILL COLLECT AGRICULTURAL RELICS

Raleigh, June 7.—To aid in preserving the agricultural history of North Carolina, the School of Agriculture at State College has plans under way now to collect agricultural relics and curiosities in an agricultural museum. This museum will be operated for the benefit of farmers of the State and students taking the agricultural courses.

According to Dean Schaub, the various departments of the School now have quite a collection of interesting material. These range from the various geological specimens in the soils department in through the various farm implements and machinery of the agricultural engineering department. Some central location will be obtained in one of the college buildings to house and mount these specimens so that they might be observed and studied by all visitors to the institution.

One of the first contributions to this proposed museum is an ancient cotton planter used in Chowan County, according to authentic records, back in 1868. This planter has attracted much attention on the campus and was donated by M. W. Smith of Tyner. The machine is a one-horse affair, homemade throughout. The seed container is an old oak keg, bolted between the two side beams with holes for the seed to be dropped through as the keg is revolved. A small wooden plow is used for opening the furrow in front, while a smooth cast-iron roller covers the seed and firms the soil.

Dean Schaub states that other farmers who have some interesting agricultural curiosity or relic on the place which they may wish preserved for future generations are invited to take up the matter with the college authorities. The School of Agriculture is anxious to make the museum representative of the farming progress of the state.

The Neatest & BATHING

One of the newest novelties in smart beach costumes is this elaborate model, fashioned of silk pongee in red and white design. The tunic has a two-piece effect, with the skirt slightly gathered to give it a graceful flare from the waist. It is worn with jersey knickers, of solid color, underneath.
