TAR DROPS

Real summer time reached Louisburg the past week. Cotton sold for 17 cents a pound in Louisburg yesterday. The long dry spell has about ruined all the prospects for a crop this year.

Mr. James J. Lancaster reports the killing of a mad dog near his home on Tuesday morning.

Information was received in Louisburg the past week that the gold mine property in Gold Mine township had been sold for $200,000 consideration.

Battery B has leased the vacant room on Nash street formerly used by Becks Garage and is remodeling the interior preparatory to moving its armory therein by July 1st.

St. Paul's Episcopal church will observe Holy Communion at 11 a. m., evening prayer at 8 p. m., and Sunday school at 10 a. m., on next Sunday, according to announcement of Rev. J. D. Miller, rector.

A news item states that Robert Green, of Youngsville was a recent visitor at Kennel Gardens, St. Clairsville, Ohio, and was entertained by the great variety of thoroughbred puppies there lately produced.

The fire alarm Sunday was caused from an automobile catching fire on North Main street and the alarm Friday was due to an electric wire burning in Dr. Perry's office. In each case the fire was soon under control and the damage was negligible.

Wednesday, June 23rd. See Dr. Rappart at the office formerly occupied by Dr. Morton if you are in need of glasses or a change in glasses. It is unwise to "put off" today when you must wear them. Eyes do not get better without help.

BOYS AND GIRLS WILL ATTEND CAMPS

Raleigh, June 7.—Several hundred farm boys and girls who are members of the agricultural and home economics clubs organized by farm and home agents in North Carolina will enjoy camp life during the summer months. Many of the agents are now planning their annual outings for these young folks and are arranging programs of entertainment and instruction.

The agents will use the specialists of the extension service at State College for instructional work and will also call on local leaders for help in making the camping event a success.

Last year 53 such camps were held in the State. These were attended by 978 boys and 1600 girls. The total attendance including visitors and instructors, as well as young people, amounted to 4,760 persons.

According to Dean I. O. Schaub of the School of Agriculture, the agents select some suitable site, either on the coast, at some mountain retreat or near some attractive body of water. The camps usually last for one week and the children must bring the necessary toilet articles, bedding, and in most cases, the food used. Officials of the county and civic clubs of the towns have helped to defray the expenses. The young people are carefully chaperoned and regular hours for work and play are observed.

The county agents report that these club encampments have proven to be one of the most popular phases of club life. The young people come to know one another better, they are impressed with high ideals of club life and generally return to their homes filled with a desire to carry on their work to a successful conclusion. The agents take only the leading club members who are conducting their projects according to the rules laid down by the Agricultural Extension Service.

PUSH COTTON GROWTH WITH NITROGEN FERTILIZER Raleigh, June 14.—Side-dress the cotton with a good application of quick acting nitrogen fertilizer as soon as possible after chopping and win back some of the growth lost by the continued drought. Cotton, in most sections of North Carolina, has lost about three weeks growth. To regain this, the side application should be made before the first plowing after chopping and then the regular fertilizers added at planting will carry the crop through to maturity.

"In some sections there has not been enough moisture to germinate or even soften the seeds," says Prof. C. B. Williams, head of the department of agronomy at State College. "Cotton has lost about three weeks of growth and the logical thing to do, especially where only a medium application of nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia after chopping. This will start the young plants to growing rapidly. The application should be made alongside the rows, three or four inches from the plants and applied before the first cultivation after chopping the cotton."

Prof. Williams states that this is one year when side applications of quickly soluble ammonia should be very profitable and such applications are needed more this year than in most seasons. Unless the cotton is pushed into early growth by such applications, it is probable that acre yields will be cut severely, thinks Prof. Williams.

Owners of peach orchards in Richmond county will plant 200 acres to Iron and Brabham wilt resistant coveys this season for soil improvement and seed production.

The Judge's Joke

THIS STUFF GIRLS PUT ON THEIR LIPS SHOULD BE GUARANTEED UNDER THE PURE FOOD LAWS, TOO. MANY YOUNG MEN ARE GETTING INDIGESTION!

"I dreamed I was a bachelor last night. I wonder what that means?" "Most likely means you'll be met with a disappointment when you wake up."

TRY THIS ON THE JUDGE Judge:—"I can't understand a big husky man like you beating a poor frail little woman like your wife." "But she keeps nagging and taunting me until I lose my temper." "What does she say?" "She yells, HIT ME! I dare you! Go ahead! Just hit me once and I'll have you dragged up before that bald headed old fossil of a judge." "CASE DISMISSED."

A queer person has been seen motoring around the streets of Louisburg. Attention was attracted to him because he deliberately drives around pedestrians.

LIFE'S MIRROR

Reflections by Panne O let me live that I may give Some good to someone once. It may be a tiny child A doll that walks and talks; Or to a good old kindly man A pair of woolen socks; It may be just a friendly smile, Unconscious though it may be, But let me live to love the world, And give the best of me.

If there is anything in this evolution stuff our oily rivers will develop some mighty fine species of sardines.

A judge just sentenced a man to 20 years at hard labor. I'll bet that holds him for a while.

GREEN MAGIC

I see by the papers that scientists claim nature made the trees an' grass green 'cause the color is soothing on the nerves. I'll say it is! When a fellow gets mad slip him a little long green and see how it quiets him.

HE REMEMBERED TO FORGET

"I hear uncle is dead. Did he remember me in making out his will?" "I guess so, I didn't see your name in it."

MAYBE SHE IS

Slim Sassoole thinks a "figure of speech" is a married woman.

R. R. Kissell, of the Winner Theatre says that stage robbers in the West used horses and guns but nowadays they use lipsticks and limousines.

AGAIN THEY AGREE

"Darling, I've been wondering what would happen if you and I would agree on anything?" "I'd probably be wrong if we did!"

IN THE BOWERY

Instructor:—"You should not misquote Shakespeare. If he were here he would dislike it, I'm sure."

TOUGH GUY

"If Shakespeare says anything I'll bust him in the eye."

STRAYED

One little black mare mule, will squeal and attempt to kick when hitching, strayed from my pasture. Liberal reward will be paid for information leading to her recovery. JUNE 18, LANCASTER, Louisburg, N. C. 6-18-11

Subscribe to The Franklin Times

I THANK YOU. I wish to express my very great appreciation to the voters of Franklin County for the nice majority which I received in the primary on June 5th. And especially do I wish to thank the ladies for the interest which they took in my election. It is my earnest desire to render you better and more efficient service in the future than I have in the past and wish you all to know that I am always at the service of my friends. Gratefully yours, F. W. JUSTICE.

CARD OF THANKS

To the voters of Franklin county who so liberally supported me by your vote on June 5th, primary, I desire to thank you sincerely. For the sake of Democracy and economy, I have conceded my right to a second primary to my opponent Mr. W. H. Macon and will support him heartily in the general election in November.

A lesson in politics is easily learned when you compare the official vote of this county. Nine townships in this county, out of ten giving my opponent only 53 votes majority, four of them I never entered, five merely passed through. Supporting the people knew me and would vote without solicitation their choice. But even in politics at this late day I find one must ask to receive and seek to find. In this my opponent was uniquely situated being tax lister for Louisburg township in the court house an opportunity to see and meet the voters of the county in a charming way. It's all over, I am satisfied with a good man in the House, one known and tried and true in Senate. We should fear no evil and support the nominees loyally in the November election.

With a grateful heart and true appreciation for each voter of mine, I am yours ever to remain true. GEORGE H. COOPER.

TO MY FRIENDS

I wish to extend my deepest gratification to the many voters of Franklin county for the loyal support they accorded me in the recent primary. Although I was defeated for the office of Sheriff, I have the great satisfaction of knowing that I still have a large number of friends and supporters in the county of whose untiring efforts and good wishes I am deeply appreciative.

JAMES J. LANCASTER. Farmers of Wake county have bought 26 pure bred Jersey heifers in recent months, reports County Agent John C. Anderson.

LOST

A male setter dog, black and white with black head, wearing a collar with a brass lock on it. A liberal reward will be paid for his return to Lewis T. Jones, at Stem, or to R. F. Yarborough, M. D., Louisburg, N. C. 6-11-2t

FOR CONSTABLE

I take this method of thanking the many voters of Louisburg township for their liberal support in the recent primary that made it possible for me to enter the second primary to be held on July 3rd, at which time I shall again ask you to assist me to win the office as Constable for Louisburg township. Again assuring you of my deep appreciations for your past support I also thank you in advance for your support and influence in the coming primary. 6-18-3t A. S. WIGGS.
