DR. FRANK CRANE SAYS

Selective Affection is Best

The old dispute between true love and any other kind of love dates back as far as Wagner's operas, and further.

Lord Lytton said something somewhere to the effect that if a man truly loves a woman all other women are slightly distasteful to him.

There are two kinds of love in the world—selective affection and the other kind.

They can be distinguished as much as anything else, by their associates. Selective affection is the companion of all the virtues. It goes with honesty, honor, loyalty, and every commendable characteristic.

That affection that is felt for just anybody is a law breaker. It makes nothing but trouble.

Of course the greater includes the less, and selective affection may include all manner of desire.

But there is something characteristic of true love that is essentially different from any old sort of love.

It is true love, that inspires and actuates the greatest achievements, not miscellaneous attractions.

The human race has experimented a good many hundred years with various kinds of affinities, and it is selective affinity that has stood the test.

It is that which every young man or woman feels with the advent of the right mate. There is something about it that excludes all other affections.

It is not enough to ask yourself whether you are affectionate or not. It is also necessary to inquire of your self whether this affection is confined to one person. It is not any sort of love that is the basis of the right marriage, but it is loyal love, and the more loyal one is, the greater his love becomes.

There is the same difference between true love and other kinds of love that there is between a flower and weeds. One is a cultivated plant, and it is that for which the garden was made. The other is an interloper and does nothing but drain our resources.

One is an inspiration constantly, but the other does nothing but leave us bankrupt of desire.

DOES A WOMAN LIKE TO SEE JEALOUSY IN SWEETHEART

Every woman loves jealousy in the man she loves.

And fights against it. Pola Negri plays true to form in this respect in her newest Paramount stellar feature, "Good and Naughty," which comes to the Winner Theatre Thursday.

Crooked horse races some way or other remind us of the human race.

THE TUESDAY AFTERNOON BOOK CLUB

With most pleasant memories of our meeting with Mrs. Scoggin in our thoughts the Tuesday Afternoon Book Club was glad to meet again on September 28th, at 3:30 p. m. This time our hostess was Mrs. R. C. Beck, whose bright and genial manner makes it always a delight to be her guest.

The program for the hour was full of interest, and one to inspire a very pardonable pride in what some of our American women had accomplished in the world of art.

First was a sketch of Rosa Bonheur by Mrs. M. S. Clifton, which was charming. The wonderful portrayal of nature in Bonheur's art challenges the admiration of everyone, and its revelation of her real love of animals makes its own appeal.

A reading by Mrs. Mills of Sallie Farham's art was most thoroughly enjoyed. A paper on Women Sculptors of America by Mrs. Scoggin was full of information, and gave unqualified pleasure to all.

The musical feature of the program was delightful. We are familiar with Miss Rosalind's skill as a pianist, but this time her rendition of Ballade No. 2, Liszt, was especially beautiful.

Our enjoyment of Miss Gilbert's violin was a new delight, and for the two numbers, "From de Can-brake," Gardner, and "Pleadings," by Jefferson Walters, we give our appreciative thanks.

Mrs. Beck's delicious refreshments gave a touch of material enjoyment to the hour, which all most heartily approved, and we adjourned to meet with Mrs. S. P. Boddie October 12th.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

From Edward Best High School. Contributed by Pupils and Faculty

Truck Drivers Meet. Last Friday evening, October 1st, the newly organized truck drivers and their best girls held their first meeting at Edward Best High School. A very interesting program was rendered, consisting of music, stunts and talks by the truck drivers and some of the visitors. One thing of very much interest was a debate: Resolved, that a giraffe with a crick in the neck suffers more than a rhinoceros with the toothache. Mr. T. H. Sledge upheld the affirmative side while Mr. Woodward of Epsom upheld the negative. The negative won.

After the program ice cream was served.

Their next meeting will be held at Gold Sand High School on October 29th.

—BLANCHE HAYES. Agriculture

The agriculture class of the E. B. H. S. is still improving. Five or six new students have joined our class in the past two weeks.

The class has been studying the structure of corn, oats and rye, also studied the money gained by planting crops suitable to the soil and planting the right amount according to labor. We have found that twenty acres is enough for each head of team.

The class has been studying from bulletins, but now our text books have arrived and we will begin with them at once.

HAVE YOU EVER BEEN "GOOD AND NAUGHTY"?

Have you ever been good and naughty?

If you have you'll enjoy seeing Pola Negri's new Paramount starring picture which comes to the Winner Theatre on Thursday.

"Good and Naughty," adapted from Avery Hopwoods' "Naughty Cinderella" was one of the outstanding successes of the New York stage. Tom Moore plays the lead opposite Miss Negri and Ford Sterling is the featured comedienne.

The voice of the people is always louder just before an election.

New King of Clubs

WEST'S WORLD WONDER SHOWS

West's World Wonder Shows have been engaged by the Franklin County Fair Association to furnish midway attractions for the big Fair which opens Tuesday, October 19th for a run of five days and four nights.

This big carnival company travels on their own special train of thirty cars, carrying a big traveling amusement company's big tops, side shows, menagerie, riding devices and fun booths.

The Franklin County Fair Association after looking over the offerings of the different carnival companies, selected West's World Wonder Shows as being the most complete and high class carnival company showing at Southern fairs. There are twenty-five high class attractions offered for the outdoor-going amusement including such high class features as St. Moritz ice skaters' arena, featuring Russ Jones the world's champion trick and fancy exhibition skater, and a bevy of girls, is one of the many headliners of West's Shows. The Dixie Land Minstrels, the pick of the Southland's best negro talent, some thirty in number, with their own red hot jazz band is another feature at traction. Smith's circus sideshow, a wild animal collection, unsurpassed, directed by that peer of outdoor animal trainers, Capt. Hugo Schmidt, who every day, just for pastime and to entertain the early visitors on the fair grounds, plays volley ball with his lions, tigers and seals. Among the other attractions the educated horse show; Jolly, a tiny mite of happiness, Gotch's Athletic arena, a real circus and several fun houses. These leading features are mentioned just to give the public a faint idea of what awaits them on the carnival grounds.

The show's concert band, calliphones and calliphones, and other free attractions on the midway will open up every morning at 10:00 o'clock sharp with a lot of entertaining features to bring the crowds out to the Fair.

In addition to the big shows there will be seven riding devices, several of them never seen before on our grounds.

There are some 400 people on the West Show poster this season. Frank West, the sole owner and controller, has spared no expense in assembling the best outdoor talent to meet the public's approval.

In addition to the wonderful midway attractions, we wish to call special attention to the great free act program provided by the management for the entertainment of its patrons. The program contains a number of entirely new features now showing in the amusement world and among the seven free acts, Havenman's Wonderful Animal Act, the greatest of its kind in the world, will be the feature attractions of the great program.

All of the free acts seen at the Franklin County Fair were shown at the New York Hippodrome during the winter. The fact that they were shown in that great amusement palace is in itself an indication of the act being high class and of merit.

The management feels that they have provided a most wonderful program for the enjoyment of its patrons. So make arrangements to spend one long enjoyable happy week every minute full of pep and go, running from October 19th to 23rd, inclusive. Splendid parking facilities for automobiles, biggest agricultural and live stock show ever seen in a county fair.

AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Every member of the Baptist church is urged to be present next Sunday. Every woman and girl of the whole congregation will be needed in this service.

Nobody but men will be in the choir for this service and the choir will be full.

Everybody not affiliated with some church having services next Sunday is cordially invited.

JOHN ARCHIE McIVER.

FACULTY RECEPTION

Friday evening, from eight to eleven o'clock, in the college parlor, the faculty of Louisburg College entertained the student body and friends of the college. The artistic decorations added much to the pleasure of the evening. In the hall, where punch was served to the guests, a riot of wild grape vines clambered over a trellis, and some bunches had fallen and were frozen in a great block of ice. An orchestra furnished fitting and exquisite music throughout the entire evening. The faculty, consisting of many former teachers and of some very delightful additions, greeted in line a large number of guests from neighboring towns and the friends from Louisburg, as well as the student body of over three hundred girls. As guests of the latter, Wake Forest, Carolina, Duke University, State College were well represented.

As always, President Mohr and Mrs. Mohr, with the faculty, were delighted to have the privilege of this get-together evening and to meet the old friends and the many new ones, whom the increased enrollment of the college is rapidly swelling to large numbers.
