The vote in Tuesday's election is about the lightest we have ever seen.

His many friends in Franklin County are wishing for Senator Overman's early recovery.

What's the use of passing ordinances prohibiting persons from cutting up the paved streets? A similar ordinance has been passed several times before and the people cut them up at will.

The new County Home is almost completed, and will be a credit to Franklin County, a monument to the Board that built it, and a most needed comfort and pleasure to the inmates for whom Franklin County has to care.

It's a pity the Highway authorities of Granville County can't devise some means of completing the road from Hester to Wilton in order to open up State Highway route 56 and to relieve itself of around ten miles of road to maintain as well as to relieve Franklin County of around five miles to maintain. With the heavy traffic from Raleigh to Durham over the State Highway, this additional western outlet would become very popular and be much used. We hope our neighbors will put their heads together as well as their efforts and get this road in shape so the State will take it over at an early date. Just a few days works on the part of Granville County will save both the counties a large sum of money besides give the traveling public a very desirable western outlet.

The request of the ladies of Louisburg presented to the Board of Town Commissioners on last Friday night that the town provide removal of garbage and trash from receptacles properly placed in the residential part of town, is a reasonable request and should be met. The fact that the present contract with the street cleaner doesn't provide for such service and therefore no change can be made is not sufficient reason to reject the request. The contract does not provide that it cannot be added to for additional pay nor that another contract for this additional service cannot be made. It is service of this kind that contributes greatly to a healthful and beautiful town. We believe our Commissioners want our town to be both, and that they will give this request further consideration and favorable action.

In its efforts to organize and its first year of operation the North Carolina Cotton Growers Co-operative Marketing Association pointed to the California raisin growers organization as an example as to what could be done for the cotton farmer. Yet the raisin growers have raised the price from 8 cents a pound to above fifty cents and increased the demand many times. Just the opposite the Cotton Association has set by and let the demand decrease if any change and the price seek the bottom. The raisin growers neither had all raisin growers signed nor a full delivery of all made. If the Cotton Association had been as anxious to build a friendly spirit for the farmer among the mill men and the time merchant and to increase the demand by introducing cotton into new channels and increasing its use in the present channels, as they have been to preach loyalty to its members, the present crisis would no doubt, never have come. The farmers need a cooperative selling plan. Let's hope the cotton association will liberalize its contract so that its members can feel that they will have some say-so in the operation of his business and that it may get a set of officers who will look more closely after the growers interests.

Friday night October 29th was a spook night at Edward Best High School. A Halloween party was given, that everyone, both old and young enjoyed. The building was decorated with beautiful leaves from the forest and Halloween colors, and several pumpkins fixed as Jack-o-lanterns, which furnished the light.

 About seven-thirty o'clock after everyone had scrambled among the spoons and found their best friends, whom they could hardly recognize, the program started. First on the program was a ghost story by two spoons on the stage in the auditorium which was very scary, the stage being decorated as a grave-yard. Next the prettiest girl and the ugliest boy were voted on. Miss Jones from Cedar Rock's faculty and Mr. Armstrong from Edward Best faculty received these prizes. After that excitement the audience was entertained by several side shows, fortune tellers and "feeding the goose." Candy pop-corn, apples and peanuts were sold.
 About ten-thirty o'clock the spoons disappeared and the crowd began to scatter. Laughing, blowing of horns and every kind of spooky noise could be heard within a mile. All are looking forward to the next entertainment at E. B. H. S.

 The proceeds of this party went to the library.
 NANNIE SHEARS
 From time to time we see our class in agriculture is able to do some piece of work which helps our school and community. We were proud to be the ones to erect the flag pole over the front entrance and in such a way that the flag presented to us by the Junior Order of Louisburg can be easily raised and lowered.
 On Tuesday the class in agriculture made a trip to the farm of Mr. Moore for the purpose of studying the effect discing has on the soil. While there each boy obtained specimens of soy bean plants from the variety test plot operated by Mr. Moore. This is one of the many test plots in Franklin county which are under supervision of the county agent, Mr. Harris. The boys were able to make a good comparison of eight of the leading varieties of soy beans. The sample plants were taken back to the laboratory at school where they will be more carefully studied.
