

SUCCESSFUL MEETING CLOSED

WEDNESDAY NIGHT

A most successful and interesting revival meeting was closed at the Methodist church last Wednesday night. Dr. John W. Moore, of High Point, who did the preaching, has given our people many wonderful messages and the serious thoughts of our people. His sermons have given many a new conception of the gospel of Jesus Christ and will long bear results in our midst.

The music as furnished by the choir was of a high order and shared the great influence spread by the many services.

While here Dr. Moore made many close and staunch friends by his genial and pleasing manner and his forceful and straightforward way of presenting the gospel facts.

MINUTES OF LAST MEETING OF WORKERS' COUNCIL

The Workers' Council of the Methodist Sunday school held its monthly meeting Tuesday night, March 8th, with E. L. Best, Superintendent, presiding.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Dowd who had charge of the program for the evening. He gave an interesting talk on Evangelism which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The business part of the program was then in order. The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved. The Sunday School Library was discussed but no definite steps were taken to annihilate or enlarge same. A committee was appointed to see the Baptist and Episcopal Sunday School Superintendents in behalf of the Junior Choir to secure the cooperation of their Sunday school during the revival. The Assistant Superintendents were asked to have special programs for Easter Sunday.

The program for the next meeting will consist of two talks, one by Mrs. Holden on "How to Secure Good Order" and one by Mr. Best on "Providing a motive on the part of the children."

REV. R. C. JORDAN HOLDS SERVICE AT COUNTY HOME

Wednesday afternoon the ladies of the Auxiliary of Saint Paul's church went with Rev. Mr. J. R. Miller and Rev. Mr. Jordan to visit the county home, where they were most gladly welcomed.

Mrs. Hedgepeth showed the visitors over the building, pointing out the present conveniences and the anticipated improvements.

All, both colored and white, then gathered in the large reception room, around a bright open fire, for a religious service, with Mr. Jordan to speak to them.

The singing of "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus," was inspiring, all joining in the singing.

Mr. Miller then led in prayer.

Mr. Jordan, recalling the story of the Prodigal Son preached an impressive and strengthening sermon, with this story his theme.

At the close of the sermon My Faith Looks Up to Thee was sung, followed by the Lord's prayer and benediction. All expressed appreciation of the visit and joy in the service held with them.

The ladies carried fruit and plants and flowers. Mrs. Hedgepeth, a lover of flowers, is anxious to beautify the grounds and will be glad to have any plants or canna bulbs for her beds.

HUMAN NATURE

IS A FUNNY THING AINT IT?

Aint it funny how Franklin County folks will run to other towns, to buy goods, when Louisburg has the biggest and best business houses in our county? It's the truth. We got the biggest department stores for women's and men's clothing; biggest hardware and general merchandise stores; biggest drug stores; biggest wholesale and retail stores of every description.

Besides being the biggest they are all the best. Aint it funny how home folks fail to appreciate these biggest and best stores, and fall to support the businesses of their own county? Funny too, how folks in other counties come here to trade because Louisburg stores are known to them for their high values at low cost, and our home folks don't know this.

Well, human beings are funny critters, but it aint no sense in being funny at your own and your county's expense.

Stop being so funny and trade at home for mutual benefits.

LOUISBURG CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

DAIRY NEWS

(By Dr. W. R. Bass)

After studying the dairy industry of Eastern North Carolina I find there is not but one cow to each fifteen persons in fifty Eastern counties of this State or approximately one cow to every three families. Therefore it can be seen that to properly meet the requirements of milk for only family use it will require the milk produced from three times the present number of cows.

The question is often asked if we will not soon produce an over production of dairy products as we have done in cotton and tobacco. If you will consider that all people have to eat and that at nearly every meal served there is only a small percentage of the nation's population that is producing food it will take a long time if ever to produce an over production, as today dairy products are being shipped in this country from several foreign countries.

The present economic condition of our farmers in this county today makes it important that they consider the dairy cow as a source of cash income to help supplement the cotton crop, as when the dairy cow is made a part of a well regulated farming system in which feed crops are grown on the farm she will give a profitable return each month in the year on the feed consumed. There are a few farmers in this county today who are receiving each month for each cow, checks for cream ranging from $10 to $15 per month and in addition to the cream check there is left over the farm skim milk, which is a very valuable feed for chickens and pigs and the manure for soil enrichment.

More dairy cows are needed in Franklin county to help build and conserve the soil fertility. The dairy farmer is a consumer rather than seller of feeds, which is constantly building up his soil, on a basis of 20c a pound for nitrogen and 5c each per pound for potash and phosphoric acid, soy bean hay as a fertilizer value per ton of $13.31, cow pea hay $13.66, corn $7.20, wheat bran $14.80 and cotton seed meal $29.88. These raw materials when fed to a cow can be converted into cream which has a market value per ton $315.00, and a fertilizing value of only $3.00. It will be noted from the above that cream has a high market value. Its fertilizing value is very low as compared to that of the feeds from which it is produced.

This is a matter that should receive serious consideration from the farmers of this and other counties, who are finding that it is necessary to spend thousands of dollars annually for commercial fertilizers.

Iowa 1926 hog crop reached the stupendous figures of two hundred and sixty million dollars—an income of five million dollars a week.

Because of the spread between the price of corn and hogs during 1926, hog profits reached the highest peak ever known. Iowa farmers received an average price (at Chicago) of $11.95 per hundred weight for their hogs during 1926. This means that Iowa farmers who sold their corn in the form of pork on the hoof received (at Chicago) an average of $1.06 per bushel as against an average price of 76c per bushel.

Next week letters from farmers who are milking cows and selling cream will be given in this department.

It is expected that a car of cows will arrive in Louisburg about April 1st to 5th.

COLORED GRADED SCHOOL

RENDERS GOOD SERVICE

Dr. John W. Moore, Revs. J. A. McIver and O. W. Dowd made a visit to the colored graded school Thursday of last week. The impression that was made by these ministers will never be forgotten by the children. Dr. Moore gave the children fine food for thought. Rev. McIver and Rev. Dowd also made remarks which were uplifting and encouraging.

Supt. W. R. Mills made a visit to the school several weeks ago, and gave the children a plain practical talk, telling them how to conduct themselves and be good citizens. We all appreciate very deeply the fine work that our good superintendent has done in this community for over twenty years.

Since I have been connected with the school I have given the best service possible. We have gotten along fine so far this term. The children are taught along with their books the best and proper things.

My white friends need never have any fear as long as the colored schools in this community are in my charge. My one desire and aim is that my people will always be mannerable and nice in every way to the white citizens of the community. This can be done easily by and through the teachers.

We all feel deeply thankful for the kind interest that the white people of our community have always shown towards us. Let us all pull together for a better school, better children, and better community.

G. C. POLLARD.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

OF W. R. MILLS SCHOOL

The Parent-Teacher Association met Thursday afternoon, the 17th, in the auditorium of the William R. Mills School. There was a large number of women and children and a few men in attendance at this meeting to especially emphasize the development of the school grounds.

Mr. E. L. Best, presided over the meeting, calling upon Rev. Crawford for the invocation.

The regular form for the program followed, giving the teachers their part of the program first, that smaller children might leave before business discussion and remainder of program continued.

The play given by the ninth grade under the supervision of Miss Graham on this occasion was very entertaining an advertisement play, the characters representing many of the housekeepers needs, many of them quite laughable in their get-up. Everybody loves a bride and groom and were delighted with the bewitching appearance of Miss Mary Malone Best as bride and George Griffin the groom.

The play ended, Mr. Best called for minutes of the last meeting and reports of various committees. Miss Macdon read interesting minutes showing the Parent-Teacher Association to be a wide awake organization this year, having accomplished some matters of real importance.

Miss Graham, on the library committee reported 42 more books added to the library, contributed by Messrs. James W. E. Uzzell and John Uzzell, Mrs. W. E. Uzzell stated she would bring her contribution to 75 in number when she could open other boxes of books.

Mrs. E. S. Ford, chairman of school grounds committee then reported the work being done on the school grounds, the untiring energy, the unlimited aid in way of hired help, teams ploughs, manure etc., and more than $60 raised by the rummage sale and sale of candy on court house square Saturday the 10th.

The soil around the building on front and south sides she reported, fitly prepared and the oats sowed where grass is to grow, and plant beds ready for shrubs.

Mrs. H. H. Johnson and Mrs. F. J. Beasley made a contribution of evergreens, to be selected and ordered by the committee at correct time for planting.

Business concluded, Mrs. R. F. Yarborough addresses the Assembly on the subject of beautifying the school grounds.

She first pointed out that the increasing recognition of beauty in natural surroundings is one of the beautiful developments of our American life. She showed it a direct agent for the prevention of ignorance, disease and crime and for the promotion of health, usefulness, happiness and good morals—how the grounds of business, places, public squares, educational buildings, all were being beautified, because the business world, as well as educators, were beginning to appreciate the moral and aesthetic influence of beautiful and pleasant surroundings. The importance of such a movement in our school grounds was not to be denied. Then she took the audience with her into imaginative realms and showed them the most picturesque and beautiful school grounds, an ideal play ground, an inviting tennis court, the boys baseball diamond, all surrounded by beautiful trees, shrubbery and flowers, the aim and high ambition of those at work for the cause.

The next meeting will be April 17. Miss Bradley's room has held the highest attendance of parents at the last three meetings.

THE WOMANS AUXILIARY

OF SAINT PAUL'S CHURCH

The Womens Auxiliary of Saint Paul's church met with Mrs. S. P. Boddie Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The devotional service was opened with the creed, led by Mrs. M. S. Clifton, and followed by the Lord's Prayer and sentence prayers.

After the singing of hymn "Lead Kindly Light," Mrs. R. F. Yarborough read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. R. C. Beck then read a most instructive article "A United Thank Offering Catechism."

Mrs. James B. King read a sweet, imaginative poem, expressing the hurt feeling of the Little Blue Box, because of neglect of it.

Mrs. Yarborough concluded the literature feature of the program with an interesting account of the W. T. O. Missionary's work at Linville, N. C., pointing out the financial need to accomplish a larger work among the mountain folk and emphasized the good being done by the Little Episcopal church of that community.

The prayers of the Auxiliary, at this meeting stressed the United Thank Offering, the Lenten Services and the Bishop's Crusade.

The Spirit of Mission, the Home and Foreign Missionary Magazine, the women of the church should be prepared rather wonderfully to enter into the Executive Board of the Womens Auxiliary having as early as October 1924 rededicated themselves and pledged themselves in assembly in a message to the National Council that they would try to awaken the women of the church to such a conception of Christ, that all might become more effective instruments of His power in the accomplishment of His purpose for the world.

Reports from the several committees were heard with interest.

The committee on social service work reported a visit to the jail, to the county home and attendance upon needy cases in the county. Mr. Edward Perry, Welfare Superintendent, with them to direct their efforts. The committee on supplies reported twenty-four garments made and sent to the Mountain Mission.

After singing hymn, "He Leadeth Me," the service was closed with the benediction.

The Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. K. K. Allen Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Blue Boxes of U. T. Offering will be taken at this meeting.

These instructions for the development of the young men will be given under the observing eye of experienced Officers and Non-Commissioned Officers, under whose guidance the men are taught discipline, alertness, self reliance of mind and body, courtesy and citizenship.

Athletics, including group games, field and track sports and mass play will have an important place in the training program. If the past camps are a criterion the young man will return home at the end of the month with many new ideas and ideals, having made many new and pleasant acquaintances and friends.
