ENTERTAINS AT BARBECUE

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. (Sam R.) Wilder entertained about 125 guests at a delightful barbecue on the lawn of their country home at 1 o'clock in honor of the children, grand children and great grand children, friends and relatives of the family of the late W. T. Wilder.

A long table which was the feature of the day was covered with pretty cloths and decorated with bright colored flowers.

There was a great supply of barbe-cued pig, fried chicken, fried and boil. ed country ham, cakes of all kinds, salads, pickles, lemonade, in fact cything that the section affords, and that includes all but tropical fruits. At the conclusion of the picnic dinner several old-time hymns and me-lodies were sung and played. An old family servant of the early sixties was present to greet each member of the families and mention old Mas-

CONVICT IS KILLED FOR EXPOSING ESCAPE PLAN

Enraged because he thought his Griffin, 21, white convict from Guilford county, slew Earl Loftin, 20, white convict from Wake county at Caledonia Prison Farm yesterday.

The killing took place at 12:30 o'clock, in broad daylight shortly after the end of camp devotional services, Supt. Geo. Ross Pou, of State's prison was advised last night. The lethal weapon was a short-handled shovel, with which Griffin is alleged to have crept up behind Loftin and struck him down. His skull fractured, Loftin lived only 30 minutes.

W. C. Williams, of Rosemary, Coro. ner of Halifax county, examined the body and had it prepared for shipment to Loftin's father, H. G. Loftin, Goldsboro, Route 2. The dead boy's father was notified immediately after the tragedy, and told him the body would be shipped home and buried at State expense.

Griffin was placed under heavy guard and rushed to Raleigh, where e was confined on "Death Row" to await trial in Halifax county on a charge of murdor.

Caledonia Farm cofficials said they had no explanation of the affair to offer other than that related by a pal of Griffin, that it had been talked that Loftin had "squealed" about Griffin's plans to flee the camp.

Loftin was serving a sentence of from one to three years from Wake county for larceny and receiving. He was sentenced January 4, 1926.

Griffin was doing four to five years from Guilford county under centence imposed May 1, 1926. He gave the name of his parents as Burt and Alice Griffin, 707 East Russell street; High Point.-News and Observer.
