COLORED WELFARE ORGANIZATION TO MEET

Court House Sunday 8:30 o'clock Negro Spirituals To Feature Meet; Dr. E. E. Toney, Well Known Interracial Worker To Speak; White and Colored People Urged To Come

The Colored Welfare Organization will meet Sunday afternoon at 8:30 o'clock in the county courthouse. Among the features of the meeting will be a community "sing" staged by various choirs of the county, assisted by local quartettes featuring negro spirituals.

Dr. E. E. Toney, Oxford, well known interracial worker, will deliver the principal address. White and colored people and the general public are cordially invited and urged to be present.

UNCLE EPHRAIM DENT DEAD

Uncle Ephraim Dent, one of Louisburg's oldest and most highly respected colored citizens died at his home in South Louisburg on Saturday night about 12 o'clock at the age of 76. He leaves a widow, seven children and a host of friends among both white and colored people.

Uncle Ephraim was polite, industrious and trustworthy. He gave much of his time to teaching his race. He always gave them good counsel. For a number of years he was principal of the Colored Graded School later taking charge of one of the county schools. He was a christian gentleman and enjoyed the confidence of the leaders in his race. He served his church, Presbyterian, in an official capacity for a long time and until his death was an elder.

The funeral was held from the Presbyterian church on Tuesday morning and was conducted by Rev. H. T. McFadden, his pastor and Dr. J. A. Savag of Franklinton. The church was full of sorrowing friends. A number of white friends attended the service and some paid the deceased pretty tributes.

To say that Uncle Ephraim so conducted himself in his daily life that he won the confidence and respect of those he came in contact with, and especially his white friends, is about the highest compliment to be paid him. Others would do well to emulate his example.

LITTLE ESTELLE HENDRICKS DEAD

On Thursday morning, July 14, 1927, God and His death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Hendricks of Youngsville and carried their little nine year old daughter, Estelle, to the mansion He had prepared for her.

Although Estelle had been confined to her bed since the first of April, she was always cheerful and bore her suffering patiently. She always had a kind word for everybody and was ever ready to do a kind deed for all. She was a favorite among her friends and school mates and was loved by all who knew her.

Of course the family will continue to miss her but God missed her too and wanted His precious jewel to fill her vacant chair in heaven. She has now gone to heaven and is waiting to greet her loved ones when God calls them.

Estelle leaves to mourn their loss mother, father, six brothers, one sister and a host of other relatives and friends.

The funeral was preached in Oak Grove Baptist church by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Mitchiner and the body was laid to rest by the side of her little brother, in the Oak Grove Cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Harold Hudson, James Hoyle, Morris Hoyle and John Wright.

The many beautiful flowers were carried by her cousins.

THE COLORED SCHOOLS TO OPEN

Graded School on Tuesday, September 6 and the Episcopal Mission School Will Open Monday, September 19th

We are anxious for the parents in this community to enter their children in school the first day. We want this to be the best term in every way in both our schools. Please try to arrange so your children can come to school promptly on time each morning, as a race is to be on time. Let us teach this lesson to our boys and girls and while they are young. As parents we are responsible for our children's future. Let us start them right. Give your boys and girls a chance, the best chance you can. Please supply your children with the necessary books. Your children can't learn without books. If your boys and girls make progress in life it will be because they are equipped for the battles that may come up before them.

My people can always depend on me to teach and train the boys and girls under my care in the right way. Book knowledge is all right but this is just the first lesson in education. Without politeness and honesty education is a failure. We also need to teach our children to be industrious. I have two daughters of my own in the Berry O'Kelly Training School, Method, N. C. This school is my choice because they learn the boys and girls not to be ashamed of work. We always encourage in both of our schools not to be ashamed of any kind of honest work. We will have school for the present on Tuesdays and Saturdays. We have a large number of girls who do their washing for our white friends on Mondays. I am always glad to encourage my people to work and render service to our white friends in any way they can, for they really are our friends. If we will just conduct ourselves as a race in the right way our good white people will always come to our rescue. The good South land is the best home for the negro, because the white people understand us and we understand them.

I have taught school in this community for twenty-seven years. I would not and dare not ask for better treatment, than that which I have received from our good white citizens. It's just as necessary to teach these things as it is to teach books. We are deeply thankful to God for the fine spirit that exists here between the races. I am going to always do my part to keep it so.

Our last school term was fine. We had no trouble of any kind. Let us all pull together for better and larger schools. We feel thankful for the interest and support that the schools have been receiving. In Supt. W. R. Mills we have a fine leader. We are always ready and willing to follow his advice. We will take special interest in each boy and girl and try to find out their weak points and help them in every way we can.

play in the enforcement of game laws. He admonishes game wardens to proceed on the idea of law observance rather than emphasizing enforcement as a primary consideration. According to the policies set out by the director recently gun play and flourishing of firearms are to have no place in the enforcement of the new State-wide game law and the cooperation of the public is invited in the effort to do the job in decency and in order. Fred Sutton, of Kinston, author of the game law and chairman of the committee on game of the State conservation Board outlined the provisions of the law and urged respect for its provisions. Around 50,000 buttons signifying the three types of hunters have been ordered, non residents, 2,000; county residents, 28,000; State residents, 20,000. A State game preserve covering 20,000 acres or more in the section of Pisgah National Forest adjacent to Mount Mitchell State park may be set aside in a short while and this will enlarge the activities of the law enforcement unit of the Conservation Department.
